POSSE SEARCHING IN BRAZOS BOTTOM FOR BANK BANDITS

LOCK CASHIER IN VAULT AND ESCAPE WITH $2,000—HIGH- WAYMEN ARE RACKING COUNTRY.

Fort Worth, Tex., Dec. 8.—Sections west of Brazos, Palo Pinto County, are being searched by citizens and officers who are trying to capture three bandits who Tuesday noon robbed the Brazos State Bank of $2,000, according to information reaching here today.

After the robbery the three highwaymen jumped into two Ford cars in which they had ridden to the bank. Warned by telephone message from Brazos, that the bandits were on the road leading to Santo, a party of citizens attempted to head off the cars as they approached that place.

One car, apparently when the driver saw the citizens, turned south from the main road eluding the posse. There were two men in the car. The other car, carrying the third bandit, turned into the business district of Santo.

The robber was soon cornered by the pursuers. However, he leaped from the machine and started across a field on foot with citizens at his heels.

Reports from Santo were that the party there expected to prevent the final escape of the man.

The car which was abandoned at Santo was stolen from Fort Worth. It was owned by Daniel J. Nash, train dispatcher. Its engine number was telegraphed back to Fort Worth. It corresponded to the number which Nash had furnished local police headquarters. An overcoat with a name sewed in it was left in the car by the bandit. It is not positively known that the name in the overcoat is the robber's name.

The three bandits, unmasked, drove up to the Brazos bank at noon. All of the employees had gone to lunch except the assistant cashier, William L. Simmons. One of the robbers stood on watch just outside the bank door. The other two entered with pistols drawn on Simmons. They ordered him to hold up his hands. When he complied with the demand they backed him into the vault, closed the door and locked it.

The three men then left the bank and jumped into their cars. Towns west of Brazos on the road which was taken by the cars were quickly notified. They were asked to try to stop the bandits.

The sheriff of Palo Pinto County with five deputies left Mineral Wells at 1 p. m. Tuesday to join in the search.

Robbery of the Brazos bank and the First State Bank of Polytechnic, near Fort Worth, three weeks ago, were similar. Both banks were approached by the bandits in automobiles, after all except one employ had gone to lunch. In each robbery the lone employee was locked into the bank vault.

COUNTY ATTORNEY FINDS FLAWS IN FEE SYSTEM BILL

RETIRING ATTORNEY BASKIN CITES CENSUS DATE IN STAT- UTE AND ATTORNEY GEN- ERAL GIVES RULING.

The recently enacted law governing the minimum fees for county officials is attacked in an opinion given the Attorney General of Texas by retiring county and district attorney, Roy Baskin, who has pointed out that the statute when enacted prescribed that the fee system based on population in the counties shall be enforced on the basis of the 1910 census.

The minimum fees for counties of 25,000 and less than 37,000 population as fixed by law should not govern in Milam county, in the opinion of Mr. Baskin, as the county has attained a greater population and is entitled to a greater minimum on fees for the county officials.

The attorney general has ruled that the statute prescribes the fees on the 1910 census basis and therefore must govern. This, however, is unfair to counties like Milam where a greater population is attained.

In enacting the law the legislature is at fault for prescribing the 1910 census for unless the law is changed to conform to current figures all fees will be based on 1910 figures no matter what the population may be in the counties. In the opinion of Mr. Baskin the statute should prescribe the "last federal census."

In justice to the county officials in counties where the population has increased to over 37,000 as in the case of Milam county the law should be changed.

Following is a press dispatch from Austin covering the opinion of the Attorney General:

Austin, Dec. 8.—In the opinion of the county attorney of Milam County, it is held by the Attorney General's Department that the minimum fees for county officials in counties of less than 37,000, according to the census of 1910, are to be computed under the law prescribing fees for such officials in counties of 25,000 and less than 37,000. The fact that Milam County and other counties that may be similarly situated may have attained a population of 37,000 and over, according to the Federal census of 1920, cannot be taken into consideration, according to this opinion which was written by Assistant Attorney General W. W. Caves. The last word in the law specifically states that such fees shall be based on the census of 1910 and not by the "last Federal census."

METHODIST CHOR HERE ORGANIZES

MRS. W. A. BONDS CHOSEN AS PRESIDENT—TO DEVELOP CHURCH ORCHESTRA.

The choir of the Methodist church met immediately after prayer meeting Wednesday night and completed an organization as follows: Mrs. W. A. Bonds president, Miss Louise Adams secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Ira F. Key pianist and Paul Metzker director. After the completion of an organization Mr. Metzker took charge and announced his plans and spent some time practicing for Christmas music. The choir will continue to meet at 7:30 p. m. immediately after prayer meeting. Next Wednesday the director will have some special music to work on.

Already the orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Metzker, has added quite a bit of interest to the services and the reemphasis to be placed upon the rest of the music by the organization just completed is calculated to stimulate further interest.

At the eleven o'clock service Sunday the stewards will be installed for the coming year, they are:

MUST REDUCE COTTON ACREAGE HALF DECISION OF CONFERENCE

15 YEAR OLD BOY KILLED WHEN HORSE FALLS NEAR RIVER

RUFUS HUNT OF BELMENA IS CRUSHED IN FATAL ACCI- DENT SUNDAY AFTER- NOON.

Rufus Hunt, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Hunt of Belmena, died at six o'clock Monday morning from injuries sustained on Sunday, November 5th, when the horse he was riding fell, crushing his head and body.

At the time of the accident the boy was engaged in driving cattle across Belmena creek, a small stream in that neighborhood. The approach to the river bed from the Hunt home where the fatal accident occurred is a treacherous path and it was while the rider was descending this sharp incline that the horse stumbled and fell rolling over and pinning the boy to the ground, crushing his skull and chest.

He never regained consciousness after being removed to the home where immediate medical aid was summoned.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Hunt and sister, Lella Hunt.

Rufus Hunt was an attractive and industrious boy and was loved and esteemed by all who knew him.

The body was buried in the Walker's Creek cemetery Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the funeral services being held at 3:30 o'clock p. m. in the Walker's Creek Baptist church.

The Herald extends its sympathy to the bereaved family.

SAYS HIS BROTHER LIVED HERE 24 YEARS AGO; NOW TRYING TO LOCATE HIM

The Herald is in receipt of a communication from J. H. Remy of Stecker, Oklahoma, dated December 6, 1920, in which he asks permission to inquire through this paper concerning the whereabouts of his brother, Lafayette Ramey, who he claims resides in Cameron from 1896 to 1898.

Mr. Remy signs his name different from that given as the name of his brother, but it is perhaps possible that some of the older residents of Cameron will remember the name he gives as that of his brother, and can assist him in locating the missing man.

Lost men sometimes are found to possess great riches of which they were unacquainted so in this case it may be that the missing man is wanted not only because of his relatives desire to see him but because of rights to property.

Following is the letter:

Stecker, Okla., Dec. 6, 1920.

Cameron Herald, Cameron, Texas.
Gentlemen: Will you please allow me space in your most worthy paper to make inquiry of the whereabouts of Lafayette Ramey, who lived in or near Cameron in 1896 to 1898, he is my brother.

Anyone knowing of him will confer a favor on me to notify me of his address.

Respectfully,
J. H. REMY.

C. B. KENNON EXHIBITS O. I. C. HOGS AT FAIR

C. B. Kennon took first prize on his exhibit of the famous O. I. C. hogs at the recent stock fair in Cameron. The Herald is glad to correct an error in the premium lists wherein it was stated that Mr. Kennon's exhibit was that of Chester White hogs. Mr. Kennon does not own Chester White hogs but the famous O. I. C. hogs brought here from Ohio.

Mr. Kennon states that he believes the hog to be the best for this country. Only this week he killed two hogs of this breed weighing 400 pounds each, being only one year old.

THE CHRISTMAS STOCKING FUND GETS SHOW FUND

AUDITORIUM THEATRE TO GIVE TEN PER CENT OF PROCEEDS FROM FRIDAY SHOWS.

Last week we published the communication of Mr. Powers and today we announce that Friday, December 10th has been set aside as Christmas benefit day at the Auditorium Theatre. Mr. Powers will have a good and appropriate program and will give ten per cent of all earnings of the theatre tomorrow.

Theatre goes tomorrow should remember that for every twenty-five cents spent the stocking fund will get one-tenth. Bear this in mind when you think of going out to the theatres Friday and if you can conscientiously help the fund do so.

The Herald now asks that all who wish to contribute for the benefit of the stocking fund will do so at once in order that the funds may be placed in the hands of the several committees that have volunteered to serve.

THE TRACY OIL FIELD

(From Texas Oil Gazette.)

Already endowed with all the bounteous gifts of fertile soil, temperate climate and running streams and with many minerals bedded beneath its surface, Milam county is just now coming into its own as an oil field.

A number of years ago the first wells were drilled in Milam county. Without exception these wells found the oil. Oil at that time was demanding but a small price and litigation later arose that made development of these wells impossible. Since that time oil has advanced in price and great development has already started in the Tracy-Rockdale field.

The shallow oil sand is found from 300 to 450 feet; oil is flowing over the top of casing in many instances; fifty-one wells have been drilled by different companies. All wells were standing full of oil and not being pumped on account of practically all leases are in litigation, which has since been settled.

The Tracy-Rockdale oil field is approximately seventeen miles from the well known Thrall field that came in as one of the biggest producing shallow pools yet found in Texas. The Murphy No. 1, the Thrall field, came in at 950 to 1,000 feet, making approximately 10,000 barrels per day, and several other wells in the same vicinity made in the neighborhood of 4,000 to 5,000 barrels per day, according to the statements made by Mr. Vance, the founder of the Thrall field.

The above wells were drilled in the Thrall field five years ago and will go down in history as being the "Big Producer" for shallow field, high grade oil. These wells are pumping and it is claimed by men in charge of leases that the wells are increasing in production and has been for the last three years, there being a loading rack, also a refinery running at Thrall getting the supply of oil from this field. The Thrall field is just over the Milam county line, and the Rockdale-Tracy field is about seven miles from Rockdale.

There are a large number of operating companies in the Tracy shallow field. Among these are the Dixie-Winner Drilling Company, of Temple, Texas, headed by E. K. Williams, publisher of the Temple Telegram, the Golden Eagle Oil Company of Fort Worth of which Dr. Cook of North pole fame, is president, the Moon Valley Oil Company of Dallas, which has a program that calls for forty shallow wells and the Oklahoma-Texas Petroleum Products Company. Each of these companies is either putting down a number of wells or preparing to do so, and some are producing quantities of high grade oil.

In addition there are a large number of independent operators, holding small leases and drilling shallow well after shallow well, thus giving the field steady and consistent development.

Dr. Wallis is operating the new refinery at Tracy. This refinery gets all its oil direct from the producing wells in the Tracy field. Ninety-five per cent of the wells drilled in this field are producers. Some of them flow over the casing. It is claimed by expert oil men that this oil comes from an immense pool, that will soon be developed into the big gusher class in Milam county.

Eminent geologists, such as Gould, Darton, Mattison, Hager, Elliott, Dewey, White and McGee and many others, prophesy unlimited possibilities for the Milam county field. This field has been neglected the same as the West Columbia field, which has since proven itself worthy of development by the blowing in of the big Abrams, making 30,000 barrels of oil daily.

The Rockdale Chamber of Commerce is doing great work boosting the shallow field and is attracting oil men and lease buyers from all parts of the country. E. A. Camp, is president of the chamber of commerce.

J. M. Schlitz, vice-president of the company reports that the Builders' Oil & Gas Company of Cameron, Texas, is now drilling at about 550 feet on their well at Sharpe in Milam county. This well is about 12 miles from the Thrall field northeast and about four miles northwest from the Tracy field.

Casing has been set and the well is now drilling in a green rock which the geologists say is the same as the cap rock found above the oil sand in the Thrall field.

The Oklahoma Texas Petroleum Products company has employed E. M. Putnam, one of the old pioneer drillers to complete the fishing job on Hog Back No. 1 and drill the well in.

The Oklahoma and Texas Petroleum Products company owns more

DIFFERENCES SHOULD RELATE TO POLICIES.

On the morning of November 3 the editor of the Waco Times-Herald had the laugh on many of his close friends and admirers. The chief of the tallow-dippers like a sprig of mint, a little sugar and everything, at intervals. The Waco editor, Editor McCarty of the Albany News, and Editor George H. Boynton are in the ramparts today telling it to Democrats: "I told you so."—Fort Worth Record.

And Democrats from the North, South, East and West are on the ramparts shouting with all their might, "Back to the fundamentals, back to the principles of the fathers of democracy, back to the old paths of economy and local self-government along which our Nation traveled during its marvelous growth in power and influence among the nations of the earth." Yes, they are on the ramparts, and have been on the ramparts during the years that have passed, warning and exhorting their fellow-democrats to be faithful and true to the principles that have commanded the attention and respect of all who love liberty and justice, and upon which alone they could hope to attain success in their appeal to the conscience and judgment of their fellowmen.—Comanche Chief.

Optimism seems to be the keynote of the editorial policy of the Waco Times-Herald. We find that paper predicting that the Democratic party will soon return to the principles of a free popular government, enunciated by Grover Cleveland in 1892, and that success will follow. We join in the Times-Herald's hope, but hesitate to predict anything at present. We've strayed so far away from some of the old theories of government that we may get lost on the way back.—Beaumont Enterprise.

We have the assurance of Editor Fitzgerald of the Fort Worth Record that "principles never die." If Democrats have wandered from the old, it ought to be an easy matter for them to find their way back. They will be fortunate, however, to find everything just as they left it, with no rival claimants; bless you, this man Harding seems to have his appetite set for streaks of Democracy. But maybe that's only temporary; anyhow, for all of us, both Democrats and Republicans, the old paths are best and safest; let's see how the men who made up the two parties talked in the old days. Said the Democrats in 1856:

The Federal Government is one of limited power, derived solely from the Constitution, and the grants of power made therein—in the Constitution—ought to be strictly construed by all the departments and agents of the Government, and it is inexpedient and dangerous to exercise doubtful constitutional powers. Congress has no power under the Constitution to interfere with or control the domestic institutions of the several States; such states are the sole and proper judges of everything appertaining to their own affairs not prohibited by the Constitution.

In that same year, 1856, the Republican party began its career, and here is an utterance of its platform: The Federal Constitution, the rights of the States, and the Union of the States must be preserved.

At the time the ultra Abolitionists were demanding the breaking up of the Union; these ultras were not at that time members of the Republican party. The Republican party was descended from the Free Soil party, but later took over the dissatisfied Whigs and the Know-Nothings and the Abolitionists and the dissatisfied Democrats. But let us hear the Republicans of 1856 yet further, to-wit:

The dearest constitutional rights of the people of Kansas—Kansas being a Territory—have been fraudulently and violently taken from them; their territory has been invaded by an armed force; tyrannical and unconstitutional laws have been enacted and enforced; . . . Kansas should be immediately admitted as a State of the Union, with her rights and her citizens secured to her citizens the enjoyment of the rights and privileges to which they are entitled, and of ending the civil strife now raging in her territory.

It is there clearly and unmistakably made manifest that the Republicans, at the beginning of their career, recognized that the State has rights which can not properly be invaded by the Federal authority; it was to save Kansas from what they regarded as despotic power that they demanded that the Territory be erected into a State, a sovereign State in the American Union. The convention that nominated Douglas and Johnson, Democrats, reaffirmed the declarations of the convention of 1856, "believing that Democratic principles are unchangeable in their nature when applied to the same subject matters." However, inasmuch as differences of opinion existed as to the institution of slavery within the Territories, it was resolved "that the Democratic party will abide by the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States on the question of constitutional law." In that same year—1860—the Republicans inserted this plank in their platform:

4. That the maintenance inviolate of the rights of the States, and especially the right of each State to order and control its own domestic institutions according to its own judgment exclusively, is essential to that balance of power on which the perfection and endurance of our political fabric depends; and we denounce the lawless invasion by armed force of the soil of any State or Territory, no matter under what pretext, as the gravest of crimes.

There was no difference of opinion back there as to the rights of the States, save with the ultra Abolitionists; the platform utterances of the two parties—the Democratic and the Republican—recognized the fact that authority as to domestic questions rested in the State. In a message to the Legislature of Texas, January 16, 1860, Governor Sam Houston, intensely loyal to the Union, said this:

I cannot refrain from congratulating the Legislature upon the triumph of conservatism, as seen in the many evidences of the determination of the masses of the people of the North to abide by the Constitution of the Union, and to put down the fanatical efforts of misguided Abolitionists, who would endanger the safety of the Union to advance their vapid schemes.

But those "misguided abolitionists" gradually took the center of the stage; they declared for a dismemberment of the Union rather than consent to a "republic half slave and half free." Slavery ought never to have existed here in free America, but it did exist in all but one of the States when the Union was formed; it had recognition in the Constitution, and it should have been abolished by orderly process. One writer tells us that the Abolitionists were "aroused almost to rebellious fanaticism." William Lloyd Garrison became one of their chief spokesmen, and it was he who said: "The Union is a lie. The American Union is an agreement with death and an agreement with hell. We are for its overthrow! Up with the flag of disunion, that we may have a free and glorious republic of our own." And that brought on Secession.

In the earlier days of the Republic it was generally held that "the right of each State to order and control its own domestic institutions, according to its own judgment exclusively, is essential to that balance of power on which the perfection and endurance of our political fabric depends." And that ought to be the belief of all of us, Democrats and Republicans alike, in this our day; our differences should relate to public policies and not to any change whatsoever in the character of the Government.—Waco Times-Herald.

BUCKHOLTS NEWS

By Audrey Criswell

Mrs. Alex Henderson was hostess last week to the Embroidery Club. As usual the members brought along their fancy work and thus employed themselves. At the conclusion of the evening, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ross Dabney, served her guests to fruit salad, whipped cream and cake.

Rev. Williamson, a student at Baylor University, filled the Baptist pulpit at this place Sunday morning and night. A good crowd was in attendance at each sermon.

F. H. Kovar, a farmer living one mile south of town, had the misfortune last week of losing all his freshly killed meat. It is not positively known how the fire originated, but Mr. Kovar is of the opinion the blaze started from a small fire he had in his smoke house for the purpose of smoking the meat. All his meat and sausage was destroyed.

Mrs. J. H. Oliver was shopping in Temple during the later part of the week.

DENTIST USES IT FOR NEURALGIA

IN 29 YEARS PRACTICE NEVER HAS FOUND EQUAL OF NASH'S SALVE.

Convincing proof of yet another use of Nash's Croup and Pneumonia Salve is offered by a dentist with twenty years practice to his credit. Naturally, one of his experience has seen enough cases of facial neuralgia to make him an authority upon the subject. He writes to Nash Brothers, the manufacturing druggists, as follows:

"I have been a dentist in your town for twenty years and must say there is nothing that I have ever run across for facial neuralgia to half way equal Nash's Croup and Pneumonia Salve. In one very stubborn case seemingly

"Have also used your salve on impacted wisdom teeth using electric bulb as for neuralgia.

"I keep Nash's Croup and Pneumonia Salve in my home, I keep a bottle of it on my dental bracket and I recommend it to my friends. Could say so much for it that you would think me exaggerating, so will close.

"Yours very truly,

"J. F. HARRISON, D. D. S."

Where do You Make Implement Repairs?

When and where do you make repairs to your farm implements on stormy days, in the shelter of the implement shed, or out in the field, when farm work is rushing?

A piece of farm machinery is dependable only as long as it is properly cared for and in good condition when it begins the season's service. And it can be in good condition only if it is protected from the weather when not in use. If your implements are kept under storm-proof cover they only escape weather wear, but they are where you can give them a "going over" when the weather will not permit outside work.

Free Plans for Your Use

For your benefit, and without cost to you, our Service Department has many working plans for implement sheds, as well as barns, cribs, stock sheds, homes, on any kind of construction you want.

Tell us what implements you have to house and we will tell you just how much floor space you require and the most convenient arrangement of doors, etc.

Your Implements Will Damage More

If you wait for material to go down the loss in damage to your implements will be greater than your saving on lumber, as we believe lumber is now on its low level for some time to come.

CAN YOU AFFORD TO WAIT?

W. J. WALKER IS PRAISED BY PASTOR IN ALABAMA HOME

HERE DOING BIG WORK IN CAMDEN, ALABAMA.

Friends and acquaintances in Cameron of W. J. Walker, former principal of the public schools here, will be interested in the following letter received here from W. K. E. James of Camden, Alabama by C. C. Kirtley, praising Mr. Walker for his splendid work as a teacher and church worker.

Mr. Walker resided here for 12 years as principal of the public schools. He taught the bible class in the Baptist Sunday School here, being succeeded by C. C. Kirtley.

Following is the letter:
"Camden, Ala., Nov. 23, 1920.

"Mr. C. C. Kirtley, Cameron, Texas.

"Dear sir and brother:
"I have heard Brother J. W. Walker speak of you succeeding him as teacher of the Men's Bible Class he had while in Texas. I want to say just a word by way of appreciation of the man you lost and we have gained. Just before Brother Walker came here we lost our Sunday school superintendent. Against his wishes he was elected to that place in our Sunday school when the annual election time came.

"But before this he had been teaching the men's class. He is now serving in the double capacity of superintending the school and teaching the men's class. He is filling both places well and our Sunday school is growing steadily. As pastor I greatly appreciate his efficient and faithful work.

"The citizens of the town and county are well pleased with the way he has gone about the work as principal of the High School here. The state authorities also are taking appreciative notice of the good work he is doing in and for the school.

"Thinking his modesty would prevent him from saying much about the work he is doing here I thought I would say a few things about it myself. We expect more and better service from him the longer he stays. Mrs. Walker is not a step behind her husband in helpfulness in the town and church.

"Cordially yours,
"W. K. E. JAMES."

GIRL'S CLUB.

Last Thursday afternoon the Girl's Club met in regular session in room four. A very enjoyable program was rendered and all went away feeling as if they had gained very much. The Club had 20 minutes more than usual because the different classes had meetings and there lacked 20 minutes of dismissal so Mr. Williams let the girls go to their club rooms and the boys also. Mr. Williams also announced that every Thursday afternoon that the different clubs could have 20 minutes time off and that the pupils that did not belong to the clubs were to stay in the study hall until time for dismissal.

CARRIE YOE CLUB.

The girls of the eighth and ninth grades or in other words the Carrie Yoe Club, met in room sixteen last Thursday afternoon and a very enjoyable hour was spent. They had 20 minutes off from recitations for the same reason that the Girl's Club did.

DISCIPLES OF SOCRATES.

The Disciples of Socrates, or the Boys' Club, met in room fifteen last Thursday afternoon. A very good program was rendered and was enjoyed by everyone present.

The program follows:

Influence of Pericles upon History, Willard Keith.

Life and Work of Edmund Burke, W. D. Blackstone.

Debate: Resolved, that the State laws on boxing should be repealed. Affirmative, Lee Howell and Robert Mayfield. Negative, Robert Steinman and Leonard Mewhinney.

Benefits derived from the study of foreign languages, Hubert Mewhinney.

This club will meet every Thursday afternoon at 3:20, 20 minutes earlier than usual.

Miss Mottie Cass, domestic science teacher in Cameron High School, spent Monday and Tuesday of last week in Dallas buying equipment for the domestic science laboratory in the Yoe High School. Miss Cass reports that many articles necessary to the laboratory were purchased and that she hoped that Cameron High School would have one of the best, if not the best, equipped domestic science laboratories in the South.

SELF GOVERNMENT BODY ORGANIZED.

Last Thursday afternoon after recess the different classes of the High school met in their respective rooms to elect a number of members from their classes to represent them in the Self Government body. This body of students were organized to govern the behavior of the student. Mr. Kidd told the classes to decide whether or not they should be seated by classes in the study hall and also read a pledge of their ability. All of the classes decided to be seated by classes in the study hall and each class elected their representatives to the tribunal.

The names that each class elected are:

For the Seniors: Porter Stevens, Joyce Cox, Frances Hefley and Joe Smith.

For the Juniors: Robert Mayfield, Billie Avriett, Mary Bailey and Willie Barber.

For the Sophomores: Harleigh McGregor, Pauline Green, Sallie Coleman and Ophelis Ledbetter.

FOOTBALL TEAM ORGANIZED.

The Sophomore class has organized a class football team with Hayden Willis as captain. This team expects to play all the teams of the various classes and furthermore expects to beat them. The first game that is scheduled is with the Freshmen team with Ed Thompson as captain.

The lineup for the Sophomore team for the first game:

Name	Position
McGregor	Quarterback
Willis (Capt.)	Right Halfback
Baggett	Left Halfback
Watson	Right End
McCall	Right Tackle
Lyons	Left Tackle
Johnson	Center
Yoe	Right Guard
Caldwell	Left Guard
Green	Full Back

CHAPEL EXERCISES.

Last Tuesday morning the Spanish section of the eleventh grade entertained the study hall by a few Spanish selections. First on the program was "America" in Spanish. This was enjoyed very much and received a good round of applause. Then Mr. Noel Brown gave a Spanish poem entitled "Nada Mas." Though some of the pupils could not understand as all did not take Spanish, it was enjoyed and received a good round of applause.

Then Miss Ollie Clinton told in Spanish how Buenos Aires got its name. It was told in a very simple style and most of the students understood it.

Then a Spanish song by Miss Florence Butts was very much enjoyed.

Miss Cain, the Spanish teacher, deserves much credit for the time and patience she puts in teaching pupils how to speak and write correct Spanish. Cameron High School is very fortunate in having Miss Cain as one of their teachers as she is trying to teach Spanish after the method that is taught in the State University.

BOYS' CLUB DEBATE

WON BY AFFIRMATIVE

Last Tuesday the Disciples of Socrates met and held a debate "Resolved that the State laws on boxing should be repealed."

CHAPEL EXERCISES.

Last Tuesday morning Mr. Williams had charge of the chapel exercises and he took up all of the time talking on self-government in the school, nation, county, town and community. He told the pupils that if an officer of the law was not on the job there would be more murder and crime in this country than there is in Russia right now and it was the same way with the student body of a school. He also stated that the people that committed crime had not learned how to govern themselves and that they were a menace to the town or community in which they lived. Mr. Williams finished by saying that the best thing that Cameron High School had ever done was to organize the student council.

Then Porter Stevens got up and said a few words concerning the reporting of unruly students. He said that if the members of the council were the only ones to report, he would resign his position. Mr. Williams said that it was the duty of every student to report unruly ones.

POULTRY BENEFITS NOW IN EVIDENCE IN ROCKDALE

THANKSGIVING BIRDS BROUGHT
MONEY INTO LOCAL USE.

The all-cotton farmer ought to have his eyes opened to the possibilities of the poultry business, and a few figures just at this time ought to be of general interest. Rockdale is located in a section of country that is peculiarly adapted to poultry raising and general diversification. Just now the turkey business is at its crest, and although Rockdale has no killing plant, yet our dealers always pay top prices and thousands of the Thanksgiving birds are brought in and sold here by our farmers.

The firm of Scarborough & Hicks Company, during the month of November alone, paid out $8,000 cash money for turkeys, and counting the chickens and eggs bought, the total amount paid out the same month was exactly $9,232.31. This firm led the van in turkey buying, paying as high as 31c per pound for the birds, and consequently bought the big end of the turkeys offered. However, other dealers were in the market, and it is safe to say that Rockdale bought more than $10,000 worth of turkeys during the month of November.

Just to give an idea of what the poultry business amounts to, and what a top-price-paying firm means to a community, we were permitted a peep at the produce records of the Scarborough & Hicks Company this week. These records show, in addition to the figures already given, that during November that firm bought nearly $500 worth of butter and eggs. The record also shows that for the eleven months of 1920 up to the close of business Nov. 28, the firm had paid out in round numbers $40,000 for turkeys, chickens and eggs, and $11,000 additional for other odd items of farm produce. This does not include any cotton or other heavy stuff, but is simply what might be called the "odds and ends" of farm produce.

tice many a farmer from the cotton row to the hen coop.

What Rockdale needs above all else right now is one or more big sweet potato curing plants and a peanut factory. If this section of Milam county would go in for peanuts, potatoes, pigs, peas and poultry the price of cotton would have very little affect upon our populace.—Rockdale Reporter.

FEDERAL FUEL CO. IN BANKRUPTCY

FAILURE OF MACHINE TO PROPERLY FUNCTION GIVEN AS REASON FOR CRASH.

The Federal Fuel Company, which for the past two years has been engaged in opening a lignite mine on the Lucky farm, seven miles southwest of this city, has gone into voluntary bankruptcy. This company's plan was to mine the coal with a dredging machine on the order of a steam shovel. The machine was put to work a few months ago, and it developed that it would not deliver a marketable grade of coal, and this is given as a reason for the company's failure. The company has a large acreage of unusually valuable lignite deposits, and the mine will undoubtedly be eventually worked with the shaft or slope method.

Houston, Tex., Nov. 29.—The Federal Fuel Company, a mining corporation with a capital stock of $500,000 was today thrown into Federal bankruptcy court by the officers and directors, recently elected when the company was reorganized. The voluntary bankruptcy petition was filed with the clerk of the Federal court today, and states that it is impossible to give exact schedules on account of inaccessibility of the records of the company.

In the schedules submitted today, the liabilities of the company are estimated at $71,000, secured claims, $10,000, unsecured claims and due employees for wages, $2,576.70, which totals $83,576.70. Only one asset was listed in the petition. It involves real estate estimated to be worth $60,000. The attorney for the corporation said there was a large amount of assets which would be listed when the antedated schedules are filed later in the week.

The Federal Fuel Company was organized several months ago to develop a lignite coal mine at Rockdale in Milam county. It maintains general offices in Houston, Texas.

Oscar P. Hall, director of the Federal Fuel Company, returned yesterday from Houston, where he attended the meeting of the board of directors at which the decision was reached to petition for voluntary bankruptcy proceedings. The local offices of the company in the Gunter Building were closed yesterday.

Mr. Hall said last night that the decision of the board of directors was the only course open to them. Failure of certain machines specially constructed for mining the lignite to function properly is given as one of the reasons necessitating the voluntary bankruptcy proceedings.

The local office is in charge of J. M. Simpson as active vice president and Mr. Hall is manager of the Federal Material Fuel and Supply Company, which, he said, wouldn't necessarily be affected by the bankruptcy proceedings in connection with the other company. The company has been in existence about two years and the branch office in San Antonio has been in operation about one year.

NEW METHODIST PREACHER ARRIVES AND THEN LEAVES

Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Cockrell and two children arrived in Milano Monday from Flinn. Bro. Cockrell is the new pastor of the Methodist Church and the citizenship welcomes them to Milano with a glad spirit of sincere delight.

Later: Rev. Cockrell left Tuesday afternoon for Maysfield where he will accept the Methodist charge there instead of the Milano charge. The Milano parsonage was not in shape to accommodate Bro. Cockrell and his family, while at Maysfield the parsonage was finished and ready for occupancy. It is understood that an unmarried preacher will be sent to the Milano charge.—Milano Gazette.

For Torpid Liver

"Black-Draught is, in my opinion, the best liver medicine on the market," states Mrs. R. H. White, of Keota, Okla. She continues: "I had a pain in my chest after eating—tight, uncomfortable feeling—and this was very disagreeable and brought on headache. I was constipated and knew it was indigestion and inactive liver. I began the use of Black-Draught, night and morning, and it sure is splendid and certainly gives relief."

Thedford's BLACK-DRAUGHT

For over seventy years this purely vegetable preparation has been found beneficial by thousands of persons suffering from effects of a torpid, or slow-acting liver. Indigestion, biliousness, colic, coated tongue, dizziness, constipation, bitter taste, sleeplessness, lack of energy, pain in back, puffiness under the eyes—any or all of these symptoms often indicate that there is something the matter with your liver. You can't be too careful about the medicine you take. Be sure that the name, "Thedford's Black-Draught," is on the package. At all druggists.

The Cake Lady

By Mildred White

ESSIE LOUISE was making a great deal of trouble. From the time her invalid mother had brought Tessie to the city hospital to be treated for her spine, the golden-haired baby had been the pet of the nurses. And as her stay was prolonged, partly because the mother was too ill and too poor to yet understand the care of her child.

"What in the world," asked the autocratic young house doctor, "does that child want?"

"Tess-ese wants a Nora Christmas doll," the nurse said eagerly.

Doctor Bruce wrinkled his brow.

"What does she mean?" he asked.

"Miss Nora Dean," the girl answered, "is a young woman who visits the children's ward and has been much interested in them. She lives in a cottage out on the lake shore, and last summer she came in and took two of our little convalescents for a month's stay there. Tessie Louise was one, and she so fell in love with Miss Dean at the time that we could hardly

coax her back. But it was necessary that she should come. Yesterday, Miss Dean came to the hospital with a basket of Christmas cakes, made like dolls, with currant eyes, and colored frosted dresses. The kiddies were so pleased; they call her the Cake Lady.

Doctor Bruce frowned.

"That's bad practice," he complained, "allowing women to come in here and feed our patients. I did not suppose—"

The pleasant nurse hurried to champion her friend.

"She has helped us in many ways. I should call Miss Dean a philanthropist if she were not—"

The pleasant nurse paused, "in humble circumstances herself."

"The young woman you speak of lives on the lake shore?" the doctor asked.

The nurse nodded.

"Her uncle was an old sea captain," she told him. "Miss Nora made her home with this uncle and aunt when she was as small as Tessie here."

"Now she lives on in the house at the water's edge to take care of her aunt, who is old and crippled. And still that girl—"

The pleasant nurse choked up unaccountably.

"Well, she's always trying to do things for others," she finished; "that is the way Nora Dean finds happiness."

"Great Scott!" interrupted the doctor, "there goes Tessie again; that noise must be stopped. She must not disturb the sick ones!"

The prettiest nurse came hastily.

"Tessie says she won't stop until she is taken to Miss Nora. I really wish we had made arrangements yesterday to have her driven out to the lake shore for over Christmas."

"How far out is it?" Doctor Bruce asked briskly.

"I'll take her in my car," he explained. "It's closed and comfortable."

Donald Bruce sighted the cottage as he brought his car to a stop in the roadside. Then he gathered his small charge in his arms and made his way to the white door.

It was a broad, white kitchen, redolent of sugar and spices, and an old lady in a rocking chair near the window relieved Tessie of her wrappings.

"You must give the doctor a cup of coffee, Nora dear," the old lady said, "before his cold drive back to the city."

But Donald Bruce seemed in no hurry to return.

"This," he said musingly, "smells like my grandmother's kitchen. Used to spend our Christmas with grandmother when I was a boy."

It was remarkable how swiftly the afternoon hours flew in the lakeside cottage.

"I'm so glad," the old lady whispered at parting, "that you decided to wait to take Tessie back with you. It has been a happy Christmas for Nora. I can see it in her eyes; and usually happiness is only Nora's through the giving. She's the dearest girl in the world!"

"She is just that!" Donald Bruce answered solemnly.

His eyes were on Nora, as he clasped the old lady's hand.

ARGENTINA HAS QUIT LEAGUE ASSEMBLY

Geneva, Dec. 4.—The Argentine delegation representing the Argentine Republic, officially withdrew from the League of Nations today.

Hours later, upon urgent representation from President Paul Hymans, president of the League of Nations assembly, Honorio Pueyrredon, head of the Argentine delegation, consented to withhold for a few days his formal communication announcing severance of relations between Argentina and the league to give members time to consider the Argentine demands.

Argentina's withdrawal, which was made when Pueyrredon called on Hymans, caused a tremendous sensation. After Pueyrredon had consented to withhold his letter, other delegates held hurried consultations.

It is understood the demands of the South American republic were of such a nature as to offer little chance of reconciliation.

Officials were divided as to the effects of Argentina's action. Some of the officials expressed the belief that the South American republic was bluffing. Others thought Argentina would retire.

Representatives of other Latin American states said they had received no instructions to follow the example of Argentina, although some of them had supported the Argentine delegation in its protests against treatment accorded it.

The cause of the trouble was the assembly's failure to give recognition to Argentina's protest in the matter of covenant amendments.

During the morning session of the assembly Charles J. Doherty, representing Canada, offered an amendment to the covenant of the League of Nations eliminating Article X.

Doherty admitted later he did not think his amendment had any chance of success at the present session, but he wanted to call the assembly's attention to the fact that Canada is opposed to Article X, which there is every likelihood that the United States will not enter the league so long as Article X is in effect.

STATE EXPENSES ARE CUT $10,000,000 BY BOARD OF CONTROL

NEW FACTOR IN FINANCING THE STATE GOVERNMENT AP-PLIES KNIFE TO APPRO-PRIATION BILLS.

Austin, Dec. 4.—Approximately $10,000,000 has been lopped by the State Board of Control off of the original estimates filed by the various educational, eleemosynary institutions and State departments of appropriations for the next two fiscal years, Aug. 31, 1921, to Aug. 31, 1923.

The original budgets of these institutions and departments called for an appropriation of about $40,000,000 for the two years, and this has been cut to $30,000,000 and further cuts may be made by the Board before the budget is presented for the consideration of the Legislature, which convenes next January.

Former State Senator S. B. Cowell, chairman of the Board, said that the budget will be completed and ready for distribution to members of the Thirty-seventh Legislature within the next ten days or two weeks.

During the past two fiscal years the total appropriations made for the support of the government reached $26,500,000 as against $30,000,000 which is now asked for the next two years. Senator Cowell added that there is a desire on the part of the Board in consideration of the budget to preserve a safe margin under the estimated revenue of $33,000,000 available for the general revenue fund in the coming two years. Therefore, if the Board can keep the amount of appropriations asked well within $30,000,000 there will remain a margin of $3,000,000.

The Board has been materially delayed in completion of the budget through delay of several State institutions in submitting their estimates. Requests were to have been submitted on Sept. 15, while it was nearly a month later before certain of the institutions presented their estimates.

OIL DRILLING PROJECT ALMOST A DEAD ISSUE

Activities in the oil well project here at Milano have almost ceased to be alive. But in conversation with Mr. W. T. Brooker the other day he told us he still had some hopes of disposing of the leases to some company between now and next March, after which time the project would die a natural death at the expiration of the leases. The Milano land owners have let many good chases go by in not promptly leasing their lands, and today Mr. Brooker says, these very people are sick, because they have not even a dollar coming in as lease rent. And there are many other causes and reasons why no drilling was ever attempted here at Milano. People thought they might get rich holding back, and thus they held back the possibility of oil development altogether. Mr. Brooker worked as no other man will again work to get the oil development started here, and he is still trying to save the situation at a late and critical hour. In fact it is so late and the stage of delay of so long a duration that we doubt very much if there will be any future oil activities in Milano for some good length of time to come. Oil development at Milano seems dead. Did you help to kill it? Or did you boost for it?—Milano Gazette.

FORMER ROCKDALE BOY ARRESTED IN HOUSTON SATURDAY

JOE R. SHAPARD CHARGED WITH MISAPPLYING $10,000 OF FED-ERAL RESERVE BANK.

The following article in Sunday's

Houston Chronicle concerns Joe R. Shapard, a Rockdale boy, born and bred, who for the past year has had a responsible position with the Federal Reserve Bank in that city. Mr. Shapard's friends in Rockdale are legion, and they are all hopeful that he will be able to clear himself of the charges. The article:

J. R. Shapard, paying teller of the Houston branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, was arraigned before Winston McMahon, United States commissioner, Saturday noon following his arrest by federal officers, on a charge of abstracting and misapplying funds of the bank. He was bound over to the federal grand jury under $2,500 bond.

The complaint charges that money was taken and misappropriated on March 30. The amount named in the charge is $10,000.

Shapard was arrested at the bank. Records of the United States marshal's office show he entered a plea of guilty before the commissioner.

A statement was made by the defendant, it was said at the Federal Building.

It is claimed a shortage of approximately $10,000 was discovered in the bank funds eight months ago, but that all but about $2,500 of this sum has been replaced.

Rev. J. E. Cockrell, who was appointed to Milano circuit decided not to accept the work and obtained a transfer to Maysfield circuit.

The Methodist pulpit was filled today by an evangelist representing the home mission work.

The Christian Sunday School is building up. The attendance was 35 today and no preaching service.

Mr. Russell, station agent at Oakwood, and Mr. McGregor of Cameron were both visitors in our town this week.

Harry McGregor, one of our very best young men, has returned to Winters, and will probably make his home there.

Wesley Woods and wife have moved in the country and will leave for another year.

Miss Myrtle Worthington is threatening to make all kinds of improvements on her mother's home here. School teaching is a fine job now-a-days. Teachers make so much money they actually don't know what to do with it. And it is so easy made too—their hardest work is drawing up their vouchers and spending the proceeds properly after the vouchers are cashed.

If Milano post office goes Republican in 1921 the postmaster hopes to resume his former distinguished place in pedagogy and will probably aspire to the presidency of Frog Joy college.

Miss Maudé Hooker of Sandy Creek school spent the week-end with her parents as did her brother, John Hooker of Taylor, J. D. Hooker of Hearne.

Mrs. Arrington of Thrall is visiting her mother, Mrs. Newton.

The entertainment given by Rockdale local talent at the Woodman hall for the benefit of the Parent-Teachers fund of Malino school was something great. Both the band and the minstrel performance surpassed some professional performances we have seen.

BANDITS GET $500,000 IN BOLD MAIL ROBBERY IN MINNEAPOLIS

BOARD TRAIN AND SECURE LOOT AS FAST LIMITED ROLLS INTO SUBURBS OF CITY—COUNTRY RACKED BY BANDIT PLAGUE.

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 3.—Three masked bandits this morning held up and robbed the mail car on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul train No. 6, Moberg, S. D., to Minneapolis, on the Hastings & Dakota division, and after binding with wire and gagging the three mail clerks, escaped with a pouch of registered mail and other packages, estimated to contain currency and papers worth between $500,000 and $1,000,000.

The only estimate of the loot made public came from a mail clerk, F. C. Tousley. Tousley declared that the amount taken was between $500,000 and $1,000,000. Postal authorities refused to give an estimate, stating that it is impossible at this time to tell.

The bandits climbed aboard the tank of the engine at Hopkins, Minn., forced an entrance to the mail car while the train was speeding toward Minneapolis, and left the train within the city limits of this city.

One of the mail clerks who had worked partially free of his bonds, saw the three men leave the train to join a fourth confederate who was waiting in an automobile.

Police and Federal officers are baffled by the case. It is believed that the bandits will not attempt to leave the Twin Cities, but will remain in hiding here.

In the express car next to the mail car was a pouch containing $500,000 in currency. The bandits did not make an attempt to enter the express car, and the express messengers and guard did not know of the robbery of the mail car until the train had reached the Milwaukee depot here.

When Ray M. Eesh, mail clerk, went to fasten the chain on the front door of the mail car as the train was leaving Hopkins, he was confronted by three men. Each of them carried two revolvers. They forced him to step back to the center of the mail car and ordered the other two mail clerks, C. F. Tousley and A. E. Houseman, to hold up their hands. Later investigation showed there was a defective lock on the front door of the mail car.

The bandits ordered the three mail clerks to turn their faces to the side of the car, and while one of the bandits stood guard the clerks were gagged and thrown to the floor of the car.

After throwing the registered mail pouches to the center of the car, the bandits split open five other sacks, taking out various packages which they evidently believed contained valuables. When the train slowed down for a stop at a railroad crossing, the three bandits jumped from the train.

Tousley, who had partially freed himself, staggered to his feet and succeeded in opening the heavy doors a few inches.

He said he saw the three men running in the direction of a waiting automobile. Tousley worked himself free, but by the time he had released the other clerks the train had reached the Milwaukee depot in downtown Minneapolis.

The alarm was sounded there and police and Federal officers immediately

ly began searching, but no trace of the bandits was found.

It is estimated that the registered mail pouch, which contained more than 100 packages, had in it currency and valuables amounting to between $500,000 and $1,000,000. It was pointed out that banks in the Dakotas and Minnesota are sending large sums of money and valuable papers and bonds to the larger banks in the Twin Cities, particularly the Federal Reserve Bank, at this time as security for loans.

It will be impossible to determine exactly how much was in the mail pouch for at least a month, it is believed, when a check of registered mail receipts will be completed.

ZUROVEC SLAYERS HELD WITHOUT BAIL IN BELTON JAIL

John Zurovec, proprietor of a lunch and cold drink stand at 103 South First street, in Temple, is dead, his young wife and orphaned babe are plunged into deepest grief. John L. Lewellen, a farmer residing near Sparks, and Homer Joyce are in the jail at Belton, denied the privilege of making bonds and Harry Shanklin, a Temple business man, is under bond in the sum of $1,500 as the result of the shooting to death of Zurovec who had a place on First street last Monday afternoon.

The killing recalled the days of the open saloon in Temple and occurred shortly after 6 o'clock in the evening, at a time when numbers of persons were passing along the business section in which Zurovec's place was located. Great excitement was caused among pedestrians and spectators of the affair and before the sound of the shots had ceased to echo three men, Lewellen, Joyce and Shanklin were under arrest and the corpse of the dead man was being tenderly lifted from where it had fallen in front of the furniture storage warehouse of Daniel & Jarrel a few doors below the lunch stand in which the first scenes of the tragedy were enacted.

The accused men were taken to Belton where they remained through Monday night in jail, Shanklin and Joyce being returned to Temple Tuesday for an examining trial before Justice of the Peace Hassie Holley. Lewellen, who is alleged to have fired the fatal shots waived examination and remained in jail pending action by the grand jury. The testimony of six witnesses was heard in the examination before Justice Holley, two of these, Dr. R. W. Noble and Dr. L. R. Talley, testifying as physicians regarding the character and nature of the wounds suffered by Zurovec. At the conclusion of the hearing Shanklin was allowed bail in the sum of $1,500 which he furnished and was immediately released from custody. Joyce was remanded without bail on the charge of being connected with the fatal shooting of Zurovec and as a result of testimony developed at the examination, was held in $500 bail on a charge of violating the law against

M. Oppenheimer, jeweler and pawnbroker, doing business at Avenue A and First street testified that he had sold to Harry Shanklin Monday morning, the day of the shooting, a .380 Colt's automatic pistol, the purchaser, who operates a tailor and cleaning establishment adjoining the Zurovec place, explaining that his store had been visited by burglars and the gun was wanted for protection. It is said that this gun is the weapon with which Zurovec was slain, it being taken from Lewellen by City Marshal Wiley Fisher immediately after Zurovec had fallen mortally wounded in front of the furniture warehouse.

City Marshal Fisher in his testimony said he was standing at the Oppenheimer corner when he heard shots and turning in the direction from which the sounds of the shooting came he saw several men run from the Zurovec place. He hastened to the scene and just before he reached the entrance he saw Lewellen, Joyce and Shanklin come out of the lunch room together and turn South on First street. The marshal said that as he came up to the men Lewellen started to hand Shanklin a pistol but he, the witness, grasped the weapon and took it from Lewellen and placed him under arrest. The city marshal said the weapon he took from Lewellen was a .380 Colt's pistol, with capacity for nine shells and that one shell was lodged in the magazine when he took it from Lewellen.

The story of the occurrences preceding and leading up to the tragedy were told by Frank Chudej, an employee of Zurovec, in the latter's place of business. Chudej said he had been in the employ of Zurovec since November 9 and was present and witnessed the affray and saw the start of the shooting which resulted in his employer's death. He said that just before the shooting three men came into the place but he did not then know the men, but later identified two of them as Lewellen and Joyce.

Witness was not certain whether Shanklin was the third man in the party; the third man he said, was tall but he did not notice him particularly as he kept quiet and did not take part in the quarrel which preceded the shooting.

He said that Lewellen cursed Zurovec and the latter protested, stating that he did not allow such language in his place of business, that if they would act like gentlemen he would treat them as such. He stated that

Lewellen left the room and Joyce quarrelled with Zurovec, asking him "What's the matter with you, why did you make him mad? Who do you think you are, anyway?" and other language, the trend of which was to make light of Zurovec and further incense him.

Lewellen returned, Chudej stated, and further cursed Zurovec and opened fire. According to his testimony Joyce threw a bottle of mustard at Zurovec just before Lewellen fired the first shot. He said that Zurovec stood facing Lewellen when the first shot was fired with his hands extended downward. He looked horrified, said Chudej and did not make any attempt to give fight and did not say anything, but when the first shot was fired turned and ran toward the front door. He, (Chudej) then turned and ran ahead of Zurovec and did not know what happened later except that he heard Zurovec groan when the latter came out the front door and he heard several shots fired.

He said that he later came up the

J. E. Bigon, proprietor of the Temple Bakery, opposite the postoffice, who is a brother-in-law of Zurovec, testified that he was in Zurovec's place during the trouble and his evidence in main corroborated that given by Chudej. He said he did not recognize the men involved and did not hear all that passed as the backs of the men were turned toward him.

At the conclusion of the examination Justice Holley announced he would grant bail to Shanklin in the sum of $1,500, but Joyce would be held without bail on the charge of his connection with the shooting, and he would fix bail in the sum of $500 for Joyce in the case of alleged violation of the liquor law.

Zurovec was buried Wednesday at Granger, where he formerly lived, the funeral services being held at the Catholic church in that place. A large number of friends attended from Temple. Zurovec came to Temple in February last. He was 41 years old and is survived by his widow and small child. The family lived at 903 South First street.

Lewellen is a farmer whose residence is in the vicinity of Sparks. He is married and has a family of children. He has lived in Bell county all his life and is well known throughout the county. After his arrest he was escorted to jail at Belton by Deputy Sheriff Sam Smith and Police Officer John Lewellen of the Temple force.

In the hearing before Justice Holley County Attorney Lewis H. Jones appeared for the state and the defense was represented by DeWitt Bowmer. It has not developed what further steps, if any, will be taken to procure the release of the two men remaining in jail. Their cases will be investigated by the grand jury at its next session.—Temple Mirror.

MAKE OUT GIFT LIST EARLY

Thoughtful Shoppers Start Task Several Weeks Before Rush Begins in Busy Stores.

THE buyer who really puts some altruism into her Christmas gifts makes out her list several weeks in advance. If she be a canny somebody she has kept her list of the year before and is able to see what were her gifts the preceding season, and thus avoid the risk of repeating herself. Still more canny is she if she has made mental or written notes from time to time of various articles for which she has heard a desire expressed by friends. Such note taking will greatly lessen her labors.

For it is no light thing to choose Christmas gifts judiciously. The whole secret of their acceptability lies in their appropriateness. Not only must they be appropriate to the person from whom they come and to whom they go, but to the circumstances in which the latter is placed. For an instance, there are few housekeepers who do not welcome an addition of blue linen to their store. But if to a housekeeper who lives plainly in simple surroundings one sends a superb lace-trimmed tea cloth or dollies that throw all her other possessions into the shade, there is an unsuitability about the gift that robs it of much of its charm.—Harper's Bazar.

ART AND SCIENCE IN TOYS

Playthings for the Kiddies Necessary to the Proper Conduct of Their Society.

WHILE the making of toys is an art that is probably practically as old as the world itself, it has been only within recent years that science has bothered itself about them. Less than half a century ago they were regarded merely as playthings—amusing diversions for children that were by no means necessary to their well-being. Today, however, science insists that there is a well-defined philosophy underlying the use of toys; that they are the tools with which the little ones ply their trade; the paraphernalia necessary to the proper conduct of their society; that dolls, for example, are more to them than the associates that help to entertain them in that they aid them in the attainment of their mental growth by stimulating the natural emotions which must be experienced in later life.

Whether this theory of the scientists is correct or not, the fact remains that children have always had the playthings requisite for their imitations of the domestic life and business affairs of older people; that they have always required their elders to provide them with such inventions, and that, when they could not obtain these toys by any other means they themselves have sought and found objects that might be made to suit their purposes. Even the somnolent middle Ages did not put an end to their pastimes. The toys in which they found diversion may have been more simple, but, as they met the demands of nature, they played their allotted part in the scheme of human development.—Public Opinion.

Ancient Christmas Custom.

Many quaint customs are observed at Christmas time in various English country parishes. In that of Cunnor, in Berkshire, of which the living is a vicarage and the church a beautiful specimen of an old English parochial edifice, all who pay tithes repair, after evening service on Christmas day, to the vicarage where the vicar is held in duty bound, by a usage centuries old, to regale them with four bushels of malt brewed into ale or beer, two bushels of wheat baked into bread, and half a hundred weight of cheese. Any remnants of this feast are distributed among the poor of the parish after morning prayer the next day.

POOR THINGS

Traditions of Christmas Festival.

In the records of every nation we find traditions of the Christmas festival, traditions which have been handed down from generation to generation in oft-told tales which thrilled the hearts of the listeners with alternate fear and delight. Sir Walter Scott tells us that they who are born upon Christmas or Good Friday will see spirits, and will have the power of commanding them. He also adds that the Spaniards imputed the downcast looks of their monarch, Philip II, to the disagreeable visions to which this privilege subjected him.

Bring Smiles of Gladness.

It is not so much the thought of receiving the customary holiday gifts which most pleases the fancy, but rather that pleasure the heart derives from dwelling upon joyful surprises it may bestow upon others. To bring a smile of gladness upon another's face is, indeed, a boon more precious than a Christmas gift, and the joy of bestowing can never be equalled by the receiving.

CLARA SMITH WILL SURRENDER SOON TO TEXAS OFFICERS

SHE IS SAID TO BE HIDING IN SMALL TOWN ACROSS THE RIO GRANDE NOW.

Fort Worth, Tex., Dec. 7.—Clara Barton Smith, alleged principal in the tragedy which culminated November 26 in the death of Jake L. Hamon, millionaire Ardmore, Oklahoma oil operator, will surrender within the next day or so, acting on advices of a prominent firm of Fort Worth criminal lawyers, according to information here Tuesday. This action, it is said, was decided upon following a conference between the father of the woman and the attorneys.

Miss Smith, according to her father's information, is hiding in a secluded town just across the river from El Paso and a telegram was sent her Tuesday afternoon telling her of the decision that had been reached. It was said this decision was reached following a conference at which it was decided by attorneys she has a clear case of acquittal.

According to late reports here from El Paso, Sheriff Orendorff of that city has been informed he need not continue his search for Miss Smith. He said he had located definitely her whereabouts, and was taking steps to bring her across the river into Texas.

It was denied, however, that the decision for her to surrender was a result of this information. It was said here that her father nor her attorneys knew of this when her surrender was agreed upon. It is believed she will come across the river tomorrow and give herself up, on condition that she be allowed freedom to consult with her attorneys.

Her father left the city shortly after his conference with attorneys here and probably went to El Paso, it is said, where he will meet her. It was impossible to gain a confirmation of this report, however, since the attorneys said they will say nothing in regard to the case.

The Snow at Christmastide

SOFTLY falls the winter twilight
O'er the gray old town,
With its firelit windows brightened,
With its ancient byways whitened
By the pure snow floating down
From the heavens far and wide—
Peaceful snow of Christmastide.

IN the shadows of the forest,
As the night-wind stirs,
All their crosses high uplifted
Where the starry flakes have drifted,
Stand the silent ranks of fire,
By the bright snow glorified—
Radiant snow of Christmastide.

FROM their lofty belfries telling
Of the Savior's birth,
Carillons and chimes are ringing,
Like the angel chorus singing
"Joy, good will, and peace on earth!"
While the snow falls far and wide—
Blessed snow of Christmastide.

CHRISTMAS ONCE IS CHRISTMAS STILL

The silent skies are full of speech
For who hath ears to hear;
The winds are whispering each to each;
The moon is calling to the beach;
And stars their sacred wisdom teach
Of Faith and Love and Fear.

But once the sky its silence broke,
And song o'erflowed the earth;
The midnight air with glory shook;
And angels mortal language spoke,
When God our human nature took
In Christ the Savior's birth.

And Christmas once is Christmas still:
The gates through which he came,
And forest wild, and murmuring rill,
And fruitful field, and breezy hill,
And all that else the wide world fill,
Are vocal with his name.

Shall we not listen while they sing
This latest Christmas morn,
And music hear in everything,
And faithful lives in tribute bring
To the great song which greets the King
Who comes when Christ is born?

SANTA CLAUS

Beyond the ocean many a mile,
And many a year ago,
There lived a wonderful queer old man

In a wonderful house of snow;
And every little boy and girl,
As Christmas times arrive,
No doubt will be very glad to hear
The old man is still alive.

In his house upon the top of a hill,
And almost out of sight,
He keeps a great many elves at work,
All working with all their might
To make a million of pretty things,
Cakes, sugar-plums and toys,
To fill the stockings, hung up, you know,

By the little girls and boys.

99,967 FORD CARS MADE IN MONTH

During October 99,967 Ford cars were made in the Ford factory at Detroit and shipped out to join the four and one-half million already in service. This is the highest record ever reached by the Ford Company, or any other company. Thirty-three more cars would have brought production up to the 100,000 mark for the month.

October 26 was the banner day, having brought forth 4,688 cars. This was also a record breaker. It means that one car was completed every eighteen and one-half seconds for the entire twenty-four hour day. The Ford estimate for this year is one and one-quarter million cars and trucks.

It was during the fall of 1919 that Henry Ford placed on the market his now famous Model "T"—the car that brought Ford unquestioned supremacy in the motor car industry. To date, more than four and one-half million of this one model have been built and distributed to the four corners of the world. Of models prior to the "T," thirty thousand were manufactured.

During 1910, 18,844 Ford cars were built, a tremendous output for those days. Yet in ten years from that time Ford production has grown to more than one million a year.

Almost half of the motor cars in the world are Ford cars. In the United States and Canada, a little better than one-half are Fords.

To relieve rheumatism, sprains, lame back, lumbago or pluriy, Ballard's Snow Liniment is a remedy of proven merit. It is very powerful and penetrating. Three sizes, 30c, 60c and $1.20 per bottle. Sold by Pace-Marshall Drug Co. adv.

NEWSPAPER MAN SEES CLARA SMITH

BUT WILL GO TO JAIL BEFORE
TELLING JUST WHERE SHE IS NOW.

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 7.—P. M.
Ross, a local newspaper man who last night sent out dispatches from here saying that he had conversed near San Antonio with Miss Clara Smith, sought in connection with the fatal shooting of Jake L. Hamon of Ardmore, Okla., and that she had given him a statement admitting she shot
Hamon, was taken into custody by police early today, questioned for an hour and released.

Ross was detained at the request of Russell R. Brown, county attorney of Ardmore, who asked that his story be investigated and that Ross be held as a material witness if necessary.

The newspaper man was quizzed
closely as to his alleged statements that he had met the woman after her motor car had broken down near San Antonio, that he had repaired the break and that she had given him the statement. At the conclusion of the conference, Captain James Duncan of the police department stated that he was inclined to doubt the newspaperman's story.

Chief of Police Mussey directed a telegram to Attorney Brown advising him of the interview with Ross and requesting information as to whether the Ardmore authorities wished further action in the case.

Ross, according to the police, refused to tell the whereabouts of the young woman, asserting that he would go to jail first.

Officials said that when questioned
by them, he declared he became acquainted with Miss Smith while working on a newspaper in Oklahoma.
Later, they said, he denied knowing her.

He told his questioners, it was stated, that he first saw Miss Smith
on the streets of San Antonio and that she tried to evade him by driving away in a large motor car. He said that he pursued her in a smaller car, but being unable to overtake her,
hired a large service car and resumed
the chase, overtaking her just outside the city limits.

Following their questioning of Ross
police officers said they were inclined to abandon the search for Miss Smith here, especially after detectives had made an investigation at one of the leading hotels and failed to find any trace of her.

It was emphasized at police headquarters that further investigation of the case locally would depend upon the wishes of Ardmore authorities.

AUTO TRUCK HAS REVOLUTIONIZED TRANSPORTATION

OLD TO NEW HAULING
METHODS.

Back beyond the memory of the oldest living inhabitant, transportation problems were solved in a primitive way. The olden days in the West, the golden days of romance, are gone forever, but memories are ever present in both song and story to tell us of the present age of the old prairie schooners which wended their way across the plains.

Those were days of danger and daring, made more acute by the slowness of transportation. The pioneers could not run away from the Indians. There was nothing to do but stop and fight, and around such battles many of the most brilliant pages
of our history have been written.

Some decades later we find a more modern conveyance in the nature of a covered wagon, drawn by spanking horses, but still unsatisfactory when judged from a strictly contemporary point of view. No farm was without its conveyance of this sort; and many business houses used them because no brain had yet devised a surer and quicker way.

The day of the horse will one day
be considered as a separate epoch in our history. The noble animal is still present in large numbers, but other means of transportation have lightened his burdens and made life
decidedly worth the living.

Then one day, not so long ago,
the horseless vehicle came into being,
the wonder and admiration of all who saw it. By gradual stages it has been perfected until at the present time it is an integral part of the daily life of the nation. Chapters could be written about the part it has played in war, in peace, in commerce,
and in pleasure.

The motor truck is undoubtedly the most important step that has been taken in the way of transportation since the coming of the railroad and the steamship. The great industries which are fostered by it have grown to be an important part of the great throbbing pulse of the nation.

Then, not satisfied with the subjugation of the land as a means of rapid transportation, brilliant minds set themselves on the subjugation of the air. What was once a startling novelty, has become in a great measure a part of the commercial life of the nation. Just how far the airplane can be made to serve the laws
of man is a question which can not be fully answered at the present time.

Palmer is whirling through the atmosphere daily, carrying mails and passengers, and the prediction is freely made that the air lanes will one day be as thickly populated with planes as the highways are with automobiles.

Joe J. Michalka is paving way for big car distribution. Oakland and Studebaker cars prove good combination for local dealer in county.

JOE J. MICHALKA IS PAVING WAY FOR BIG CAR DISTRIBUTION

OAKLAND AND STUDEBAKER
CARS PROVE GOOD COMBI-NATION FOR LOCAL DEAL-ER IN COUNTY.

With two of the major automotive
products of the world—the Oakland and Studebaker—as the basis for the local agency combined with an excellent service station and progressive sales policies, Joe J. Michalka, local Oakland and Studebaker dealer,
has found a large response in this territory from auto purchasers and has been able to build up a large distributing business here.

Not only has Mr. Michalka been able to give the Oakland and Studebaker high rank in point of distribution in Milam county but for every car sold he has a satisfied user
and has maintained a service station
second to none. Mr. Michalka, conscious of the stability and value of the cars he sells has kept pace with the growing distribution of the Oakland and Studebaker and is able to give the service necessary to make owners satisfied with operation of their cars.

The Oakland and Studebaker are among the cars on which no drop in price has come since the break in the industrial world. Mr. Michalka bac-ed by the manufacturer and distributor has continued with sales in the face of these conditions to a big degree of success. Mr. Michalka declares that the quality of the product will not admit of a cut in price because the price advances have always been consistent with the increased cost of production and the quality of material put into the cars. In other words the Oakland and Studebaker cars have never been priced on a fic-ticious basis, says Mr. Michalka, but honestly priced and therefore increasing in demand throughout the country.

The distributing agency of Mr. Mi-chalka and his garage and service station is destined to play a large part in the motor business in Milam county.

With the approach of the holiday season Mr. Michalka extends best wishes and thanks to the public for the big measure of success that has come to his business and best wishes for a happy New Year.

AVOID CHRISTMAS TREE FIRE

Utmost Care Should Be Used in Trimming, Thus Preventing Fatalities in the Homes.

PEOPLE cannot be too careful in guarding against fire
when trimming a Christmas tree, says a correspondent
in Good Housekeeping. There have been scores of Christmas tree fatalities in homes and in Sunday schools which a little care might have prevented. The writer
once set a tree in a blaze, consuming nearly half of it, tinsel ornaments going with the green branches. A tiny candle had been wired too high, and it took only a few minutes of its brisk heat to char a branch above it and start a flame. A thick portiere was torn from its pole and thrown over the blaze. If it had not been at hand the light window curtains would have caught fire in another minute. Since that Christmas our tree has always been placed in the center of the room,
and we have eschewed cotton wool, tissue-paper angels, and celluloid ornaments. First of all, we wire each candle securely in place at the furthest end of a branch which has nothing above it, either fir tree or trimming. Then as the tree is denuded we watch carefully the fast-disappearing candles. Sometimes one of them, nearly burned down, will topple over or be merely a spark of flame, but near to something inflammable and be a menace.

GOOD TURNS ON CHRISTMAS

Chance for All to Aid the Friendless in Having Happy Yuletide Season.

REAL purveyors of Christmas cheer may often find a market for their precious wares outside the pale of charity, for all homeless people are not necessarily poor, and neither are all childless homes necessarily unhappy. Housekeepers who are short on homes may combine these two lackings
and make Christmas day a merry delight for the grown-ups in spite of these unfortunate conditions.

There is always something peculiarly pitiable in the idea of any one
"flocking alone" which should appeal to the home-maker without a family,
so that this should be the occasion for her to gather in all the bachelor maids
and homeless men of her acquaintance and give them a joyful opportunity to
"flock together." Even the Scrooges,
if she knows any, should be rescued
from their lonely bowls of gruel and persuaded to open their shut-up hearts
and wear them outside for general inspection, as Dickens says, "For Christmas days to peek at." Therefore, collect six or eight of these birds of a feather who are destitute of near-by kith and kin and make your Christmas feast a center of good cheer for all the charming solitaires you are

WALKING AND TALKING DOLLS

Lifelike Forms Gracefully Step
Across the Floor Saying "Mamma" or "Papa."

DOLLS that walk and talk
and wink and roll their eyes are Parisian Christmas novelties in toyland. These dolls seem almost human, as they walk in sprightly style across the floor saying "mamma" or "papa" just
as real children would.

Walking dolls being a new invention, seem wonderful and bring screams of delight from little girls and boys, too, who watch with intense interest every step of the lifelike dolls
as they are exhibited in the shops.

The machinery that moves the doll's legs is set in motion by a key that is inserted in the works at the waist line.

The voice is made active by works
that are wound with a key.

The eyes move as the body sways
from side to side, just as the real children's eyes roll and blink, etc.

CHRISTMAS WEEK IN ENGLAND

Time When Scattered Families Are United and Tender Memories
Are Revived.

MANY and great are the changes which have occurred in England
since Dickens wrote "A Christmas Carol," but they have not affected the national love for the festival and the determination to preserve unimpaired
the traditional warmth and heartiness of its celebration. Christmas week is still the great week of the year for the English people. It is the one week
when scattered families are reunited, when tender memories and old associations are revived, when friend greets friend with a cheery expansiveness in striking contrast with the characteristic reserve of the English nature,
so, undemonstrative to those who do not know it well, apparently so distant and unsympathetic.

From Wednesday all business will be suspended, not to be resumed till Monday morning. The whole nation will give itself up to good cheer and good fellowship, and for a brief season,
all strife and controversy are hushed,
and peace, charity and concord reign supreme.

Substitute for a Tree.
We are not going to have a Christmas tree, writes a correspondent. To make them brilliant many pretty little ornaments are needed and they cost a good deal. My plan is for a barrel in place of a tree. I have the barrel
now in a closet. It is covered with old dark green cambric and the day before the great holiday I am going to pin
sprigs of evergreen and holly over it.
It will look pretty gay, I think, when it is filled with the gifts that are going into it now, all prettily tissue-
d and tied, and my son as jolly Old Santa Claus stands over it to delve into its mysteries and to proclaim the names of those who are to solve them.
I am sure we will enjoy our barrel as much as we would a tree.

than 2,000 acres in leases and the
well is on this tract.

This well caused considerable excitement some time ago by having good oil and gas showings. About the time the sand was struck in the well the entire string of tools were lost in the hole. Mr. Putnam believes he will be able to get the tools out
and drill the well in as a good producer.—Texas Oil Gazette.

DRUGGISTS WARN PUBLIC TO DEMAND GENUINE.

Every successful remedy is at once imitated. Sometimes the imitation is cleverly made, sometimes it is crude.
Of late a great many dealers have warned Nash Brothers, the manufacturing druggists, that their wonderfully effective croup and pneumonia
salve is being counterfeited. Nash Brothers, however, state that they have no fears because the imitators
have overlooked most important facts:
First, imitations cannot be marked
"Nash's." Second, imitations are weak. Nash's Salve is strong—much stronger than those out for big profits care to make. Third, the imitators can't get far because druggists
are not so easily fooled.

We suggest that when you want
the genuine you name it clearly—Nash's Croup and Pneumonia Salve.
It comes in 30 cent and 60 cent bottles in blue boxes. Sold by Avera

Dear Santa Claus:

I am a boy 4 years old. My little brother is 2 years old. I want to tell you what to bring us. I want a lumber yard and a gun, a red hammer and a little spade for to make mud pies, and a sled, one that you pull and ride on in the snow, a little bucket to fill with lirt, and a fire truck with back seat and front seat. I forgot to ask for a coaster. Bring the same to brother, we will be careful and won't break 'em up. We will hang our stockings. Don't forget the apples, oranges and nuts.

Good-bye Santa Claus.
P. S.—This is our first Christmas in Texas. We used to live in Greensboro, Kansas.

There Is A

The Doctor's Wife

By Mary Graham Bonner

(© 1920, Western Newspaper Union.)

HE HAD married her in the first place of all because of her lovely, low voice. There had been other reasons too — her good looks, her smile, her common sense, but mainly and chiefly the attraction which had drawn him to her had been her voice.

It had seemed during those first years of his practicing and trying to make headway in a seemingly unresponsive city, that voices would drive him mad, wailing, complaining, whimpering always discontented.

Even when he met women socially he felt they refrained from telling him anything but a sorrowful tale of themselves.

As for his wife — she understood.

She smiled at the poor excuses they made to come and see him, of the jealousy they showed of each other, of the gifts they sent him, of senseless reasons they had for telephoning.

Sometimes they would both be invited out to dinner at some patient's house. The doctor's wife chuckled as she thought of how little she was wanted.

Usually they looked at her, she knew, rather pityingly, and at times, the holder of the sympathizers would say to her:

"It must be awful to be a doctor's wife. I'd never have a moment's peace if I were you with so many women caring for my husband!"

"We get used to it," the doctor's wife said so as not to be disappointing, smiling to herself. What fun it was to be a doctor's wife. How much pity one got one didn't deserve, how much wasted sympathy, how many deliciously jealous thoughts one inspired.

It was Christmas Eve. The doctor had promised his wife that he would help her in those many pleasant engrossing night-before-Christmas tasks.

She went upstairs to see that the children were quite asleep when she heard the telephone ring. She answered it, and then heard her husband's voice who was already answering it from below.

Something, some curious something, made her listen.

"Oh doctor," she heard a voice say, the voice of the one woman who had lately caused her first pangs of jealousy. "I can't wait another moment. I must see you. I'm sorry, on Christmas Eve too, but I must! Please, doctor, can you come at once?"

"That's all right, little lady," she heard her husband answer. "I'll be up at once."

"I'm going out for awhile," the doctor called up the stairs. And was gone without a word of regret and with no effort at an excuse.

Late that evening she went out of the house. She would see this other woman. She called a taxi and hurried off.

"I'm sorry," the maid told her, "but Madame can see no one." And the door was shut abruptly.

What would she do? What could she do? Finally, exhausted after walking about the streets, she went home, her heart full of dry, choking sobs.

At last she heard the doctor's key. He came in. He looked tired. But she was worn out.

"You've been to—" she began.

"Boy?" she shrieked.

"Yes," the doctor nodded. He was too tired to notice her quick change of expression.

"Oh," he said after a moment. "I'm so glad you didn't finish the Christmas things without me. No matter how late it is, we must always get ready for Christmas together, mustn't we?"

He kissed her lightly.

"After I had left the house," he added. "I remembered I hadn't asked you to wait, and I wanted you to wait no matter how long I'd be! Selfish of me, perhaps, but we must have our Christmas Eve together and get ready for the children's Christmas together, mustn't we, wife of my heart?"

"We must assuredly must," she answered him, and added to herself: "What fools these women are who pity the doctor's wife. I'm the happiest woman in the whole world."

And the doctor was saying:

"My dear, do you know that it is Christmas morning and that I'm wishing you a Merry Christmas!"

"Merry Christmas," she returned, and in her heart rang the merriest and happiest of Christmas bells!

TWO ARMENIAN CHILDREN.

Sunday morning the congregation of the Presbyterian church pledged themselves to support two Armenian children this winter.

This was done after listening to a soul-stirring, earnest sermon by the pastor on "Neighborliness," in which he told of the great need of these and many other children.

Judge Watson rose at once and moved that the amount be raised at once. Mr. Ben Atkinson second the motion and promptly the fives, tens and twenty-fives and many smaller amounts were called out until they found that instead of supporting one child, as suggested, they could support two.

IS THE HAPPIEST WOMAN IN STATE

SO MRS. POE SAYS AFTER TAN-LAC RESTORES HEALTH—GAINS THIRTY POUNDS.

"The results I have gotten from Tanlac are so wonderful that I feel compelled to tell everybody about it," said Mrs. John Poe, 601 Third St., Pekin, Ill. "and my recovery, after fifteen years suffering, has made me the happiest woman in Illinois."

"Why, everything I ate caused me agony. Gas pressed up around my heart so I would faint, and when I recovered consciousness I would be limp as a rag. Lots of times my neighbors came in thinking I was going to die. I also suffered with rheumatism so bad I would have to sit for days at a time with my feet on a pillow in a chair, and my elbows were so stiff and painful I could hardly use my arms. I could hardly sleep at all and have stayed awake many a night from pain."

"My husband urged me to try Tanlac and the way it restored my health was the greatest surprise that I ever had. Why, I have gained thirty pounds since I began taking it, my troubles have disappeared completely and I feel as splendid as when I was a girl. I just feel like I owe my life to Tanlac and I only wish I had known of it long ago."

"Tanlac is sold in Cameron by New Cameron Drug Co., in Rockdale by Baldrige Bros., in Milam by E. C. Smith and in Burlington by the New Drug Store."

Had Garrett of Tracy was in Cameron Tuesday on business.

The Commissioners' Court met in special session on December 1st, for the purpose of approving official bonds, and on Monday, Dec. 6th, for the purpose of receiving bids on re-pair work on the County Clerk's of-fice.

CONSTIPATION IS DANGEROUS.

A pleasant, effective preparation for overcoming constipation and ills arising from inactive liver is Fidelity Quality Fig and Senna. Ideal for children. When it's Fidelity Quality you're sure it's pure. Sold and recommended by all druggists and in Cameron by Pace-Marshall Drug Co.

Notice

Cotton seed that have been kept from early ginning are worth more than the seed that are being ginned now, as they have had a chance to dry out. We will pay you more for seed of this sort if they are good seed than the gins are paying. When you are ready to sell your seed, call at our office and we will make you a proposition for every dollar there is in them.

CAMERON COTTON OIL CO.

Rub-My-Tism relieves Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sprains.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!

If you feel bilious, headachy, con-stipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents, which is a harmless vegetable sub-stitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money. If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; be-sides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It is harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.

You Do More Work.

You are more ambitious and you get more enjoyment out of everything when your blood is in good condition. Impurities in the blood have a very depressing effect on the system, causing weakness, laziness, nervousness and sickness.

GROVE'S TASTELESS Chill TONIC restores Energy and Vitality by Purifying and Enriching the Blood. When you feel its strengthening, invigorating effect, see how it brings color to the cheeks and how it improves the appetite, you will then appreciate its true tonic value.

GROVE'S TASTELESS Chill TONIC is not a patent medicine, it is simply IRON and QUININE suspended in Syrup. So pleasant even children like it. The blood needs Quinine to Purify it and IRON to Enrich it. These reliable tonic prop-erties never fail to drive out impurities in the blood.

The Strength-Creating Power of GROVE'S TASTELESS Chill TONIC has made it the favorite tonic in thousands of homes. More than thirty-five years ago, folks would ride a long distance to get GROVE'S TASTELESS Chill TONIC when a member of their family had Malaria or needed a body-building, strength-giving tonic. The formula is just the same to-day, and you can get it from any drug store. 60c per bottle.

DODSON TELLS THE HORROR OF CALOMEL

You Don't Need to Sicken, Grip, or Salivate Yourself to Start Liver.

You're bilious, sluggish, constipated. You feel headachy, your stomach may be sour, your breath bad, your skin sallow and you believe you need vile, dangerous calomel to start liver and bowels.

Here's my guarantee! Ask your drug-gist for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling splendid. It is perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate.

THE MAN WHO SAVES YOU MONEY.

By Mrs. W. A. GILLON

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Aline Maddox was twelve years old last Friday and invited seventeen little girls and boys in to rejoice with her.

And, Oh! such a good time they had playing all sorts of games and guessing the beans in a jar. Abbie Batte guessed nearest the right number and was given a box of candy.

The dining room was beautifully decorated in yellow and white chrysanthemums while the center piece for the table was the delight of all children, a big white birthday cake, iced white and had twelve burning white candles on top.

After these were blown out and removed great fun was had cutting the cake. Willie Osborne cut the ring. Reba Young cut the cat that really said "mew." Eunice Tyson cut a doll. With this delicious cake the children were served banana ice cream and vanilla wafers.

Aline received a number of presents, some of which were: Crepe de chine and linen handkerchiefs, powder puff, hand bag, house cap, stationery, etc.

BIRTHDAY DINNER.

Little Miss Ruby Hamilton gave a surprise birthday dinner last Sunday to ten of her friends. She invited them to come home from church with her.

The children were seated around a table laden with a good birthday dinner. In the center was a large white cake with twelve candles around which were beautiful natural violets.

After the dinner the cake was cut and eaten, with chocolate ice cream. In cutting the cake the dime fell to Corrie Collier, niece to Isabel Redfield, thimble to Dorothy Lesovsky, button to Vance Collier.

Ruby received some lovely presents, some of which were: Handkerchiefs, stationery, powder puff and pin with her name on it.

COMPLIMENTARY "42."

Mrs. Judd Davis entertained twenty young people last Saturday afternoon at a forty-two party in honor of Miss Roberta Pace.

On the five white covered tables a smiling red Santa Claus was posted, the tally pads were covered with old Santa too.

The rooms were decorated in red bells, red berries and silver tinsel.

After a number of spirited games were played it was found that Miss Rosine Ledbetter made high score and was given a snow man filled with candy. Miss Estelle Coleman scored low figure and was given a snow covered bell.

"84" favors were Santa Claus, bells, horns, etc.

Little Miss Gladys Davis assisted her mother in serving a delicious sweet course, consisting of fruit salad in chimney design, sandwiches, crackers, olives, hot chocolate and fruit cake.

BAPTIST AUXILIARY.

Circles Nos. 1, 2 and 3 met at the church last Monday afternoon in joint business session.

There was a splendid attendance and many matters of interest and importance came up and were well handled by the president, Mrs. Vass Harlin, who presided.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The ladies of the M. E. Church met at the church in a business session with a good attendance.

Winding up the year's work was the principal work followed by election of officers for the ensuing year. The result was:

President, Mrs. Joe Lindsey.
Vice-president, Mrs. W. A. Bonds.
Supt. of Young People, Mrs. W. O. Triggs.
Supt. of Juniors, Mrs. Howard Baskin.
Supt. of Social Service, Miss Mollie Moore.
Supt. of Mission Study, Mrs. W. H. Triggs.
Recording Secretary, Mrs. H. H. Stedman.
Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. R. F. Boykin.
Treasurer, Mrs. P. O. Adams.

PRESBYTERIAN AUXILIARY.

These ladies met with Mrs. Robert McLane and finished a quilt started at their last meeting.

SYMPHONY CLUB.

Mrs. J. C. Stafford was hostess to the Symphony Club last Saturday and a delightful program was held by Miss Etna Smith.

The subject for the afternoon was: "Songs of the Sea."

Only a very few whose names appeared on the program were present, but they had splendid substitutes.

Five new members were elected: Mesdames U. S. Hearrell, W. G. Gillis, Wm. Cobb, Kennedy and George Graves.

Next meeting will be with Miss Etna Smith.

U. D. C.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy met with Mrs. Walter Sharp last week with about ten in attendance. Beautiful chrysanthemums graced the rooms and a very enthusiastic meeting was held with Mrs. Jeff Kemp in the chair.

It was a business meeting, the principal discussion was the cottage to be built at Kerrville for the tuberculosis soldiers—those who contracted the disease during the world war.

Every U. D. C. in Texas is asked to donate twenty-five cents, and it was readily contributed by the ladies. Mrs. Frank Lasovsky was appointed historian and to prepare the programs.

Miss Ada Henderson invited the ladies to meet with her in January.

RUTH REDFIELD ENTERTAINS.

Last Friday night the first Christmas party of the younger set was given.

There were about twenty couples present to enjoy Miss Ruth's hospitality.

The diversion of the evening was a stroll party, dancing by music on the Edison.

The decorations were chrysanthemums, red and yellow, and ferns.

The dining table was decorated with the same flowers and baskets of delicious fruits on either end.

Mrs. Redfield was assisted in serving the young people by Mesdames P. J. and R. G. Redfield.

Delicious sandwiches, chocolate and vanilla wafers were served.

Miss Pearl McKee, of Killeen, spent Thursday and Friday of last week with her sister, Mrs. T. O. Hamilton.

LADIES AID AT MAYSFIELD.

Last week quite a number of Cameron ladies received the following unique invitation with a little pink sack:

We have a scheme so very bright
We ask for as many pennies as you height,
Just take your measure and you will see
Not much higher up than around you be,
But if you think you are too tall
Just make one inch count two that's all;

So we send to you this little sack
Please bring or send your pennies back.
'Tis the "Ladies Aid" that's asking this
Please not a single penny miss.
Now listen to our little plan,
And help us if you really can.
Come to the Atkinson home at three,
And right there you will see
We are just as busy as we can be.
At Mrs. Hubert Atkinson, Maysfield, Texas, Saturday, Dec. 4, 1920.

The day was ideal and the twelve and one-half mile drive was an added joy of the afternoon.

All who could accepted and went in person while others showed their appreciation by filling the little sacks and with them sent regrets.

No one who had ever visited this delightful home would willingly absent themselves.

The home was beautifully decorated with Christmas decorations, dark red chrysanthemums, red berries in profusion and hanging in the archway between the two big parlors was a huge branch of mistletoe with white chrysal berries in it.

The diversion for the afternoon was "Ladies' Aid" conversation, interspersed with music on the Edison, and delightful readings by Louise Denson and two by Catherine McIntosh.

Next the ladies were invited into that grand old dining room, decorated at either end with bowls of red chrysanthemums and red berries.

A number of Maysfield girls assisted Mary Virginia Atkinson in serving chicken salad on lettuce, crackers, pickles pimento sandwiches, hot tea and lemon.

Other than the Maysfield ladies, four cars motored down and those whose names we could get were: Mesdames R. H. McIntosh, E. N. Shaw, C. Dawson, George Childress, L. J. Hefley, Tom Henderson, Sr., Sam Henderson, Martin, Tom Denson, W. H. Henley, Overton, C. W. Lawrence, Misses Ada and Agnes Henderson, Catherine McIntosh Amelia Williams, Louise Denson and Kathleen Bauham.

Cameron Motor Company, Buick dealers will give you contract work on all cars.

Apply Cream in Nostrils To Open Up Air Passages.

Ah! What relief! Your clogged nostrils open right up, the air passages of your head are clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, mucous discharge, headache, dryness—no struggling for breath at night, your cold or catarrh is gone.

Don't stay stuffed up! Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Ely's Cream Balm is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer has been seeking. It's just splendid.

Every successful remedy is at once imitated. Sometimes the imitation is cleverly made, sometimes it is crude. Of late a great many dealers have warned Nash Brothers, the manufacturing druggists, that their wonderfully effective croup and pneumonia salve is being counterfeited. Nash Brothers, however, state that they have no fears because the imitators have overlooked most important facts: First, imitations cannot be marked "Nash's." Second, imitations are weak. Nash's Salve is strong—much stronger than those out for big profits care to make. Third, the imitators can't get far because druggists are not so easily fooled.

We suggest that when you want the genuine you name it clearly—Nash's Croup and Pneumonia Salve. It comes in 30 cent and 60 cent bottles in blue boxes. Sold by Avera & Reed, Cameron, Texas. adv.

NOBEL PEACE PRIZE FORMALLY GIVEN TO PRESIDENT WILSON

BUT HE SAYS MANKIND HAS NOT YET BEEN RID OF GREAT HORROR OF WAR.

Christiania, Norway, Dec. 10.—Presentation of the Noble peace prizes for 1919 and 1920, which have been awarded, respectively to Leon Bourgeois of France and Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States, took place here today. Formal announcement of the awards was made yesterday.

A message from President Wilson to be read upon the presentation of the 1920 prize had been received by Albert G. Schmedemann, American minister to Norway, and was read by him during the ceremony.

Washington, Dec. 10.—President Wilson in his letter accepting the Noble peace prize, which was read today at the presentation ceremonies at Christiania, said that if this were the last prize to be offered he could not accept it "for mankind has not yet been rid of the unspeakable horror of war."

In the years to come, the president added, there will be "abundant opportunity for others to distinguish themselves in the crusade against hate and fear of war."

"In accepting the honor of your award," the president said, "I am moved not only by a profound gratitude for the recognition of my earnest efforts in the cause of peace, but also by a very poignant humility before the vastness of the work still called for by this cause."

"May I not take this occasion to express my respects for the far-sighted wisdom of the founder in arranging for a continuous system of awards? If there were but one such prize or if this were to be the last I could not, of course, accept it. For mankind has not yet been rid of the unspeakable horror of war. I am convinced that our generation has, despite its wounds, made notable progress. But it is the better part of wisdom to consider our work as only begun. It will be a continuous labor. In the indefinite course of years before us there will be abundant opportunity for others to distinguish themselves in the crusade against hate and fear and war.

"There is indeed a peculiar fitness in the grouping of these noble awards. The cause of peace and the cause of truth are of one family. Even as those who love science and devote their lives to physics or chemistry, even as those who would create new and higher ideals for mankind in literature, even so with those who love peace there is no limit set. Whatever has been accomplished in the past is petty compared to the glory and promise of the future."

New York, Dec. 10.—Award of the Noble peace prize today to President Wilson "as the person who has promoted most or best the fraternity of nations and the abolishment or diminution of standing armies and the formation and increase of peace congresses," marks the sixteenth bestowal of the gift of the Swedish inventor of dynamite, Alfred S. Nobel, whose name it bears. President Wilson is the third American to receive the peace prize, the others being Theodore Roosevelt and Elihu Root.

The prize, one-fifth of the annual interest on about $9,000,000 left for the purpose of Mr. Nobel, normally amounts to about $40,000, but is payable in Swedish Kroner, which at the present rate of exchange, represents about $29,100 in American gold. A Kroner in the United States at present has a value of only 29½ cents, as compared to its normal value of nearly 27 cents.

Recipients in countries where the Kroner is above par, however, will receive much more than the stipulated amount. Knut Hamsun of Norway, winner of the Nobel prize for literature, thus will receive $48,000 and a German award would make the recipient in that country almost a millionaire. Similar awards are made in the Swedish Storting today to individuals who have attained supreme eminence in the domains of physics, chemistry and medicine.

BULLET, HITTING NEGRO ON HEAD, FLATTENED OUT

Corsicana, Texas, Dec. 10.—If the United States had sent Arthur R. Rowe and a few more like him to France the war might have ended earlier and the losses might have been negligible. For all Arthur would have needed to do would have been to stick his head up from a trench and let the German bullets flatten against it, causing the Kaiser's army to waste much and valuable ammunition.

For yesterday at Frost, near here, Arthur, who is a negro, was shot in the back of the head by Albert Lewis, another negro, and the bullet alone suffered casualties. The only thing that happened to the head was an idea—an idea that something had touched it. The bullet was flattened. Lewis, alleged to have fired the shot, was the real "victim," having been brought here and placed in jail.

EAST AND WEST TEXAS HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION MEETING IN PALESTINE

FURTHER DISCUSSION OF THE REAGAN DIVISION HIGHWAY WILL BE HAD.

H. C. Meyer of this city, who is President of the East & West Texas Highway Association, has called a meeting of that body to be held in Palestine today, Thursday, December 9, the purpose of the meeting being to further discuss the building of this leg of the Highway. A delegation from the Rockdale Chamber of Commerce will attend this meeting.

The bridge building engineer of the State Highway Commission met the county engineer of Milam County at Gause last Wednesday, December 1st, and made inspections of the Brazos river looking to the location of the proposed bridge to be built by Milam and Robertson Counties, as a link in the proposed Reagan Division of the Bankhead National Highway, which will run through the state, Texarkana to San Antonio, following the I. & G. N. railroad.

There were present also a big delegation of citizens from both Milam and Robertson Counties, interested in the building of the bridge.

A tentative location was chosen and the engineers will recommend that the bridge be built, if it is built, just south of the I. & G. N. railroad bridge near Valley Junction. We learn unofficially that the main span of the bridge would be 300 feet long, and a secondary span on the Robertson County side would be 100 feet, besides the approaches. This would make it by far the longest and most expensive bridge in either county.

Whether or not the bridge will be built remains with the commissioners court of Milam County. Robertson County has already declared for the bridge and has stated that their share of the money would be provided. The Highway Commission has also signified its willingness to put up a large part of the money.—Rockdale Reporter.

AUSTIN MAN KILLED BY CRAZED MEXICAN

MAN RUNS AMUCK ON KATY
TRAIN, ATTACKING MEN NEAREST TO HIM.

Granger, Texas, Dec. 10.—Just before the southbound Katy passenger train due to reach Granger at 2:20 p. m., arrived here, a Mexican ran amuck in a car and attacked a number of passengers with a knife.

S. I. Wofford, a traveling man from Austin, was the first man attacked by the Mexican. His jugular vein was severed and he died within a short time.

Will Fisher, a farmer of Bartlett, was slashed on his face and body. William Wallace, the third man, seated nearest the crazed Mexican, was cut in several places. The recovery of both Fisher and Wallace is considered doubtful. Wallace's home is said to be at Eufaula, Ok.

The Mexican used a razor on all three of the men. He escaped from the train by jumping through a window. A posse of citizens gave chase and after searching the country near the place of his escape, Manuel Sagn was captured and taken to the Georgetown jail for safe keeping.

Georgetown, Texas, Dec. 10.—The Mexican who killed S. I. Wofford of Austin and seriously wounded two other men with a razor on a train near Granger this afternoon was brought to the county jail at Georgetown this evening. Two other Mexicans arrested on the train are in jail.

TEXAS' OLDEST MASON DIES AT MASONIC HOME

William H. Hayes, aged 101 years, died at the home for aged Masons at Keystone, one mile west of Arlington Texas, at 9 o'clock Saturday, after an illness of two weeks. He had been an inmate of the home for about one year, having come from Lovelady, Texas, where his blue lodge membership was. Hayes was born in Cork, Ireland, Jan. 5, 1820. Not only did Hayes bear the distinction of being the oldest member of the home, but he was the oldest Mason in Texas. He received the Entered Apprentice degree in Masonry in Iowa seventy-five years ago. He was a member of the Eastern Star and the Royal Arch Chapter, his membership being at Lovelady. His first vote was cast for A. Lincoln for President soon after his arrival in this country. He had spent fifty years of his life in Texas, most of which time he was an International & Great Northern section foreman.

His disposition was truly a sunny one, and he had the ability to smile in the face of difficulty; even in some heated argument with his comrades Hayes would always end the conversation with a smile. He remained single until he was past 50 years old, his wife dying about five years ago. He had no children.

Mexican Runs Amuck on Katy Train, Slays One Man With Knife; Slashes Two Others; Captured Near Granger

Bartlett, Tex., Dec. 10.—An infuriated Mexican ran amuck in a chair car of Katy southbound train No. 3 as it was nearing Granger this afternoon at 2:30 and slashed the throats of three passengers with a Mexican stiletto—killing one and seriously wounding the two others and sending terror to the hearts of the occupants of the car.

The dead man is S. O. Wofford, a traveling salesman of Austin. The wounded are Will Fisher, farmer living near Bartlett and Will Wallace, a farmer residing near Eufaula, Okla.

Springing suddenly up as the train was speeding southward the Mexican advanced some five seats in the car, drew his stiletto and talking wildly in Spanish, caught Wofford by the forehead drew him back and slashed his throat. Wofford fell to the aisle and crawled toward the end of the car.

The Mexican then savagely attacked Wallace who was occupying the same seat and who had now arisen and gave fight. He was stabbed twice about the throat and slashed across the left cheek. So effective was the defensive fight that Wallace made that the Mexican turned and brutally stabbed Fisher, who was on the seat across the aisle, in the throat.

Breaking the point of his knife by this blow, the Mexican's blood thirsty passion gave way to fear and running to the vestibule of the car he forced another Mexican to open the door and he swung out of the moving train. This was about a mile north of Granger.

The three injured men were quickly moved from the train at Granger and medical aid was rushed. Wofford died about thirty minutes later.

In the meantime large posses of citizens were formed both at Granger and here and started in search of the Mexican. Mr. Ivey and Mr. Moore, both of Granger, were the first upon the scene and they found the Mexican hiding in a ravine about a half mile north of the place where he left the train.

He offered fight but after several shots were fired at him by the men he submitted to arrest. He was described as a big, burly Mexican of light complexion. He sullenly refused to talk. Two Mexicans were arrested and taken off the train. One of them is alleged to be the Mexican who opened the door. He identified the big Mexican as the one guilty of the murder. The other is said to have been implicated in an altercation which took place prior to the tragedy between the big Mexican and two others of his race.

Although a large crowd gathered and feeling ran high, there was no attempt of mob violence and the three Mexicans were carried by the officers to Georgetown and lodged in the county jail.

Both Wallace and Fisher were brought here following the dressing of their wounds at Granger. Fisher was taken to his home and Wallace was carried to the home of Dr. T. B. Benson.

It is understood that they are friends of long standing and upon arrival at Granger, Mr. Wallace sent word to Dr. Benson of his injury.

Mr. Wallace stated last night that the Mexican boarded the train somewhere north of Waco yesterday afternoon. He says that the Mexican had had words with the two other Mexicans before the tragedy occurred but that none of those injured had paid any attention to it. He was engaged with Wofford in friendly conversation when the Mexican appeared in the aisle. He was apparently very mad about something but was talking in Spanish and he did not know what he said. The Mexican later began cursing in English during his fight with him.

TRIO LYNCHED BY CALIFORNIA MOB

MEN ACCUSED OF MURDER AND ATTACKS ON WOMEN ARE STRUNG UP.

Santa Rosa, Cal., Dec. 10.—Old Testament vengeance, "a life for a life," was exacted of George Boyd, Terence Pitts and Charles Valento by a mob here today, when 50 to 100 men, armed and masked in black, entered the Sonoma county jail at 12:30 a. m., overpowered Sheriff John Boyes and his deputies, took the three men to a cemetery and hanged them.

Had the three lived they would have faced the courts before noon today on the charge of murdering Sheriff John A. Petray and Detectives Miles M. Jackson and Lester H. Dorman of the San Francisco force, who were shot down by Boyd, when they attempted to arrest the trio on Sunday as members of a San Francisco gang which is charged with infamous attacks upon a score or more of young women in a Howard street house.

There was no confusion in the mob. All had been pre-arranged, even to providing acetylene torches with which to burn the locks of the cell door if need be.

Fifteen or more automobiles, their license plates removed, advanced on the county jail shortly after midnight. The occupants lighted after lining up their machines in column two abreast.

A cordon of guards was thrown around the jail. Persons, a very few, who came near, were warned away. A dozen masked men approached the jail. Inside Sheriff Boyes, four deputies and two visitors were covered with pistols. Keys to the cells were taken from the officers and while the sheriff and his aides were kept under guard others of the mob took out the three men, who were placed in a machine and hurried toward a cemetery at the edge of the city.

The nooses were slipped over the head of the trio and they were pulled up simultaneously.

YULETIDE THORN TREE SAVED

Blooming Glastonbury, Subject of Beautiful Legends of Christmas, Was Doomed to Destruction.

ONE of the most beautiful legends of Christmas is that of the Glastonbury thorn. The thorn tree grew at Glastonbury Abbey, in Somersetshire, and was supposed to have developed from the staff of Joseph of Arimathea. According to the legend, Joseph came to Glastonbury and while he was resting on a hill, afterward known as Weary All hill, he stuck his staff in the earth. The staff immediately grew green and budded, and at Christmas time it blossomed into beautiful flowers.

One chronicler states that during Queen Elizabeth's reign the thorn had a double trunk, but that a somewhat bigoted Puritan, who disliked the tree because to his mind it smacked of popery, started to cut it down, and succeeded in demolishing one of the trunks. A miracle rescued the remaining trunk of the tree by causing a chip of wood to fly up and hit the Puritan in the eye, while at the same time he slipped and cut his leg. Later the tree was grubbed up, but a number of smaller trees raised from slips of the original are said to be owned by persons in the neighborhood.

Christmas Trees by Million

NURSERYMEN grow large quantities of Norway spruce for Christmas uses—rather more in the middle West, where conifers are not common in the woods, than on the eastern and western coasts, where they fringe every hillside. But the tree most commonly used is a short-needle pine found in the woods of Northern Michigan and Wisconsin. Early in September the Indians about the lumber camps of this region are set to work cutting these trees for the market, and by early November a little fleet of vessels makes its way down Lake Michigan, a Christmas tree hauled to the foremast of each one, that by this sign all may know that in their holds is a cargo which might not tempt a Captain Kidd, but is far more precious than many a one for which good ships have been scuttled.

INTEREST IN ROCKDALE OIL FIELD RENEWED BY ACTIVITIES OF C. OF C.

OKLA.-TEXAS PETROLEUM PRO-DUCTS CO. FINISHES FISHING JOB—OTHER ACTIVITIES.

Evidence that advertising the Milam county oil field pays is had in the number of inquiries that are coming in these days from the advertising done by the Rockdale Chamber of Commerce. These inquiries are from all over the United States, some being as far distant as Washington State, and one coming from Canada. With a new executive secretary on the job now we can expect more returns.

E. M. Putnam, who has charge of the drilling operations of the Okla.-Tex. Petroleum Products Co., has succeeded in completing the fishing job on the Cook No. 1, and is now awaiting the arrival of a big rig which will be placed over this well for the purpose of drilling it in and testing out the present showing. If the well proves satisfactory Manager Hales states that a deep test will be started at once and pushed to completion. Mr. Hales is working untiringly for the development of the Rockdale field, and his efforts will undoubtedly be rewarded in the near future, some direct results having already been accomplished.

Cole & Wilson have spudded in on the W. A. Quebedeaux farm, but are at present closed down awaiting the arrival of some parts and just as soon as received drilling will be resumed. Messrs. Cole & Wilson are representatives of the Moon Oil Company of Dallas, and control the lease on a portion of the Quebedeaux farm. Their program calls for several wells, which will be finished and placed on pump as fast as they can be drilled. W. A. Quebedeaux has been instrumental in bringing to Rockdale several different parties who are interesting themselves in the oil field. Mr. Quebedeaux says he would be one of several men in Rockdale to raise a bonus of $10,000 or more to be given to the first well testing five barrels daily for a period of thirty days. The idea is to stimulate drilling.

E. C. Wells, who is connected with the Hogtown Oil & Gas Company, of Gorman, Texas, is in Rockdale this week and in company with his brother, Joe, is making an inspection of their holdings in this field. These gentlemen are mapping out a drilling campaign which will be put in operation in the near future.

Ferguson & Hesse, drilling north of Rockdale near Sharp, are reported down better than 600 feet.—Rockdale Reporter.

LION AT LARGE NEAR SAN ANTONIO

San Antonio, Texas, Dec. 9.—That Leo, the jungle king, who several weeks ago terrorized the residents of Fox avenue, is not a mythical beast of prey, as claimed by the skeptical, is evident today by a report practically confirming his existence.

Sheriff Tobin was advised this morning by a woman residing on the North Loop that a lion had attacked a small boy riding a horse in the loop district. The boy was riding along the loop road, she said, when suddenly he was confronted by the lion. The beast sprang at him and frightened the horse, which ran several miles before it could be stopped.

Deputy Sheriff F. N. Flores and L. Carr were armed with high-powered rifles and dispatched to the loop district by Sheriff Tobin.

Recently the police were informed that David Miller, 8 years old, 237 Fox avenue, was attacked by a lion as she stepped from the house into the yard. Her clothing was partly torn from her in the encounter. The child screamed and when her father came to her assistance the lion had escaped. Her prints led to an alley where the child was attacked to the rear of the house. No dog, even a mastiff, could have made the prints, the father told the police.

Again, on the following night, the presence of a lion was reported in the Fox avenue district. This time the report was made by Mrs. T. E. Simson, who stated positively that she had seen the beast. A searching party was organized, and with the aid of bloodhounds, the lion was sought. Although tracks believed to be those of a lion were discernible leading to the thicket in the neighborhood, the beast was not found.

REPORT OF NATIONAL EGG LAYING CONTEST

College Station, Texas, Dec. 10.—The first month of the Fourth Texas National Egg Laying Contest being conducted at the A. & M. College under the direction of T. J. Conway, poultry husbandman, closed on November 30 with a pen of S. C. White Leghorns owned by J. L. Baits of Decatur, Texas, first with 72 eggs.

The highest hen for the month was a S. C. White Leghorn owned by W. H. Freese of Waco, Texas, with a record of 20 eggs.

Some interesting facts are taken from the records of the contest during the past month by Professor Conway. He reports that the highest pen of five pullets in the contest consumed during the month 24.4 pounds of feed valued at $.688 and produced 72 eggs valued at $3.90, returning a profit of $3.12. The feed cost of a dozen eggs from this pen was 11 1/2 cents, while on the other hand the feed cost for a dozen eggs from one of the lowest pens for the month was $6.675.

The best hen for the month consumed 4.65 pounds of feed valued at 13 cents and laid 20 eggs valued at $1.08, producing a profit of 95 cents and the feed cost for a dozen eggs of 8 cents.

Explaining these facts Professor Conway said: "High or profitable egg production is due to fine breeding of the best birds and the ability of the breeder to select the best of these high bred individuals. All high bred birds are not necessarily high layers."

The average cost of egg production for the entire month of all birds in the contest was 55 cents. The eggs were sold for 65 cents thus returning a profit of 10 cents per dozen.

22,000 BALES COTTON FROM 18,000 ACRES

GROWN IN SOUTH TEXAS FROM PLANTING GOOD SEED.

On the Taft ranch in San Patricio County, 18,000 acres of long staple Bennett cotton ginned out 22,000 bales, according to information given out at San Antonio by H. M. Madison, farm and immigration agent of the San Antonio & Arkansas Pass Railroad. Mr. Madison is making an effort to interest the farmers along the line of the San Antonio & Arkansas Pass Railroad in better seed both of corn and cotton, and to that end has sent the following letter to the bankers in all the towns along the line:

"Joseph Green, superintendent of the Taft ranch, has advised me that they are going to start a cottonseed breeding farm for Bennett cotton. I am advised that their 18,000 acres of cotton ginned over 22,000 bales up to the 28th of September. The Bennett long staple made in most cases over a bale and a half per acre and commanded a premium of about 8c per pound.

"The Mebane Triumph has fully demonstrated itself. A breeding concern has been crossing the Pima cotton (one and seven-eighths inch staple) with the Mebane, and there is a little of that seed available. There is a breeding concern for Kasch cotton in Colorado county, and this is available.

"Success in cotton growing is to be reached through the breeding of the best cotton, just as the success of the live stock man depends on having the best breeds.

"There is a corn breeder in Bee county that has, in the past nine years developed a corn that by weight is 93 per cent corn, and that according to the A. & M. College standards yielded 102 bushels per acre without irrigation."

UNITED STATES TIRE NEWS.

A prominent Boston merchant has made what is believed to be a world's mileage record on a set of tires. On four United States Royal Cords his heavy touring car travelled 39,152 miles of steady, hard driving without a puncture, blow-out or any tire trouble whatever.

He has written a letter to the tire company setting forth the record and asking that his name be withheld. He is a part owner of one of the Hub City's largest department stores.

"Proper inflation and an ordinary amount of attention have made it possible for me to attain this wonderful mileage," he stated. "My chauffeur advised me to buy Royal Cords and told me that with proper treatment they would give satisfactory service. When I followed his suggestion he took an interest in demonstrating to me that his judgment was good, and watched the tires to see that they were not damaged by harmful treatment. When I sold the car a short time ago, the tires had about completed their usefulness but they had covered 39,152 miles."

DO'S AND DONT'S AT THE P. O.

Thoughtfulness on Part of Patrons of Uncle Sam Will Assist Clerks and Carriers.

DONT put off mailing that package until Christmas eve. Don't neglect to tie it properly. It is handled at least five times before it reaches its destination.

Don't forget to write your own return address on all parcel post matter. Don't guess at the postage and give your friends the pleasure of paying "postage due."

Don't plaster Red Cross stamps on the face of packages or letters; take care not to "seal" parcel post packages with them. It raises the rate.

Don't forget that a little thoughtfulness on your part can help to make Christmas happier for Uncle Sam's men, his horses and his automobiles. Do mail early, preferably before December 20th, writing on your packages: "Not to be opened until Christmas."

Do your best to use the post offices in the forenoon, the earlier the better. Do write legibly, both the address to which you are sending the gift and your own return address.

Do be courteous and "Christmassy" to the post office men who serve you. They are handling thousands of pieces of mail matter.

Do be brief at the counter. You keep someone else waiting if you are loaded like an express truck, with packages and foolish questions.

THINGS THE BOYS LONG FOR

Youngsters Prefer Toys or Contrivances to Test Their Muscular Skill or Endurance.

WHAT shall be said of that blundering kindness of home folk that considers giving the boy only presents of such things as he actually needs? It is an outrage upon the spirit of Christmas to present him with new shoes, ties, handkerchiefs—something that he knows he will get anyway—when his sleeping and waking dreams for weeks before have been filled with visions of tops, balls, guns and magic lanterns, says Maud Souder in the Woman's Home Companion. The most beautiful knitted muffer woman's fingers ever constructed cannot compare with a jack-knife with four blades and a cork-screw attachment, when exhibited over the back fence to a neighbor boy on Christmas morning. Very soon after the days of kilt a boy reaches the age when he yearns with his whole soul after any toy or contrivance that will test his muscular skill or endurance. At this age an appropriate present would be a rawhide or rope lariat, such as is used by the Buffalo Bill riders. A pair of hand or arm stilts will be received with equal favor, and in the same category comes a new fishing rod, snow shoes, tennis racket, golf clubs, a good ball, lamp or cyclometer for his wheel, or even a live pet, a new dog, a pair of rabbits or guinea pigs—something that he can pet and train for his own.

Funny Christmas Habit.

There is not a drug store, cigar shop or barroom in the larger cities which has not been made the storage room for Christmas presents bought before the rush sets in. The strange part of it is that every man who utilizes the friendship of his favorite place round the corner thinks he is the only one who thought of the plan. Realizing that the stores will be crowded, many far-sighted heads of families bought their presents a week in advance, and then, fearing the nature of the mysterious package would be discovered at the office or at home, they hit upon the device of making a cache in some resort near home.

ANNUALLY

Something for the cook;
Make, with forty other things
The empty pocketbook.

Plants for Christmas.

Other things being equal, it is better to buy plants near one's home than to travel afar. Do not be tempted, even by cheap offers, to go miles away, for counting car fares, packing, expressage and lost time, the ultimate cost is very likely to be more than if you paid a good deal higher price at home. Of course it may happen that one grower or florist has a large stock of some one thing and can sell at a low rate, but dealers usually have an understanding with one another especially regarding holiday prices, and for weeks before the holiday season they have been balancing stock with each other, so that the better quality plants are of an almost fixed value.

Christmas in Days of Yore.

There are many old and stately ceremonies and many historical events connected with Christmas that are well worth perusing, and that give us glimpses of ye ancient times when our fathers and our fathers' forefathers celebrated and revelled and gave of their abundance to those for whom nothing was prepared.

Our Commercialized Christmas.

Christmas is the decoration day of a commercial age. Then, as on no other day, we face with compassion those who have fallen in our battles for wealth. For a moment we think of the thousands of children who have no share in that easy life we give our children, and must find the season's joy in the charity dinner. Along with the barter to which we have debased our giving within our circle of acquaintances, we play at extending the spirit of the day to those who are the pawns of our industrial game. The Salvation army lass, standing cold and numb on the street corner, collecting funds for Christmas baskets for the poor, reminds us of the wreckage left in the wake of our prosperity. We give a trifle to help the poor temper the bitterness of the year with a couple of hours' good eating.

SAY CLARA SMITH MAY HAVE BEEN KILLED BY BANDITS

CARRIED BIG SUM OF MONEY
SAYS ARDMORE PROSECUTOR SEEKING WOMAN.

Ardmore, Okla., Dec. 15.—The theory that Clara Smith, sought internationally on a charge of killing Jake L. Hamon, Oklahoma politician and oil magnate, was herself slain by bandits while fleeing alone into Mexico, was advanced here Saturday by County Attorney Russell B. Brown.

The Ardmore prosecutor also declared he discounted reports from Texas that the missing woman would voluntarily surrender.

"I don't think she will give herself up," he said. "There is a possibility that she fled into Mexico and was slain by bandits who found her driving her car alone. As she carried a considerable sum of money and the country just across the border is lonely and practically uninhabited, her death in this manner would not be at all improbable. In fact, I consider it a probability."

The prosecutor added that if the Smith woman had gone into Mexico, she had not since returned to Texas.

"The Federal agents along the border have watched for her too carefully for her to have eluded their cordon," he said.

Brown also discredited the El Paso reports of the woman being seen there. He referred to them as "false trails," declaring that friends of Hamon were eager to divert the attention of the public from the woman's actual hiding place.

Commenting on the report that he had evidence proving there were two bullet wounds in Hamon's body, the prosecutor said:

"I have no information to prove this, I have heard the report, but can find no one who will substantiate it."

He also added there was a possibility, in the event the Smith woman is brought to trial, that the "oil king's" body would be exhumed to determine the number of bullet wounds.

"There is a possibility that the body will be exhumed, but it is not likely," he said.

"The burial permit was issued legally and any such move on my part would meet with opposition."

HARDING INVITES BRYAN FOR TALK ON NATION PLAN

Marion, O., Dec. 15.—President-elect Harding has invited William Jennings Bryan, former Secretary of State in President Wilson's cabinet, to confer with him here on Dec. 17 in regard to the plan for an association of nations.

Suggestions for a new American foreign policy, including the formation of an association of Nations, were heard by Harding today from Old George Harvey, who was one of his closest advisers in formulating his campaign policies toward the Versailles league.

Colonel Harvey came to Marion yesterday at the very beginning of Harding's conferences here on the association plan and in addition to holding long conversations on the subject with the President-elect today, it was said he might remain until next week to give his advice as the administration program develops.

A Christmas Stocking

By Bertha Esmond Ridgely

CHRISTMAS and the high cost of living do not make a very harmonious combination," observed Mrs. Ralston, in her quiet, patient way.

"I was just thinking of that, mother," replied her married daughter, Eunice Marsh, who sat with her work basket in her lap, her needle threaded with mending yarn, and rounding one of her husband's stockings at the heel. "There! that is done, and I hope it will pass muster as half respectable pinned up to Aunt Mary's mantel."

Mrs. Ralston sighed, and Eunice did not act any too cheerful. They were lovable, generous souls, and until the past year or two had never known what it was to skimp and watch the corners closely. The mother picked up the stocking Eunice had placed on the table.

"Come to think of it, Eunice," she said, "we can do better than that. Just run up to the storeroom. Here is the key. You'll find father's clothes and things as they were when he died."

The last years of John Ralston's life had been full of anxiety and struggle. There was a mortgage on the old homestead, and at one time it seemed a foreclosure could not be avoided. Then in some way he secured the money to pay it off, and fortunately it was clear of encumbrance when he died. That was just a month after Eunice married Randal Marsh.

Her heart warmed as she thought of the loyal, whole-souled man who had come into her life at a critical time. It had been generally supposed that Randal had some little means, for he was industrious and thrifty, but when Mr. Ralston died Randal stepped into his place, practical, hard working and self-sacrificing.

The tears fell as Eunice reached the storeroom, and lifted the top of the fancy box she had herself covered, in which her father had been accustomed to store his extra clothing. Randal himself had made the receptacle, and together they had given it to Mr. Ralston on his last birthday. Eunice removed some articles of apparel tenderly and with care, placed them on a chair, and discovered some handkerchiefs and three pairs of stockings rolled up neatly. She took the top pair, undid it and with satisfaction noted as it unrolled that it was new and whole.

"Why, what can this be?" she uttered, as an envelope fell from the released folds. Her wonderment increased as she picked it up and found it unsealed and inside a written page and a peculiar looking key. Then with staring eyes, breathless, stirred to the depths of her soul, she read:

"After I am gone see that this letter and key are given to Randal Marsh. It has been a secret he made me promise never to divulge, that he gave me money to pay off the mortgage. Poor, noble hearted fellow! he had saved the $2,000 to build a little home, and gave it freely to benefit us all. Month by month I have saved what I could, and have placed the money in a safety deposit box in the City bank, where there is nearly the amount he gave me."

Eunice with difficulty suppressed a great cry of joy. She could scarcely refrain from rushing downstairs and revealing her marvelous discovery to her mother. As she reflected how much this generous donation would mean to them all, in a transport of happy tears she sobbed forth her love for the worthy helpmate who had so well fulfilled his duty to herself and her family.

Eunice was alive with half-subdued excitement all that evening. She waited when they had reached Aunt Mary's until her mother and the others had placed their little gifts in the stocking bearing a card with Randal's name. All alone, she kissed the precious envelope and slipped it into the stocking.

"A necktie, gloves and a pen knife. That from aunty. Something always useful. A letter, no! a card of greeting, no! Why, what does this mean?" spoke Randal Marsh, and read it as they all gathered about the fire place, and then he knew. Unselfish man that he was, he actually blushed like a culprit detected at the revelation of a sleeping secret of years.

"It means that I have the dearest, most noble husband in the world," cried Eunice, her arms about him, her lips raining kisses. "Oh, my brave one! my true one! And who in the world today deserves the blessings of Christmas more than you?"

500 BALES POOLED COTTON ON OCEAN BOUND TO BREMEN

The first shipment of the pooled cotton of the members of the Farm Bureau of Bell county is on shipboard and sailing eastward toward the German port of Bremen and the owners of the cotton and the promoters of the cotton pool are possessing their souls with what patience they can until the returns from the sale of the cotton are received in Temple.

The first shipment made from the Farm Bureau yard consisted of 500 bales and it is expected that a like shipment will follow early in this week. Through arrangements made with a brokerage concern, whose standing and reliability have been shown to the satisfaction of the local bankers, this cotton will be sold and the returns made to Manager Frank Doering of the Farm Bureau yard. There is big demand for low grade cotton which comprises most of the shipment to Germany and it is rumored that the prospect of getting a price in excess of the figures that would be obtained in the local market is excellent. In fact it is understood that there will be a wide margin between the two in favor of the German price and that the cotton grower will receive satisfactory returns for his staple and his toil.

The popularity of the Farm Bureau yard is increasing and now that it has been shown that those who have pooled will get action on their cotton a boom in the receipts at the yard is expected. It will be from sixty to ninety days before returns will come back to Temple from the Bremen consignment.—Temple Mirror.

HOT WATER FOR SICK HEADACHES

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headaches are caused by auto-intoxication—which means self-poisoning. Liver and bowels poisons called toxins, sucked into the blood excite the heart which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head, producing violent, throbbing pain and distress, called headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish and miserable, your meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to acetanilid, aspirin or the bromides, which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drank before breakfast will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache, but will cleanse, purify and freshen the alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar.

If you aren't feeling your best, if tongue is coated or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour, acid stomach, begin the phosphated hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

One Christmas Eve

By Alvah Jordan Garth

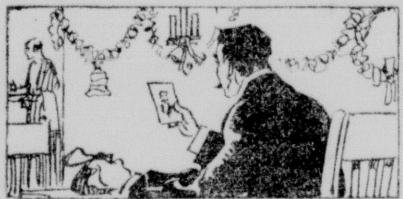

(© 1929, Western Newspaper Union.)

THE girl with sad memories sat gazing mournfully out upon the brightly illuminated street, abstractedly taking in the Christmas trooping crowds. The man, sombre as well, who had just stepped upon the front platform of the car remained there, crisp and biting as was the yuletide air. There came the call of an intersection and Ada Wilton at the last moment caught the name and hurried to the rear. As she alighted Randall Petrie started, made a movement as if to hasten after her, but the door clanged close and he saw the figure of the only woman he had ever loved swallowed up in the fast receding waves of alternate light and darkness.

"Of what avail—she would scarcely welcome me," he spoke under his breath. "We are parted by her will—she must have meant it to be final."

He entered the car and sat down in the seat the girl had just vacated.

It was an old story to his weary soul, the one love romance of his life. He had met Ada Wilton at her mother's home in the quiet little village of Brocton, had all but confessed his love. A decisive understanding to his proposal was stayed by an interruption. The next morning Petrie was suddenly summoned by a relative in another town. He had expected to be gone only a few days but his sojourn ran into months. Twice he wrote Ada. There came no reply. A third letter was returned to him marked, "Refused." He had later made inquiries regarding her to learn that she and her mother had removed to the city, and he gave her up as lost to him. As the car stopped for new passengers Petrie moved to make room for one of them. He jostled something in the seat. A small hand bag. His quick senses discerned its ownership. He left the car at the first stop. Like some miser greedy of a treasure inestimable Randall Petrie hurried into a public restaurant and sought its remotest corner. He held something that had belonged to Ada! A fitting excuse was given to return it to her. Its contents would surely give some clue to her place of work, her residence. He opened the hand bag. A purse showed the edge of a card in a little pocket. Petrie drew it out.

"She remembered—she has kept that all this time!" he exclaimed. "Then—"

Words failed him. His heart beat mightily. He had brought to light a photograph of himself he had once given to Ada. He fingered over several little packages and Christmas cards, then an envelope, unstamped and unsealed, addressed to "Miss Laura Deane, Brocton." Instantly Petrie recalled a close friend of Ada. It was no prying instinct that caused him to withdraw the enclosure. One line perused, his dazzled eyes refused to leave the written pages.

"Your discovery that it was not Randall Petrie, but a relative of his name who led such a wild, evil life, the report of which caused me to strive to forget, comes too late to bridge the mistaken past, but, oh! Laura! how can I ever repair the injustice done?"

Some way, some way, he must know of my fateful error, for I love him more than ever, because of the cruel wrong I have done him."

"I had hoped to be able to save up enough to make mamma a present of a victrola this Christmas," ran one paragraph, "but I find I must wait until her birthday. You know how she loves the old songs."

Randall Petrie pressed his lips to the signature, to him the dearest name on earth, memorized the address written below it and left the restaurant in a glow of hopeful purpose and faith.

"Two twenty-three Rossiter street"—he covered the distance as if borne on wings. A new meaning to Christmas Eve had come to him.

"I have brought a lost hand bag," he spoke as his summons at the door of the house he sought was opened. And then he paused. There stood before him Ada. She wavered, overcome by the unexpected encounter. Impulsively his hand steadied her. She did not draw from its protecting touch.

In a torrent of words he could not control, without evasion or attempted apology, Randall Petrie told of the contents in the handbag that had led him back to her. Was he welcome? With a low, tender cry like to that of a tired child finding a sure haven of rest at last, Ada's head sank to his shoulder.

"And the surprise for mother!" whispered Randall ardently. "It shall be here the first thing Christmas morning, all the sweet old songs she loves, and oh, my treasure, may I include the Wedding March?"

KING COTTON IS DETHRONED SAYS LYDAY

FARMERS DESERT FULL CROP PLAN FOR DIVERSIFICATION CLAIMS MARKET HEAD.

In reply to a letter from the "Marshall Morning News," asking him to advise East Texas farmers as to what crops should be planted in lieu of cotton, D. E. Lyday, vice-president, American Cotton Association, cotton division, Texas Farm Bureau Federation, today gave out the following communication:

King Cotton is dethroned. Millions of former loyal subjects have revolted and next year will strive to make a living without him—a thing they have failed to do this season with his aid.

In casting about for crops to take his place, the farmer will be largely governed by the strength of his convictions as to the necessity for a different system of farming.

Some will regard this terrible agriculture crisis as temporary, and in East Texas these will no doubt plant a few more acres in peanuts, melons, sweet potatoes, truck and ribbon cane; while this will be a great improvement, these crops will be regarded merely as a temporary makeshift to meet an emergency, and at the first moment the cotton situation begins to look a little better, these devoted slaves will cast aside all the lessons learned from the present and former bitter experiences, and drift back to the cultivation of cotton only.

On the other hand, the real farmer who uses reason and profits by experience, will pursue a different course.

In addition to the crops above named he will lay out a program of real diversified farming. He will lay the foundation for a stock of purebred hogs, he will provide for a few milk cows, he will sow down some of his land in permanent pastures for hogs and cattle.

He will secure a couple of good brood mares and begin to raise a good colt or two every year. By proper management this can be done without serious or continued interference with field cultivation. He will build hog and cattle proof fences and by rotation of pastures and grazing crops, his hogs and cattle will be brought to maturity with very little grain and at very little cost. He will put up poultry yards and houses and vastly increase his production of chickens, turkeys and other fowls. He will plant a fair sized crop of berries and a family orchard and he will cultivate and care for them after he has them.

Down in the creek bottom he will plant a few acres of paper shell pecans. He will dam the spring branch and stock the lake with his own fish. Perhaps he will have a few sheep and goats in the wood pasture, with fresh mutton on his table whenever he wants it.

He will join the Farmer's Union, the Farm Bureau and the American Cotton Association and will be able to pay his dues without begging a loan from his banker or his merchant. He will read the best books and papers and become a leader in his community, instead of a "Pore Struggling Cotton Farmer." The first book he ought to buy should be "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow." From it he will get a bird's eye view of what every American farm ought to be. He will soon learn that it is practicable, sensible and easy to farm in this way, and easier in East Texas than perhaps any other place in the world.

After he has adopted this plan of farming, he will look back over the dark, bitter years of his slavery to King Cotton and wonder why the good Lord ever permitted a creature endowed with brains, to act the "Tarnation Fool" in the way we cotton farmers have been doing.

FOOTBALL GAME

Last Friday afternoon the Seniors and Sophomores football teams met on the gridiron for one of the hottest battles ever fought on the home field. It was a well matched game and was full of spirit. The Sophomores had been in training for quite a while and were well fitted. On the other hand the Seniors who were confident of victory had trained only a short time. Their whole confidence was placed in their weight. Although the Sophomores were little they made up in quickness what they lacked in the weight. The game was hard fought and in the last ten minutes of the last quarter the Seniors made a touchdown and Noel Brown kicked a very pretty goal.

The game started at exactly 3:43:39%. The Sophomores kicked off to the Seniors. Noel Brown caught the ball and gained about 10 yards from where he caught it. During the next four downs the Seniors continually lost ground until they were at last forced to punt. When the Sophs got the ball they gained the first three downs but the ball was fumbled and the Seniors got the ball. They punted the first time and when the Sophs got the ball they gained until the last down when they lost the ball and the Seniors gained many yards. The Sophs were penalized ten but the Seniors could gain no more and the ball was the Sophs. The plucky Sophs quarterback then made the first forward pass of the game to Stevens and he caught it and gained several yards.

Second quarter.—At the first of the quarter the Sophs were near the goal of the Seniors but were forced back by the superior weight of the Seniors. This quarter was the scene of much spectacular tackling on the part of the Sophs. Every time that the ball went from the center to the backfield the Sophs broke through and in the majority of the times they downed their man in his tracks and the goal of the Sophs was never in danger. Especially was the tackling of Joynees shown here. The aggressiveness of Stevens was also shown in this quarter.

Third quarter.—At the beginning of this quarter the Seniors kicked off to the Sophs and the Soph player was tackled very near to where he caught the ball. Stevens then punted and a better punt could not have been made for it soared majestically through the air far into the territory of the Seniors. When the Seniors were near their goal they attempted a field goal but failed and the Sophs got the ball and Self, the all-star full back for the Sophs, made one of his famous end runs netting some 25 yards for his side. But they could gain no more and they were forced to punt and Stevens showed up in his usual style. Then the Seniors made a forward pass which was caught by Brown, the all-star end, and this gained the Seniors over half of the field. This made them within 10 yards of their goal but their halfback fumbled the ball and the Sophs got it and punted. The rest of this quarter was a battle in the middle of the field with neither side gaining much of anything.

Last quarter.—At the beginning of this quarter the Seniors were within 20 yards of their goal and despite the several fumbles that were made they held their gain. Many times the Sophs got the ball but the superior weight of the Seniors always held them back. Then came line backs that made the Seniors to be feared as football players. Tracy started and then Matula kept it up until they had gained their ten yards. Then Willis made an end run and then Matula and Tracy started their line on, king again and made a touchdown. Brown kicked a pretty goal and this won for the Seniors the game as no other scores were made. The Sophs fought as they never fought before and though they were within 15 yards of their goal they could not get over. It was during this quarter that the tackling of Watson and McCall was effective and the end runs of Matula and Tracy.

The players.—Stevens of the Sophs was an all-star player and his end runs are not to be forgotten. Many times during the game he was knocked out but he refused to quit. The Sophs owe to him their training and good practice.

Willis, of the Sophs, was also a stellar player and the long runs which he made will never be forgotten. Also his aggressiveness was a feature of the game. When his brother on the Senior side would run with the ball, it was he who would usually down him.

Mayfield, of the Sophs, was a good center and his snappiness was a feature of the game. The line backs were the plays that made him famous.

Self, the all-star fullback for the Sophs, won the admiration of his fellow players. He was the fastest runner on the field and the Sophs were quick to take advantage of this fact by using him for long runs. He was kneed in the third quarter and was unable to play the remainder of that quarter but he was back at the beginning of the last quarter.

McGregor, of the Sophs, was the pluckiest man on the field. His headwork did much to win the applause of the Sophomore supporters. He was never afraid to tackle a man and if no one else would take the ball he would always take it and make a good gain. At one time he called for a line buck and Stevens was wondering who was going to take it, McGregor took the ball and won the allotted ten yards. The rosters for the Sophs many times yelled for "Runt." Although he was the smallest man on the field he conducted himself like one of the biggest ones.

Joynees and Watson, the all-star ends of the Sophs, bore themselves well during the game and never did they fail to break through the line.

McCall and Green, of the Sophs, excited the admiration of their fellow players and never did they fail to do their part. Green was substituted for Self in the third quarter and he played that part with his usual ability.

Baskin and Thompson of the Sophs also were stellar players and they always did their duty by dumping the man on the other side. "Monday" was seen at all times during a play because of his size.

Matula of the Seniors was the all-star halfback and never did he fail to do his duty. His line backs will long be remembered. The score that the Seniors made was largely due to the fact of his weight and aggressiveness.

Tracy of the Seniors was the all-star fullback and his long runs will always inspire the Seniors to go on ward. He was heavy and large and the big gains made by the Seniors were due largely to this fact. He went through the lines like a mighty demon, and there was no stopping to his terrific onslaughts.

Willis, the plucky little quarterback of the Seniors, was a star in the game and he will not be forgotten in the list of Senior honors.

Flinn, the halfback for the Seniors, was a star on the field on account of his long punts. He never failed to make a long lean punt when called on to do so.

Brown and Epperson, the ends for the Seniors, are to be remembered for their swift running. Especially Brown will be remembered for his goal kicks.

Baskin, the center for the Seniors, was instrumental in winning the game. His snappy delivery was a feature and the backfield are grateful for this.

Dusek, one of the Senior players, was always seen in spectacular plays. Every time a man would cross the line he would be one of the first ones to down him.

The line-up:

Sophs	Position	Seniors
Mayfield	Center	A. Baskin
G. Baskin	Left Guard	Pardo
Thompson	Right Guard	Barmore
Green	Right Tackle	Hefley
McCall	Left Tackle	Howell
Watson	Right End	Brown
McGregor	Quarterback	W. Willis
H. Willis	Right Halfback	Flinn
Stevens	Left Halfback	Matula
Self	Fullback	Tracy

Subs—Casey Baggett
Clark Blackstone
Massengale Keith
Cox Lyons
Oliver Hearrel

Quarters:—10 minutes.
Timekeepers:—Young and Easterwood.
Referee:—Denson.
Waterboy:—Hearrel.
Linesmen:—Mayfield and Flinn.
Time of game:—One hour, thirty minutes, twenty-two and one-half seconds.

At the north end of the field there was a corn cob fight between some boys on the ground and some boys on the hill board. No one was hurt and during one of the rest periods it drew the attention of both the players and spectators.

When self, the fullback for the Sophs, made an end run a little girl was in his way, he knocked her over but no injury resulted.

While the game was going on, some boys were playing leap-frog on the south end of the field and the referee had to make them "beat it."

Hal Lyons and Jack Hearrel were the yell leaders for the Sophs and they did all that was in their power to help the Sophs win. Jack says he would rather play football than direct yells.

CAM-HI TAKES LEAD.

In the Dallas News of last week there appeared a statement about the Dallas schools. It stated that they had taken up the self government form.

Mr. Kidd said there was only one difference between Cam-Hi and the Dallas schools and that was that Cam-Hi had beaten the Dallas schools to the self government plan. The school for the past week has been changed wonderfully for the good. Mr. Kidd says that if the school keeps up at the rate that it is going it will be the best school in the United States. The students of Cam-Hi take great pride in the fact that they are improving so much.

BETTER LESSONS.

Since the students were given the opportunity to govern themselves they have had better lessons.

Mr. Kidd is very proud of this fact and he hopes that they will do better as the days roll on. Also the teachers are very proud of this fact and they want it to continue.

The main reasons why the students have so much better lessons is because they do not idle away the time so much. They know what to do with their time and they want to use it to the best of their advantage.

INDOOR BASEBALL

During last week much interest has been taken in the indoor baseball games that are going on. Every time that recess comes the boys are anxious to get hold of the bat and swing it at the ball and hit it. Nothing gives them more enjoyment than to do this.

CRAWFISH AND FISH FOOTBALL

Not to be outdone by the Seniors and the Sophs, the Fish and the seventh grade have organized a football team and they expect to play in the very near future. The line-up:

Crawfish	Position	Fish
Triggs	Left End	Harvey
Braden	Right End	Harden
Williams	Left Tackle	E. Thompson
Moody	Right Tackle	Jenness
Chaffee	Left Guard	Flinn
Matula	Right Guard	Howard
Wiley	Quarter	Vest
Green	Left Half	K. Wiley
Young	Right Half	Head
Hefley	Full	Ed Thompson

Subs—Morgan Ford Sapp McCowan
Jeter, Childress.

CHAPEL EXERCISES.

Last Thursday morning the Girl's

Club had charge of the chapel exercises and they rendered a program that was very much enjoyed and everyone expressed their wish that more like that would happen. It was a small play in five acts and was entitled "Three Little Pigs." It was the story of three girls who would not join the Girl's Club and therefore missed their advantages. They were later shown the advantages and they forthwith and immediately became members of the club. It was delightful and at the same time was recruiting for new members.

As this is the Christmas edition of The Herald the school wishes to state that they have plenty of Christmas spirit and that they are going to put it in the right place by organizing an empty stocking brigade.

A FEW STATEMENTS CONCERNING CAMERON HIGH SCHOOL, 1920-21

It might be of interest to the community for the following facts to be given. The community pays the tax to run the schools, the pupils are the children of the community, therefore, I am sure the people will be interested in knowing what the school is doing and how their money is spent.

The board has provided well for the teaching force of the entire school. At present the school is crowded on account of lack of room. This will soon be remedied. The grades for last quarter averaged the best of any quarter for the last two years, yet some improvement can be made. We hope to have fewer D's in the future. The school is not bothered very much with tardies, yet a few parents should be a little more watchful and the school a little more careful in connection with this matter. The tardies are a little over 1% attendance.

The increase in the grades within the last two years has been 22% enrollment, the high school has increased 44%. It is interesting to compare the seniors for the present term with the same class as sophomores. The Seniors are now 110% of their sophomore class. This class is 77% of the present freshman class. The boys constitute 53% of the present class of seniors. These figures show that the school is not out of order here. Further, the boys are continuing through school.

A statement as to the expense of the school is not out of order here. Amount of money spent up to December 9:

Salaries for white school	$10,199.88
Salaries for negro school	729.09
Fuel	479.35
Spent on State Books	5.00
Spent on Library and Equip.	720.68
Miscellaneous	895.27

Total spent from Sept. to December 9 $17,029.11

Expenses Yet to Meet $24,576.22

Miscellaneous—Estimated 2,000.00

Total amount for year $39,605.39

There are a little over 1,500 pupils on the roll, including transfers. This makes the average cost per pupil about $30.60 per year to be paid by State and City. The average cost per pupil in the state is a little over $31.00 per year. This is far below the average cost in the United States.

The Domestic Economy Department and the Commercial Department are soon to be added to your school. The expense for maintaining these departments should be very small when compared with the value to the pupils and to the community.

Visit our school, study the methods used, and help to make the school the best your money can buy.

Very sincerely,
L.H. KIDD

"Black-Draught is, in my opinion, the best liver medicine on the market," states Mrs. R. H. White, of Keota, Okla. She continues: "I had a pain in my chest after eating—tight, uncomfortable feeling—and this was very disagreeable and brought on headache. I was constipated and knew it was indigestion and inactive liver. I began the use of Black-Draught, night and morning, and it sure is splendid and certainly gives relief."

A Yuletide Blessing

By Ralph Hamilton

(©, 1920, Western Newspaper Union.)

CHRISTMAS CHEER was in the air everywhere. The sleigh bells had a special tone for Ned Graham as he sped over the glittering snow homeward bound, the melodious clang of the skates along the river course made perfect music to his enraptured ear, the stars appeared to shine with a new lustre—and all for him, he almost fancied, on this the first Christmas eve he could remember where peace on earth, good will to men had a real vitalizing meaning, and himself a part of it all!

Left an orphan at eight, for five years he had been the slave of a miserly old being. Then Victor Wade, a distant relative, and his wife Alice had taken Ned to their humble little home. "You have no children of your own and a blessing will come to you for caring for this poor outcast," the village clergyman had told them, and indeed his words had come true. He nestled down into their hearts and gave them an obedience and love.

And Ned as well shared the shadow that hovered over their lives. Alice was the only daughter of the richest man in Brompton. She had married Wade against the wishes of Martin Brill, who had from that hour shut both of them out of his life.

"He can't treat my dear, good mother that way!" declared Ned sturdily to a chum. "Some day I'm going to let him know how mean he is to the best two people who ever lived."

Mr. and Mrs. Wade had gone to a Christmas entertainment and Ned was speeding homeward full of holiday plans.

Dashing through the gateway Ned came to a sudden halt. A light showed in the parlor, the porch window of the room was open, and plainly visible inside was a rough-appearing man tossing over the packages grouped under the little tree.

"It's a burglar!" gasped the startled Ned, "and stealing our Christmas presents! Hey, you! get out of there or I'll shoot you full of bullets!" and

A Rough Appearing Man Tossing Over the Packages.

Ned ran to the window, drew a revolver from his pocket and presented it in menacing view.

The intruder turned, dashed from the room into the hall and disappeared. Valiantly triumphant, Ned went back to the parlor, for the first moment noticing a small satchel lying open on a chair. It somewhat thrilled him to observe strange-looking articles of steel within.

"Burglars' tools!" whispered Ned, fairly awed. "And here's a great big wallet stuffed full of papers and bank notes, and right across it is stamped the name of 'Martin Brill' in gilt letters. Say! This fellow must have robbed the old man before he came here."

Half an hour later Ned stood in the garden of the Brill home. Gazing into the one lighted room of the place he saw Brill tied to a chair and striving to dislodge a gag in his mouth. He was frantic; he tore his hair; incoherently he babbled forth the visit of a night marauder as Ned released him. "You're the Wade boy, aren't you?" he quavered. "You've done me a good turn. Do another. Call the police."

"Say," interposed Ned, "if you'll come with me I'll see that you get your wallet back."

"What—why—come with you—where?"

"To your daughter's home. A funny thing has happened, and if you want your wallet back you've got to go with me there."

Half distracted, fully mystified, Martin Brill consented to the strange proposal. Arrived, Ned told his story, produced the wallet and restored it to its owner.

"Oh! had, you've won my eternal gratitude!" cried the delighted old man, but paused abruptly, his eyes fixed upon a decorated framed portrait of himself.

"Mr. Wade got the holly for that," said Ned, "and your daughter trimmed it. They do that every year."

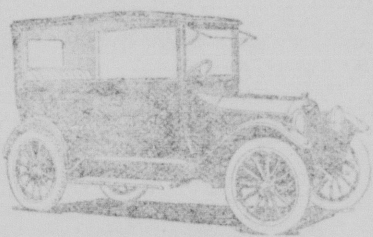

Martin Brill sat staring at the portrait, a dim mist crossing his eyes. Ned stole quietly from the room as he heard footsteps on the front porch.

"Sh-h!" he whispered, reaching it. "Mother, you've got a visitor."

"Why, who is it?" asked Alice surprisedly.

"Santa Claus, I'm thinking," was the prompt response—and it was.

MEXICAN WHO CUT 3, FACES 3 CHARGES

Georgetown, Texas, Dec. 15.—A Mexican named "Sisague," who ran amuck in a Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway passenger coach enar Granger Saturday and killed W. O. Wofford of Austin and seriously wounded Will Wallace and Will Fisher, today was formally charged with murder on one count and with assault to murder on two counts.

Another Mexican, who is alleged to have assisted Sisague to escape from the train, was charged with murder after the fact. The complaint gives his name as "Surina." Physicians said Sisague is not of unsound mind. Both Mexicans are in jail here.

Will Wallace of Eufaula, Okla., and Will Fisher of Bartlett, Texas, are reported to be in a serious condition in a hospital at Bartlett. Both suffered knife wounds about the throat and face. The body of W. O. Wofford of Austin, Texas, whose throat was cut by the Mexican, has been shipped to Austin for burial.

The Mexican without warning began to slash at fellow passengers with a knife while the train was speeding south from Granger. After he had killed Wofford and cut Wallace and Fisher, he forced two fellow countrymen to open the car door and jumped from the moving train. After a chase of several miles he was captured by farmers.

WOULD FORCE ENGLAND TO PERMIT QUIZ

Washington, Dec. 15.—An appeal to the League of Nations to induce the British government to "permit America to know the truth as to conditions in Ireland," was cabled today to Paul Hymans' president of the league, by Representative William E. Mason of Iowa.

Mason protested against the British action in refusing to vize the passports of members of the American commission investigating conditions in Ireland.

"You and your colleagues at Geneva can do much to advance the league's influence with the common people of the world by affirming inviolability of international communication of fact and opinion as the fundamental requisite of international understanding and world peace," Mason declared in his cable to Hymans.

"In the present instance the League of Nations is afforded extraordinary opportunity to prove to Americans its freedom from British domination by inducing the British government to permit the truth to be known to America as to conditions in Ireland. Americans do not accept the issuances from London as the truth of the situation, and until the British government vouchsafes to the people of the world the right of free and untrammelled communication, the American people will, in my opinion continue to consider the world as a vast jail to which the British government holds the keys."

TOY TREE TABLE DECORATION

Miniature Christmas Emblem May Be Surrounded With Presents Tied With Red Ribbon.

DECORATE the table with a Christmas tree, one of the toy ones, and pile around its foot a quantity of presents tied with red ribbons. These should be only what a college man would call "grinds"—perhaps a tiny tin piano for a would-be performer, a lantern for the one the points of whose jokes are difficult to see, a placid paper golf bag for the enthusiastic player, and so on, each with a rhyme or quotation, says Harper's Bazar. If one considers a goose a somewhat undignified bird, ducks may be exchanged for it, either the domestic fowl or the more expensive canvas-back or redhead. Fried celery is very good with duck, the crispest pieces dropped in batter and then cooked in deep fat. But the apple sauce croquettes should not be omitted even with this. For this informal dinner there is a very good and innocuous drink to serve with the heavy course—sweet cider, spiced and sugared to taste, cooked ten minutes and served hot.

A number of friends were present, and a six o'clock dinner was served to the bridal party.

LOCK CASHIER IN VAULT AND ESCAPE WITH $2,000—HIGH- WAYMEN ARE RACKING COUNTRY.

Fort Worth, Tex., Dec. 8.—Sections west of Brazos, Palo Pinto County, are being searched by citizens and officers who are trying to capture three bandits who Tuesday noon robbed the Brazos State Bank of $2,000, according to information reaching here today.

After the robbery the three highwaymen jumped into two Ford cars in which they had ridden to the bank. Warned by telephone message from Brazos, that the bandits were on the road leading to Santo, a party of citizens attempted to head off the cars as they approached that place.

One car, apparently when the driver saw the citizens, turned south from the main road eluding the posse. There were two men in the car. The other car, carrying the third bandit, turned into the business district of Santo.

The robber was soon cornered by the pursuers. However, he leaped from the machine and started across a field on foot with citizens at his heels.

Reports from Santo were that the party there expected to prevent the final escape of the man.

The car which was abandoned at Santo was stolen from Fort Worth. It was owned by Daniel J. Nash, train dispatcher. Its engine number was telegraphed back to Fort Worth. It corresponded to the number which Nash had furnished local police headquarters. An overcoat with a name sewed in it was left in the car by the bandit. It is not positively known that the name in the overcoat is the robber's name.

The three bandits, unmasked, drove up to the Brazos bank at noon. All of the employees had gone to lunch except the assistant cashier, William L. Simmons. One of the robbers stood on watch just outside the bank door. The other two entered with pistols drawn on Simmons. They ordered him to hold up his hands. When he complied with the demand they backed him into the vault, closed the door and locked it.

The three men then left the bank and jumped into their cars. Towns west of Brazos on the road which was taken by the cars were quickly notified. They were asked to try to stop the bandits.

The sheriff of Palo Pinto County with five deputies left Mineral Wells at 1 p. m. Tuesday to join in the search.

Robbery of the Brazos bank and the First State Bank of Polytechnic, near Fort Worth, three weeks ago, were similar. Both banks were approached by the bandits in automobiles, after all except one employ had gone to lunch. In each robbery the lone employee was locked into the bank vault.

COUNTY ATTORNEY FINDS FLAWS IN FEE SYSTEM BILL

RETIRING ATTORNEY BASKIN CITES CENSUS DATE IN STATUTE AND ATTORNEY GENERAL GIVES RULING.

The recently enacted law governing the minimum fees for county officials is attacked in an opinion given the Attorney General of Texas by retiring county and district attorney, Roy Baskin, who has pointed out that the statute when enacted prescribed that the fee system based on population in the counties shall be enforced on the basis of the 1910 census.

The minimum fees for counties of 25,000 and less than 37,000 population as fixed by law should not govern in Milam county, in the opinion of Mr. Baskin, as the county has attained a greater population and is entitled to a greater minimum on fees for the county officials.

The attorney general has ruled that the statute prescribes the fees on the 1910 census basis and therefore must govern. This, however, is unfair to counties like Milam where a greater population is attained.

In enacting the law the legislature is at fault for prescribing the 1910 census for unless the law is changed to conform to current figures all fees will be based on 1910 figures no matter what the population may be in the counties. In the opinion of Mr. Baskin the statute should prescribe the "last federal census."

In justice to the county officials in counties where the population has increased to over 37,000 as in the case of Milam county the law should be changed.

Following is a press dispatch from Austin covering the opinion of the Attorney General:

Austin, Dec. 8.—In the opinion of the county attorney of Milam County, it is held by the Attorney General's Department that the minimum fees for county officials in counties of less than 37,000, according to the census of 1910, are to be computed under the law prescribing fees for such officials in counties of 25,000 and less than 37,000. The fact that Milam County and other counties that may be similarly situated may have attained a population of 37,000 and over, according to the Federal census of 1920, cannot be taken into consideration, according to this opinion which was written by Assistant Attorney General W. W. Caves. The last word in the law specifically states that such fees shall be based on the census of 1910 and not by the "last Federal census."

MUST REDUCE COTTON ACREAGE HALF DECISION OF CONFERENCE

RUFUS HUNT OF BELMENA IS CRUSHED IN FATAL ACCI- DENT SUNDAY AFTER- NOON.

Rufus Hunt, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Hunt of Belmena, died at six o'clock Monday morning from injuries sustained on Sunday, November 5th, when the horse he was riding fell, crushing his head and body.

At the time of the accident the boy was engaged in driving cattle across Belmena creek, a small stream in that neighborhood. The approach to the river bed from the Hunt home where the fatal accident occurred is a treacherous path and it was while the rider was descending this sharp incline that the horse stumbled and fell rolling over and pinning the boy to the ground, crushing his skull and chest.

He never regained consciousness after being removed to the home where immediate medical aid was summoned.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Hunt and sister, Lelia Hunt.

Rufus Hunt was an attractive and industrious boy and was loved and esteemed by all who knew him.

The body was buried in the Walker's Creek cemetery Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the funeral services being held at 3:30 o'clock p. m., in the Walker's Creek Baptist church.

The Herald extends its sympathy to the bereaved family.

SAYS HIS BROTHER LIVED HERE 24 YEARS AGO; NOW TRYING TO LOCATE HIM

The Herald is in receipt of a communication from J. H. Remy of Stecker, Oklahoma, dated December 6, 1920, in which he asks permission to inquire through this paper concerning the whereabouts of his brother, Lafayette Ramey, who he claims resided in Cameron from 1896 to 1898.

Mr. Remy signs his name different from that given as the name of his brother, but it is perhaps possible that some of the older residents of Cameron will remember the name he gives as that of his brother, and can assist him in locating the missing man.

Lost men sometimes are found to possess great riches of which they were unacquainted so in this case it may be that the missing man is wanted not only because of his relatives desire to see him but because of rights to property.

Following is the letter:

Stecker, Okla., Dec. 6, 1920.
Cameron Herald, Cameron, Texas.
Gentlemen: Will you please allow me space in your most worthy paper to make inquiry of the whereabouts of Lafayette Ramey, who lived in or near Cameron in 1896 to 1898, he is my brother.

Anyone knowing of him will confer a favor on me to notify me of his address.
Respectfully,
J. H. REMY.

Already endowed with all the bounteous gifts of fertile soil, temperate climate and running streams and with many minerals bedded beneath its surface, Milam county is just now coming into its own as an oil field.

A number of years ago the first wells were drilled in Milam county. Without exception these wells found the oil. Oil at that time was demanding but a small price and litigation later arose that made development of these wells impossible. Since that time oil has advanced in price and great development has already started in the Tracy-Rockdale field.

The shallow oil sand is found from 300 to 450 feet; oil is flowing over the top of casing in many instances; fifty-one wells have been drilled by different companies. All wells were standing full of oil and not being pumped on account of practically all leases are in litigation, which has since been settled.

The Tracy-Rockdale oil field is approximately seventeen miles from the well known Thrall field that came in as one of the biggest producing shallow pools yet found in Texas. The Murphy No. 1, the Thrall field, came in at 950 to 1,000 feet, making approximately 10,000 barrels per day, and several other wells in the same vicinity made in the neighborhood of 4,000 to 5,000 barrels per day, according to the statements made by Mr. Vance, the founder of the Thrall field.

The above wells were drilled in the Thrall field five years ago and will go down in history as being the "Big Producer" for shallow field, high grade oil. These wells are pumping and it is claimed by men in charge of leases that the wells are increasing in production and has been for the last three years, there being a loading rack, also a refinery running at Thrall getting the supply of oil from this field. The Thrall field is just over the Milam county line, and the Rockdale-Tracy field is about seven miles from Rockdale.

There are a large number of operating companies in the Tracy shallow field. Among these are the Dixie-Winner Drilling Company, of Temple, Texas, headed by E. K. Williams, publisher of the Temple Telegram, the Golden Eagle Oil Company of Fort Worth of which Dr. Cook of North pole fame, is president, the Moon Valley Oil Company of Dallas, which has a program that calls for forty shallow wells and the Oklahoma-Texas Petroleum Products Company. Each of these companies is either putting down a number of wells or preparing

Memphis, Tenn. Dec. 8.—A 50 per cent cut in cotton production in 1921 and reduction in the acreage planted in cotton to one-third that of the total area in cultivation, was agreed upon at the conference here today of southern bankers, merchants and farmers, and to make the plan effective machinery was set in motion to restrict wherever necessary, credits to individual farmers, merchants, factors or banks unwilling to agree to the acreage reduction plans.

The plans, embodied in the report of the acreage reduction committee, was adopted by a practically unanimous vote of the conference late today. It includes the formation of an organization in every township in the cotton states to secure the support of the growers, and their adherence to pledges of reduction.

Organization work pledged by the bankers present will begin immediately and under the provisions of the plan, will be practically complete by January 15 next.

The resolutions adopted by the conference call on the banker and credit merchants in the cotton states "to use their utmost endeavor to bring about the enforcement of a cotton acreage reduction by refusing to advance any more to anyone interested in farming of any kind who does not plant enough food and feed crops for their own use."

Land owners are asked to share in whatever crops may be raised on his lands on a percentage basis and not require any fixed sum of money or pounds far rent.

In addition there are a large number of independent operators, holding small leases and drilling shallow well after shallow well, thus giving the field steady and consistent development.

Dr. Wallis is operating the new refinery at Tracy. This refinery gets all its oil direct from the producing wells in the Tracy field. Ninety-five per cent of the wells drilled in this field are producers. Some of them flow over the casing. It is claimed by expert oil men that this oil comes from an immense pool, that will soon be developed into the big gusher class in Milam county.

Eminent geologists, such as Gould, Darton, Mattison, Hager, Elliott, Dewey, White and McGee and many others, prophesy unlimited possibilities for the Milam county field. This field has been neglected the same as the West Columbia field, which has since proven itself worthy of development by the blowing in of the big Abrams, making 30,000 barrels of oil daily.

The Rockdale Chamber of Commerce is doing great work boosting the shallow field and is attracting oil men and lease buyers from all parts of the country. E. A. Camp, is president of the chamber of commerce.

J. M. Schlitz, vice-president of the company reports that the Builders' Oil & Gas Company of Cameron, Texas, is now drilling at about 550 feet on their well at Sharpe in Milam county. This well is about 12 miles from the Thrall field northeast and about four miles northwest from the Tracy field.

Casing has been set and the well is now drilling in a green rock which the geologists say is the same as the cap rock found above the oil sand in the Thrall field.

The Oklahoma Texas Petroleum Products company has employed E. M. Putnam, one of the old pioneer drillers to complete the fishing job on Hog Back No. 1 and drill the well in.

DIFFERENCES SHOULD RELATE TO POLICIES.

On the morning of November 3 the editor of the Waco Times-Herald had the laugh on many of his close friends and admirers. The chief of the tallow-dippers like a sprig of mint, a little sugar and everything, at intervals. The Waco editor, Editor McCarty of the Albany News, and Editor George H. Boynton are in the ramparts today telling it to Democrats: "I told you so."—Fot Worth Record.

And Democrats from the North, South, East and West are on the ramparts shouting with all their might, "Back to the fundamentals, back to the principles of the fathers of democracy, back to the old paths of economy and local self-government along which our Nation traveled during its marvelous growth in power and influence among the nations of the earth." Yes, they are on the ramparts, and have been on the ramparts during the years that have passed, warning and exhorting their fellow-democrats to be faithful and true to the principles that have commanded the attention and respect of all who love liberty and justice, and upon which alone they could hope to attain success in their appeal to the conscience and judgment of their fellowmen.—Comanche Chief.

Optimism seems to be the keynote of the editorial policy of the Waco Times-Herald. We find that paper predicting that the Democratic party will soon return to the principles of a free popular government, enunciated by Grover Cleveland in 1892, and that success will follow. We join in the Times-Herald's hope, but hesitate to predict anything at present. We've strayed so far away from some of the old theories of government that we may get lost on the way back.—Beaumont Enterprise.

We have the assurance of Editor Fitzgerald of the Fort Worth Record that "principles never die." If Democrats have wandered from the old, it ought to be an easy matter for them to find their way back. They will be fortunate, however, to find everything just as they left it, with no rival claimants; bless you, this man Harding seems to have his appetite set for streaks of Democracy. But maybe that's only temporary; anyhow, for all of us, both Democrats and Republicans, the old paths are best and safest; let's see how the men who made up the two parties talked in the old days. Said the Democrats in 1856:

The Federal Government is one of limited power, derived solely from the Constitution, and the grants of power made therein—in the Constitution—ought to be strictly construed by all the departments and agents of the Government, and it is inexpedient and dangerous to exercise doubtful constitutional powers. Congress has no power under the Constitution to interfere with or control the domestic institutions of the several States; such states are the sole and proper judges of everything pertaining to their own affairs not prohibited by the Constitution.

In that same year, 1856, the Republican party began its career, and here is an utterance of its platform: The Federal Constitution, the rights of the States, and the Union of the States must be preserved.

At the time the ultra Abolitionists were demanding the breaking up of the Union; these ultras were not at that time members of the Republican party. The Republican party was descended from the Free Soil party, but later took over the dissatisfied Whigs and the Know-Nothings and the Abolitionists and the dissatisfied Democrats. But let us hear the Republicans of 1856 yet further, to-wit:

The dearest constitutional rights of the people of Kansas—Kansas being a Territory—have been fraudulently and violently taken from them; their territory has been invaded by an armed force; tyrannical and unconstitutional laws have been enacted and enforced; . . . Kansas should be immediately admitted as a State of the Union, with her rights and her institutions, as at once the most effectual way of securing to her citizens the enjoyment of the rights and privileges to which they are entitled, and of ending the civil strife now raging in her territory.

It is there clearly and unmistakably made manifest that the Republicans, at the beginning of their career, recognized that the State has rights which can not properly be invaded by the Federal authority; it was to save Kansas from what they regarded as despotic power that they demanded that the Territory be erected into a State, a sovereign State in the American Union. The convention that nominated Douglas and Johnson, Democrats, reaffirmed the declarations of the convention of 1856, "believing that Democratic principles are unchangeable in their nature when applied to the same subject matters." However, inasmuch as differences of opinion existed as to the institution of slavery within the Territories, it was resolved "that the Democratic party will abide by the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States on the question of constitutional law." In that same year—1860—the Republicans inserted this plank in their platform:

4. That the maintenance inviolate of the rights of the States, and especially the right of each State to order and control its own domestic institutions according to its own judgment exclusively, is essential to that balance of power on which the perfection and endurance of our political fabric depends; and we denounce the lawless invasion by armed force of the soil of any State or Territory, no matter under what pretext, as the gravest of crimes.

There was no difference of opinion back there as to the rights of the States, save with the ultra Abolitionists; the platform utterances of the two parties—the Democratic and the Republican—recognized the fact that authority as to domestic questions rested in the State. In a message to the Legislature of Texas, January 16, 1860, Governor Sam Houston, intensely loyal to the Union, said this:

I cannot refrain from congratulating the Legislature upon the triumph of conservatism, as seen in the many evidences of the determination of the masses of the people of the North to abide by the Constitution of the Union, and to put down the fanatical efforts of misguided Abolitionists, who would endanger the safety of the Union to advance their vapid schemes.

But those "misguided abolitionists" gradually took the center of the stage; they declared for a dismemberment of the Union rather than consent to a "republic half slave and half free." Slavery ought never to have existed here in free America, but it did exist in all but one of the States when the Union was formed; it had recognition in the Constitution, and it should have been abolished by orderly process. One writer tells us that the Abolitionists were "aroused almost to rebellious fanaticism." William Lloyd Garrison became one of their chief spokesmen, and it was he who said: "The Union is a lie. The American Union is an agreement with death and its overthrow! Up with the flag of disunion, that we may have a free and glorious republic of our own." And that brought on Secession.

In the earlier days of the Republic it was generally held that "the right of each State to order and control its own domestic institutions, according to its own judgment exclusively, is essential to that balance of power on which the perfection and endurance of our political fabric depends." And that ought to be the belief of all of us, Democrats and Republicans alike, in this our day; our differences should relate to public policies and not to any change whatsoever in the character of the Government.—Waco Times-Herald.

Rev. Williamson, a student at Baylor University, filled the Baptist pulpit at this place Sunday morning and night. A good crowd was in attendance at each sermon.

F. H. Kovar, a farmer living one mile south of town, had the misfortune last week of losing all his freshly killed meat. It is not positively known how the fire originated, but Mr. Kovar is of the opinion the blaze started from a small fire he had in his smoke house for the purpose of smoking the meat. All his meat and sausage was destroyed.

Mrs. J. H. Oliver was shopping in Temple during the later part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Bryant of Waco were here Sunday to see relatives and friends.

Walter Blansett returned Sunday from several weeks stay in the oil fields near Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Hitt moved from this place the first part of the week to Moran, Shackelford County, where they will reside in the future. Mr. and Mrs. Hitt are old and highly respected citizens of this place and we are indeed sorry to lose them.

We are sorry to report that Judge T. V. Adams is suffering severely from inflammatory rheumatism.

Leslie Blankenship returned last week from Winters, where he has been for some time.

The second number of the Lyceum course was given at the school house Friday night. The program was rendered by four young ladies, The Dolly Vardens, and consisted of vocal, piano, and violin music, readings and interpretations of a play. A good sized audience was present to enjoy the entertainment.

The ladies of the town are making preparations for a Christmas tree to be given Christmas Eve night at the Baptist church. This tree will be for the entire town and everyone is invited to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Black of Jones Prairie were here last week to see her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Hitt. Mr. and Mrs. Black will leave soon for Houston where they will reside in the future.

DENTIST USES IT FOR NEURALGIA

IN 29 YEARS PRACTICE NEVER HAS FOUND EQUAL OF NASH'S SALVE.

Convincing proof of yet another use of Nash's Croup and Pneumonia Salve is offered by a dentist with twenty years practice to his credit. Naturally, one of his experience has seen enough cases of facial neuralgia to make him an authority upon the subject. He writes to Nash Brothers, the manufacturing druggists, as follows:

"I have been a dentist in your town for twenty years and must say there is nothing that I have ever run across for facial neuralgia to half way equal Nash's Croup and Pneumonia Salve. In one very stubborn case seemingly impossible to relieve I applied your salve to the face then covered it with a towel and used an electric light bulb to produce heat to drive it in. It penetrated immediately and relief was instantaneous.

"Have also used your salve on impacted wisdom teeth using electric bulb as for neuralgia.

"I keep Nash's Croup and Pneumonia Salve in my home, I keep a bottle of it on my dental bracket and I recommend it to my friends. Could say so much for it that you would think me exaggerating, so will close.

"Yours very truly,

"J. F. HARRISON, D. D. S."

Where do You Make Implement Repairs?

When and where do you make repairs to your farm implements on stormy days, in the shelter of the implement shed, or out in the field, when farm work is rushing?

A piece of farm machinery is dependable only as long as it is properly cared for and in good condition when it begins the season's service. And it can be in good condition only if it is protected from the weather when not in use. If your implements are kept under storm-proof cover they only escape weather wear, but they are where you can give them a "going over" when the weather will not permit outside work.

Free Plans for Your Use

For your benefit, and without cost to you, our Service Department has many working plans for implement sheds, as well as barns, cribs, stock sheds, homes, on any kind of construction you want.

Tell us what implements you have to house and we will tell you just how much floor space you require and the most convenient arrangement of doors, etc.

Your Implements Will Damage More

If you wait for material to go down the loss in damage to your implements will be greater than your saving on lumber, as we believe lumber is now on its low level for some time to come.

W. J. WALKER IS PRAISED BY PASTOR IN ALABAMA HOME

HERE DOING BIG WORK IN CAMDEN, ALABAMA.

Friends and acquaintances in Cameron of W. J. Walker, former principal of the public schools here, will be interested in the following letter received here from W. K. E. James of Camden, Alabama by C. C. Kirtley, praising Mr. Walker for his splendid work as a teacher and church worker.

Mr. Walker resided here for 12 years as principal of the public schools. He taught the bible class in the Baptist Sunday School here, being succeeded by C. C. Kirtley.

Following is the letter:

"Camden, Ala., Nov. 23, 1920.

"Mr. C. C. Kirtley, Cameron, Texas.

"Dear sir and brother:

"I have heard Brother J. W. Walker speak of you succeeding him as teacher of the Men's Bible Class he had while in Texas. I want to say just a word by way of appreciation of the man you lost and we have gained. Just before Brother Walker came here we lost our Sunday school superintendent. Against his wishes he was elected to that place in our Sunday school when the annual election time came.

"But before this he had been teaching the men's class. He is now serving in the double capacity of superintending the school and teaching the men's class. He is filling both places well and our Sunday school is growing steadily. As pastor I greatly appreciate his efficient and faithful work.

"The citizens of the town and county are well pleased with the way he has gone about the work as principal of the High School here. The state authorities also are taking appreciative notice of the good work he is doing in and for the school.

"Thinking his modesty would prevent him from saying much about the work he is doing here I thought I would say a few things about it myself. We expect more and better service from him the longer he stays. Mr. Walker is not a step behind her husband in helpfulness in the town and church.

"Cordially yours,
"W. K. E. JAMES."

Last Thursday afternoon the Girl's Club met in regular session in room four. A very enjoyable program was rendered and all went away feeling as if they had gained very much. The Club had 20 minutes more than usual because the different classes had meetings and there lacked 20 minutes of dismissal so Mr. Williams let the girls go to their club rooms and the boys also. Miss Mottie Cass, domestic science teacher in Cameron High School, spent Monday and Tuesday of last week in Dallas buying equipment for the domestic science laboratory in the Yoe High School. Miss Cass reports that many articles necessary to the laboratory were purchased and that she hoped that Cameron High School would have one of the best, if not the best, equipped domestic science laboratories in the South.

SELF GOVERNMENT BODY ORGANIZED.

Last Thursday afternoon after recess the different classes of the High school met in their respective rooms to elect a number of members from their classes to represent them in the Self Government body. This body of students were organized to govern the behavior of the student. Mr. Kidd told the classes to decide whether or not they should be seated by classes in the study hall and also read a pledge of their ability. All of the classes decided to be seated by classes in the study hall and each class elected their representatives to the tribunal.

The names that each class elected are:

For the Seniors: Porter Stevens, Joyce Cox, Frances Hefley and Joe Smith.

For the Juniors: Robert Mayfield, Billie Avriett, Mary Bailey and Willie Barber.

For the Sophomores: Harleigh McGregor, Pauline Green, Sallie Coleman and Ophelis Ledbetter.

FOOTBALL TEAM ORGANIZED.

The Sophomore class has organized a class football team with Hayden Willis as captain. This team expects to play all the teams of the various classes and furthermore expects to beat them. The first game that is scheduled is with the Freshmen team with Ed Thompson as captain.

The lineup for the Sophomore team for the first game:

CHAPEL EXERCISES.

Last Tuesday morning the Spanish section of the eleventh grade entertained the study hall by a few Spanish selections. First on the program was "America" in Spanish. This was enjoyed very much and received a good round of applause. Then Mr. Noel Brown gave a Spanish poem entitled "Nada Mas." Though some of the pupils could not understand as all did not take Spanish, it was enjoyed and received a good round of applause.

Then Miss Ollie Clinton told in Spanish how Buenos Aires got its name. It was told in a very simple style and most of the students understood it.

Then a Spanish song by Miss Florence Butts was very much enjoyed.

Miss Cain, the Spanish teacher, deserves much credit for the time and patience she puts in teaching pupils how to speak and write correct Spanish. Cameron High School is very fortunate in having Miss Cain as one of their teachers as she is trying to teach Spanish after the method that is taught in the State University.

BOYS' CLUB DEBATE WON BY AFFIRMATIVE

Last Tuesday the Disciples of Socrates met and held a debate "Resolved that the State laws on boxing should be repealed."

CHAPEL EXERCISES.

Last Tuesday morning Mr. Williams had charge of the chapel exercises and he took up all of the time talking on self-government in the school, nation, county, town and community.

He told the pupils that if an officer of the law was not on the job there would be more murder and crime in this country than there is in Russia right now and it was the same way with the student body of a school. He also stated that the people that committed crime had not learned how to govern themselves and that they were a menace to the town or community in which they lived. Mr. Williams finished by saying that the best thing that Cameron High School had ever done was to organize the student council.

Then Porter Stevens got up and said a few words concerning the reporting of unruly students. He said that if the members of the council were the only ones to report, he would resign his position. Mr. Williams said that it was the duty of every student to report unruly ones.

POULTRY BENEFITS NOW IN EVIDENCE IN ROCKDALE

THANKSGIVING BIRDS BROUGHT
MONEY INTO LOCAL USE.

The all-cotton farmer ought to have his eyes opened to the possibilities of the poultry business, and a few figures just at this time ought to be of general interest. Rockdale is located in a section of country that is peculiarly adapted to poultry raising and general diversification. Just now the turkey business is at its crest, and although Rockdale has no killing plant, yet our dealers always pay top prices and thousands of the Thanksgiving birds are brought in and sold here by our farmers.

The firm of Scarborough & Hicks Company, during the month of November alone, paid out $8,000 cash money for turkeys, and counting the chickens and eggs bought, the total amount paid out the same month was exactly $9,232.31. This firm led the van in turkey buying, paying as high as 31c per pound for the birds, and consequently bought the big end of the turkeys offered. However, other dealers were in the market, and it is safe to say that Rockdale bought more than $10,000 worth of turkeys during the month of November.

Just to give an idea of what the poultry business amounts to, and what a top-price-paying firm means to a community, we were permitted a peep at the produce records of the Scarborough & Hicks Company this week. These records show, in addition to the figures already given, that during November that firm bought nearly $500 worth of butter and eggs. The record also shows that for the eleven months of 1920 up to the close of business Nov. 28, the firm had paid out in round numbers $40,000 for turkeys, chickens and eggs, and $11,000 additional for other odd items of farm produce. This does not include any cotton or other heavy stuff, but is simply what might be called the "odds and ends" of farm produce.

tice many a farmer from the cotton row to the hen coop.

FEDERAL FUEL CO. IN BANKRUPTCY

The Federal Fuel Company, which for the past two years has been engaged in opening a lignite mine on the Lucky farm, seven miles southwest of this city, has gone into voluntary bankruptcy. This company's plan was to mine the coal with a dredging machine on the order of a steam shovel. The machine was put to work a few months ago, and it developed that it would not deliver a marketable grade of coal, and this is given as a reason for the company's failure. The company has a large acreage of unusually valuable lignite deposits, and the mine will undoubtedly be eventually worked with the shaft or slope method.

Houston, Tex., Nov. 29.—The Federal Fuel Company, a mining corporation with a capital stock of $500,000 was today thrown into Federal bankruptcy court by the officers and directors, recently elected when the company was reorganized. The voluntary bankruptcy petition was filed with the clerk of the Federal court today, and states that it is impossible to give exact schedules on account of inaccessibility of the records of the company.

In the schedules submitted today, the liabilities of the company are estimated at $71,000, secured claims, $10,000, unsecured claims and due employees for wages, $2,576.70, which totals $83,576.70. Only one asset was listed in the petition. It involves real estate estimated to be worth $60,000. The attorney for the corporation said there was a large amount of assets which would be listed when the amended schedules are filed later in the week.

The Federal Fuel Company was organized several months ago to develop a lignite coal mine at Rockdale in Milam county. It maintains general offices in Houston, Texas.

Oscar P. Hall, director of the Federal Fuel Company, returned yesterday from Houston, where he attended the meeting of the board of directors at which the decision was reached to petition for voluntary bankruptcy proceedings. The local offices of the company in the Gunter Building were closed yesterday.

Mr. Hall said last night that the decision of the board of directors was the only course open to them. Failure of certain machines specially constructed for mining the lignite to function properly is given as one of the reasons necessitating the voluntary bankruptcy proceedings.

The local office is in charge of J. M. Simpson as active vice president and Mr. Hall is manager of the Federal Material Fuel and Supply Company, which, he said, wouldn't necessarily be affected by the bankruptcy proceedings in connection with the other company. The company has been in existence about two years and the branch office in San Antonio has been in operation about one year.

The Cake Lady

By Mildred White

TESSIE LOUISE was making a great deal of trouble. From the time her invalid mother had brought Tessie to the city hospital to be treated for her spine, the golden-haired baby had been the pet of the nurses. And as her stay was prolonged, partly because the mother was too ill and too poor to yet understand the care of her child.

"What in the world," asked the autocratic young house doctor, "does that child want?"

"Tessie wants a Nora Christmas doll," the nurse said eagerly.

Doctor Bruce wrinkled his brow.

"What does she mean?" he asked.

"Miss Nora Dean," the girl answered, "is a young woman who visits the children's ward and has been much interested in them. She lives in a cottage out on the lake shore, and last summer she came in and took two of our little convalescents for a month's stay there. Tessie Louise was one, and she so fell in love with Miss Dean at the time that we could hardly

coax her back. But it was necessary that she should come. Yesterday, Miss Dean came to the hospital with a basket of Christmas cakes, made like dolls, with currant eyes, and colored frosted dresses. The kiddies were so pleased; they call her the Cake Lady.

Doctor Bruce frowned.

"That's bad practice," he complained, "allowing women to come in here and feed our patients. I did not suppose—"

The pleasant nurse hurried to champion her friend.

She has helped us in many ways. I should call Miss Dean a philanthropist if she were not—"

The pleasant nurse paused, "in humble circumstances herself."

"The young woman you speak of lives on the lake shore?" the doctor asked.

The nurse nodded.

"Her uncle was an old sea captain," she told him. "Miss Nora made her home with this uncle and aunt when she was as small as Tessie here."

"Now she lives on in the house at the water's edge to take care of her aunt, who is old and crippled. And still that girl—"

The pleasant nurse choked up unaccountably.

"Well, she's always trying to do things for others," she finished; "that is the way Nora Dean finds happiness."

"Great Scott!" interrupted the doctor, "there goes Tessie again; that noise must be stopped. She must not disturb the sick ones."

The prettiest nurse came hastily.

"Tessie says she won't stop until she is taken to Miss Nora. I really wish we had made arrangements yesterday to have her driven out to the lake shore for over Christmas."

"How far out is it?" Doctor Bruce asked briskly.

"I'll take her in my car," he explained. "It's closed and comfortable."

Donald Bruce sighted the cottage as he brought his car to a stop in the roadside. Then he gathered his small charge in his arms and made his way to the white door.

"Come in," Nora greeted cheerily, "the nurse phoned me of your coming. There's a new Christmas doll for Tessie Louise in the oven, and a lot more—to take back."

It was a broad, white kitchen, redolent of sugar and spices, and an old lady in a rocking chair near the window relieved Tessie of her wrappings.

"You must give the doctor a cup of coffee, Nora dear," the old lady said, "before his cold drive back to the city."

But Donald Bruce seemed in no hurry to return.

"This," he said musingly, "smells like my grandmother's kitchen. Used to spend our Christmas with grandmother when I was a boy."

It was remarkable how swiftly the afternoon hours flew in the lakeside cottage.

"I'm so glad," the old lady whispered at parting, "that you decided to wait to take Tessie back with you. It has been a happy Christmas for Nora. I can see it in her eyes; and usually happiness is only Nora's through the giving. She's the dearest girl in the world!"

"She is just that!" Donald Bruce answered solemnly.

His eyes were on Nora, as he clasped the old lady's hand.

ARGENTINA HAS QUIT LEAGUE ASSEMBLY

Geneva, Dec 4.—The Argentina delegation representing the Argentine Republic, officially withdrew from the League of Nations today.

Hours later, upon urgent representation from President Paul Hymans, president of the League of Nations assembly, Honorio Pueyrredon, head of the Argentine delegation, consented to withhold for a few days his formal communication announcing severance of relations between Argentina and the league to give members time to consider the Argentina demands.

Argentina's withdrawal, which was made when Pueyrredon called on Hymans, caused a tremendous sensation. After Pueyrredon had consented to withhold his letter, other delegates held hurried consultations.

It is understood the demands of the South American republic were of such a nature as to offer little chance of reconciliation.

Officials were divided as to the effects of Argentina's action. Some of the officials expressed the belief that the South American republic was bluffing. Others thought Argentina would retire.

Representatives of other Latin-American states said they had received no instructions to follow the example of Argentina, although some of them had supported the Argentina delegation in its protests against treatment accorded it.

The cause of the trouble was the assembly's failure to give recognition to Argentina's protest in the matter of covenant amendments.

During the morning session of the assembly Charles J. Doherty, representing Canada, offered an amendment to the covenant of the League of Nations eliminating Article X.

Doherty admitted later he did not think his amendment had any chance of success at the present session, but he wanted to call the assembly's attention to the fact that Canada is opposed to Article X, which there is every likelihood that the United States will not enter the league so long as Article X is in effect.

STATE EXPENSES ARE CUT $10,000,000 BY BOARD OF CONTROL

NEW FACTOR IN FINANCING THE STATE GOVERNMENT APPLIES KNIFE TO APPROPRIATION BILLS.

Austin, Dec. 4.—Approximately $10,000,000 has been lopped by the State Board of Control off of the original estimates filed by the various educational, eleemosynary institutions and State departments of appropriations for the next two fiscal years, Aug. 31, 1921, to Aug. 31, 1923.

The original budgets of these institutions and departments called for an appropriation of about $40,000,000 for the two years, and this has been cut to $30,000,000 and further cuts may be made by the Board before the budget is presented for the consideration of the Legislature, which convenes next January.

Former State Senator S. B. Cowell, chairman of the Board, said that the budget will be completed and ready for distribution to members of the Thirty-seventh Legislature within the next ten days or two weeks.

During the past two fiscal years the total appropriations made for the support of the government reached $26,500,000 as against $30,000,000 which is now asked for the next two years. Senator Cowell added that there is a desire on the part of the Board in consideration of the budget to preserve a safe margin under the estimated revenue of $33,000,000 available for the general revenue fund in the coming two years. Therefore, if the Board can keep the amount of appropriations asked well within $30,000,000 there will remain a margin of $3,000,000.

The Board has been materially delayed in completion of the budget through delay of several State institutions in submitting their estimates. Requests were to have been submitted on Sept. 15, while it was nearly a month later before certain of the institutions presented their estimates.

OIL DRILLING PROJECT ALMOST A DEAD ISSUE

Activities in the oil well project here at Milano have almost ceased to be alive. But in conversation with Mr. W. T. Brooker the other day he told us he still had some hopes of disposing of the leases to some company between now and next March, after which time the project would die a natural death at the expiration of the leases. The Milano land owners have let many good chases go by in not promptly leasing their lands, and today Mr. Brooker says, these very people are sick, because they have not even a dollar coming in as lease rent. And there are many other causes and reasons why no drilling was ever attempted here at Milano. People thought they might get rich holding back, and thus they held back the possibility of oil development altogether. Mr. Bookér worked as no other man will again work to get the oil development started here, and he is still trying to save the situation at a late and critical hour. In fact it is so late and the stage of delay of so long a duration that we doubt very much if there will be any future oil activities in Milano for some good length of time to come. Oil development at Milano seems dead. Did you help to kill it? Or did you boost for it?—Milano Gazette.

FORMER ROCKDALE BOY ARRESTED IN HOUSTON SATURDAY

JOE R. SHAPARD CHARGED WITH MISAPPLYING $10,000 OF FEDERAL RESERVE BANK.

The following article in Sunday's

Houston Chronicle concerns Joe R. Shapard, a Rockdale boy, born and bred, who for the past year has had a responsible position with the Federal Reserve Bank in that city. Mr. Shapard's friends in Rockdale are legion, and they are all hopeful that he will be able to clear himself of the charges. The article:

J. R. Shapard, paying teller of the Houston branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, was arraigned before Winston McMahon, United States commissioner, Saturday noon following his arrest by federal officers, on a charge of abstracting and misapplying funds of the bank. He was bound over to the federal grand jury under $2,500 bond.

The complaint charges that money was taken and misappropriated on March 30. The amount named in the charge is $10,000.

Shapard was arrested at the bank. Records of the United States marshal's office show he entered a plea of guilty before the commissioner.

A statement was made by the defendant, it was said at the Federal Building.

It is claimed a shortage of approximately $10,000 was discovered in the bank funds eight months ago, but that all but about $2,500 of this sum has been replaced.

BANDITS GET $500,000 IN BOLD MAIL ROBBERY IN MINNEAPOLIS

BOARD TRAIN AND SECURE LOOT AS FAST LIMITED ROLLS INTO SUBURBS OF CITY—COUNTRY RACKED BY BANDIT PLAGUE.

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 3.—Three masked bandits this morning held up and robbed the mail car on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul train No. 6, Moberg, S. D., to Minneapolis, on the Hastings & Dakota division, and after binding with wire and gagging the three mail clerks, escaped with a pouch of registered mail and other packages, estimated to contain currency and papers worth between $500,000 and $1,000,000.

The only estimate of the loot made public came from a mail clerk, F. C. Tousley. Tousley declared that the amount taken was between $500,000 and $1,000,000. Postal authorities refused to give an estimate, stating that it is impossible at this time to tell.

The bandits climbed aboard the tank of the engine at Hopkins, Minn., forced an entrance to the mail car while the train was speeding toward Minneapolis, and left the train within the city limits of this city.

One of the mail clerks who had worked partially free of his bonds, saw the three men leave the train to join a fourth confederate who was waiting in an automobile.

Police and Federal officers are baffled by the case. It is believed that the bandits will not attempt to leave the Twin Cities, but will remain in hiding here.

In the express car next to the mail car was a pouch containing $500,000 in currency. The bandits did not make an attempt to enter the express car, and the express messengers and guard did not know of the robbery of the mail car until the train had reached the Milwaukee depot here.

When Ray M. Eesh, mail clerk, went to fasten the chain on the front door of the mail car as the train was leaving Hopkins, he was confronted by three men. Each of them carried two revolvers. They forced him to step back to the center of the mail car and ordered the other two mail clerks, C. F. Tousley and A. E. Houseman, to hold up their hands.

Later investigation showed there was a defective lock on the front door of the mail car.

The bandits ordered the three mail clerks to turn their faces to the side of the car, and while one of the bandits stood guard the clerks were gagged and thrown to the floor of the car.

After throwing the registered mail pouches to the center of the car, the bandits split open five other sacks, taking out various packages which they evidently believed contained valuables. When the train slowed down for a stop at a railroad crossing, the three bandits jumped from the train.

Tousley, who had partially freed himself, staggered to his feet and succeeded in opening the heavy doors a few inches.

He said he saw the three men running in the direction of a waiting automobile. Tousley worked himself free, but by the time he had released the other clerks the train had reached the Milwaukee depot in downtown Minneapolis.

The alarm was sounded there and police and Federal officers immediately

ly began searching, but no trace of the bandits was found.

It is estimated that the registered mail pouch, which contained more than 100 packages, had in it currency and valuables amounting to between $500,000 and $1,000,000. It was pointed out that banks in the Dakotas and Minnesota are sending large sums of money and valuable papers and bonds to the larger banks in the Twin Cities, particularly the Federal Reserve Bank, at this time as security for loans.

It will be impossible to determine exactly how much was in the mail pouch for at least a month, it is believed, when a check of registered mail receipts will be completed.

ZUROVEC SLAYERS HELD WITHOUT BAIL IN BELTON JAIL

John Zurovec, proprietor of a lunch and cold drink stand at 103 South First street, in Temple, is dead, his young wife and orphaned babe are plunged into deepest grief. John L. Lewellen, a farmer residing near Sparks, and Homer Joyce are in the jail at Belton, denied the privilege of making bonds and Harry Shanklin, a Temple business man, is under bond in the sum of $1,500 as the result of the shooting to death of Zurovec who had a place on First street last Monday afternoon.

The killing recalled the days of the open saloon in Temple and occurred shortly after 6 o'clock in the evening, at a time when numbers of persons were passing along the business section in which Zurovec's place was located. Great excitement was caused among pedestrians and spectators of the affair and before the sound of the shots had ceased to echo three men, Lewellen, Joyce and Shanklin were under arrest and the corpse of the dead man was being tenderly lifted from where it had fallen in front of the furniture storage warehouse of Daniel & Jarrel a few doors below the lunch stand in which the first scenes of the tragedy were enacted.

The accused men were taken to Belton where they remained through Monday night in jail, Shanklin and Joyce being returned to Temple Tuesday for an examining trial before Justice of the Peace Hassie Holley. Lewellen, who is alleged to have fired the fatal shots waived examination and remained in jail pending action by the grand jury. The testimony of six witnesses was heard in the examination before Justice Holley, two of these, Dr. R. W. Noble and Dr. L. R. Talley, testifying as physicians regarding the character and nature of the wounds suffered by Zurovec. At the conclusion of the hearing Shanklin was allowed bail in the sum of $1,500 which he furnished and was immediately released from custody. Joyce was remanded without bail on the charge of being connected with the fatal shooting of Zurovec and as a result of testimony developed at the examination, was held in $500 bail on a charge of violating the law against traffic in intoxicating liquors.

M. Oppenheimer, jeweler and tawnbroker, doing business at Avenue A and First street testified that he had sold to Harry Shanklin Monday morning, the day of the shooting, a .380 Colt's automatic pistol, the purchaser, who operates a tailor and cleaning establishment adjoining the Zurovec place, explaining that his store had been visited by burglars and the gun was wanted for protection. It is said that this gun is the weapon with which Zurovec was slain, it being taken from Lewellen by City Marshal Wiley Fisher immediately after Zurovec had fallen mortally wounded in front of the furniture warehouse.

City Marshal Fisher in his testimony said he was standing at the Oppenheimer corner when he heard shots and turning in the direction from which the sounds of the shooting came he saw several men run from the Zurovec place. He hastened to the scene and just before he reached the entrance he saw Lewellen, Joyce and Shanklin come out of the lunch room together and turn South on First street. The marshal said that as he came up to the men Lewellen started to hand Shanklin a pistol but he, the witness, grasped the weapon and took it from Lewellen and placed him under arrest. The city marshal said the weapon he took from Lewellen was a .380 Colt's pistol, with capacity for nine shells and that one shell was lodged in the magazine when he took it from Lewellen.

The story of the occurrences preceding and leading up to the tragedy were told by Frank Chudej, an employee of Zurovec, in the latter's place of business. Chudej said he had been in the employ of Zurovec since November 9 and was present and witnessed the affray and saw the start of the shooting which resulted in his employer's death. He said that just before the shooting three men came into the place but he did not then know the men, but later identified two of them as Lewellen and Joyce.

Witness was not certain whether Shanklin was the third man in the party; the third man he said, was tall but he did not notice him particularly as he kept quiet and did not take part in the quarrel which preceded the shooting.

He said that Lewellen cursed Zurovec and the latter protested, stating that he did not allow such language in his place of business, that if they would act like gentlemen he would treat them as such. He stated that

Lewellen left the room and Joyce quarrelled with Zurovec, asking him "What's the matter with you, why did you make him mad? Who do you think you are, anyway?" and other language, the trend of which was to make light of Zurovec and further incense him.

Lewellen returned, Chudej stated, and further cursed Zurovec and opened fire. According to his testimony Joyce threw a bottle of mustard at Zurovec just before Lewellen fired the first shot. He said that Zurovec stood facing Lewellen when the first shot was fired with his hands extended downward. He looked horrified, said Chudej and did not make any attempt to give fight and did not say anything, but when the first shot was fired turned and ran toward the front door. He, (Chudej) then turned and ran ahead of Zurovec and did not know what happened later except that he heard Zurovec groan when the latter came out the front door and he heard several shots fired.

He said that he later came up the

alley and entered the lunch stand from the rear. While he was inside Joyce came up to him, he stated, and said: "Well, your partner got shot." J. E. Bigon, proprietor of the Temple Bakery, opposite the postoffice, who is a brother-in-law of Zurovec, testified that he was in Zurovec's place during the trouble and his evidence in main corroborated that given by Chudej. He said he did not recognize the men involved and did not hear all that passed as the backs of the men were turned toward him.

At the conclusion of the examination Justice Holley announced he would grant bail to Shanklin in the sum of $1,500, but Joyce would be held without bail on the charge of his connection with the shooting, and he would fix bail in the sum of $500 for Joyce in the case of alleged violation of the liquor law.

Zurovec was buried Wednesday at Granger, where he formerly lived, the funeral services being held at the Catholic church in that place. A large number of friends attended from Temple. Zurovec came to Temple in February last. He was 41 years old and is survived by his widow and small child. The family lived at 903 South First street.

Lewellen is a farmer whose residence is in the vicinity of Sparks. He is married and has a family of children. He has lived in Bell county all his life and is well-known throughout the county. After his arrest he was escorted to jail at Belton by Deputy Sheriff Sam Smith and Police Officer John Lewellen of the Temple force.

In the hearing before Justice Holley County Attorney Lewis H. Jones appeared for the state and the defense was represented by DeWitt Bowmer. It has not developed what further steps, if any, will be taken to procure the release of the two men remaining in jail. Their cases will be investigated by the grand jury at its next session.—Temple Mirror.

MAKE OUT GIFT LIST EARLY

Thoughtful Shoppers Start Task Several Weeks Before Rush Begins in Busy Stores.

THE buyer who really puts some altruism into her Christmas gifts makes out her list several weeks in advance. If she be a canny somebody she has kept her list of the year before and is able to see what were her gifts the preceding season, and thus avoid the risk of repeating herself. Still more canny is she if she has made mental or written notes from time to time of various articles for which she has heard a desire expressed by friends. Such note taking will greatly lessen her labors.

For it is no light thing to choose Christmas gifts judiciously. The whole secret of their acceptability lies in their appropriateness. Not only must they be appropriate to the person from whom they come and to whom they go, but to the circumstances in which the latter is placed. For an instance, there are few housekeepers who do not welcome an addition of blue linen to their store. But if to a housekeeper who lives plainly in simple surroundings one sends a superb lace-trimmed tea cloth or dollies that throw all her other possessions into the shade, there is an unsuitability about the gift that robs it of much of its charm.—Harper's Bazar.

ART AND SCIENCE IN TOYS

Playthings for the Kiddies Necessary to the Proper Conduct of Their Society.

WHILE the making of toys is an art that is probably practically as old as the world itself, it has been only within recent years that science has bothered itself about them. Less than half a century ago they were regarded merely as playthings—amusing diversions for children that were by no means necessary to their well-being. Today, however, science insists that there is a well-defined philosophy underlying the use of toys; that they are the tools with which the little ones ply their trade; the paraphernalia necessary to the proper conduct of their society; that dolls, for example, are more to them than the associates that help to entertain them in that they aid them in the attainment of their mental growth by stimulating the natural emotions which must be experienced in later life.

Whether this theory of the scientists is correct or not, the fact remains that children have always had the playthings requisite for their imitations of the domestic life and business affairs of older people; that they have always required their elders to provide them with such inventions, and that, when they could not obtain these toys by any other means they themselves have sought and found objects that might be made to suit their purposes. Even the somnolent middle Ages did not put an end to their pastimes. The toys in which they found diversion may have been more simple, but, as they met the demands of nature, they played their allotted part in the scheme of human development.—Public Opinion.

Ancient Christmas Custom.

Many quaint customs are observed at Christmas time in various English country parishes. In that of Cunnor, in Berkshire, of which the living is a vicarage and the church a beautiful specimen of an old English parochial edifice, all who pay tithes repair, after evening service on Christmas day, to the vicarage where the vicar is held in duty bound, by a usage centuries old, to regale them with four bushels of malt brewed into ale or beer, two bushels of wheat baked into bread, and half a hundred weight of cheese. Any remnants of this feast are distributed among the poor of the parish after morning prayer the next day.

POOR THINGS

Traditions of Christmas Festival.
In the records of every nation we find traditions of the Christmas festival, traditions which have been handed down from generation to generation in old-told tales which thrilled the hearts of the listeners with alternate fear and delight. Sir Walter Scott tells us that they who are born upon Christmas or Good Friday will see spirits, and will have the power of commanding them. He also adds that the Spaniards imputed the downcast looks of their monarch, Philip II, to the disagreeable visions to which this privilege subjected him.

Bring Smiles of Gladness.

It is not so much the thought of receiving the customary holiday gifts which most pleases the fancy, but rather that pleasure the heart derives from dwelling upon joyful surprises it may bestow upon others. To bring a smile of gladness upon another's face is, indeed, a boon more precious than a Christmas gift, and the joy of bestowing can never be equaled by the receiving.

CLARA SMITH WILL SURRENDER SOON TO TEXAS OFFICERS

SHE IS SAID TO BE HIDING IN SMALL TOWN ACROSS THE RIO GRANDE NOW.

Fort Worth, Tex., Dec. 7.—Clara Barton Smith, alleged principal in the tragedy which culminated November 26 in the death of Jake L. Hamon, millionaire Ardmore, Oklahoma oil operator, will surrender within the next day or so, acting on advices of a prominent firm of Fort Worth criminal lawyers, according to information here Tuesday. This action, it is said, was decided upon following a conference between the father of the woman and the attorneys.

Miss Smith, according to her father's information, is hiding in a secluded town just across the river from El Paso and a telegram was sent her Tuesday afternoon telling her of the decision that had been reached. It was said this decision was reached following a conference at which it was decided by attorneys she has a clear case of acquittal.

According to late reports here from El Paso, Sheriff Orendorff of that city has been informed he need not continue his search for Miss Smith. He said he had located definitely her whereabouts, and was taking steps to bring her across the river into Texas.

It was denied, however, that the decision for her to surrender was a result of this information. It was said here that her father nor her attorneys knew of this when her surrender was agreed upon. It is believed she will come across the river tomorrow and give herself up, on condition that she be allowed freedom to consult with her attorneys.

Her father left the city shortly after his conference with attorneys here and probably went to El Paso, it is said, where he will meet her. It was impossible to gain a confirmation of this report, however, since the attorneys said they will say nothing in regard to the case.

The Snow at Christmastide

SOFTLY falls the winter twilight
O'er the gray old town,
With its firelit windows brightened,
With its ancient byways whitened
By the pure snow floating down
From the heavens far and wide—
Peaceful snow of Christmastide.

In the shadows of the forest,
As the night-wind stirs,
All their crosses high uplifted
Where the starry flakes have drifted,
Stand the silent ranks of fire,
By the bright snow glorified—
Radiant snow of Christmastide.

FROM their lofty belfries telling
Of the Savior's birth,
Carillons and chimes are ringing,
Like the angel chorus singing
"Joy, good will, and peace on earth!"
While the snow falls far and wide—
Blessed snow of Christmastide.

CHRISTMAS ONCE IS CHRISTMAS STILL

The silent skies are full of speech
For who hath ears to hear;
The winds are whispering each to each;
The moon is calling to the beach;
And stars their sacred wisdom teach
Of Faith and Love and Fear.

But once the sky its silence broke,
And song o'erflowed the earth;
The midnight air with glory shook;
And angels mortal language spoke,
When God our human nature took
In Christ the Savior's birth.

And Christmas once is Christmas still:
The gates through which he came,
And forest wild and murmuring rill,
And fruitful field, and breezy hill,
And all that else the wide world fill,
Are vocal with his name.

Shall we not listen while they sing
This latest Christmas morn,
And music hear in everything,
And faithful lives in tribute bring
To the great song which greets the King
Who comes when Christ is born?

SANTA CLAUS

Beyond the ocean many a mile,
And many a year ago,
There lived a wonderful queer old man

In a wonderful house of snow;
And every little boy and girl,
As Christmas times arrive,
No doubt will be very glad to hear
The old man is still alive.

In his house upon the top of a hill,
And almost out of sight,
He keeps a great many elves at work,
All working with all their might
To make a million of pretty things,
Cakes, sugar-plums and toys,
To fill the stockings, hung up, you know,
By the little girls and boys.

99,967 FORD CARS MADE IN MONTH

During October 99,967 Ford cars were made in the Ford factory at Detroit and shipped out to join the four and one-half million already in service. This is the highest record ever reached by the Ford Company, or any other company. Thirty-three more cars would have brought production up to the 100,000 mark for the month.

October 26 was the banner day, having brought forth 4,688 cars. This was also a record breaker. It means that one car was completed every eighteen and one-half seconds for the entire twenty-four hour day. The Ford estimate for this year is one and one-quarter million cars and trucks.

It was during the fall of 1919 that Henry Ford placed on the market his now famous Model "T"—the car that brought Ford unquestioned supremacy in the motor car industry. To date, more than four and one-half million of this one model have been built and distributed to the four corners of the world. Of models prior to the "T," thirty thousand were manufactured.

During 1916, 18,644 Ford cars were built, a tremendous output for those days. Yet in ten years from that time Ford production has grown to more than one million a year.

Almost half of the motor cars in the world are Ford cars. In the United States and Canada, a little better than one-half are Fords.

To relieve rheumatism, sprains, lame back, lumbago or plury, Ballard's Snow Liniment is a remedy of proven merit. It is very powerful and penetrating. Three sizes, 30c, 60c and $1.20 per bottle. Sold by Pace-Marshall Drug Co. adv.

NEWSPAPER MAN SEES CLARA SMITH

TELLING JUST WHERE SHE IS NOW.

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 7.—P. M.
Ross, a local newspaper man who last
night sent out dispatches from here
saying that he had conversed near
San Antonio with Miss Clara Smith,
sought in connection with the fatal
shooting of Jake L. Hamon of Ard-
more, Okla., and that she had given him a statement admitting she shot
Hamon, was taken into custody by police early today, questioned for an hour and released.

Ross was detained at the request of Russell R. Brown, county attorney of Ardmore, who asked that his story be investigated and that Ross be held as a material witness if necessary.

The newspaper man was quizzed
closely as to his alleged statements
that he had met the woman after her motor car had broken down near San Antonio, that he had repaired the break and that she had given him the
conference, Captain James Duncan of
the police department stated that he was inclined to doubt the newspa-
perman's story.

Chief of Police Mussey directed a telegram to Attorney Brown advising
him of the interview with Ross and requesting information as to whether the Ardmore authorities wished further action in the case.

Ross, according to the police, refused to tell the whereabouts of the young woman, asserting that he would go to jail first.

Officials said that when questioned
by them, he declared he became acquainted with Miss Smith while working on a newspaper in Oklahoma.
Later, they said, he denied knowing
her.

He told his questioners, it was stated, that he first saw Miss Smith
on the streets of San Antonio and that she tried to evade him by driving away in a large motor car. He said that he pursued her in a smaller
car, but being unable to overtake her,
hired a large service car and resumed
the chase, overtaking her just outside
the city limits.

Following their questioning of Ross
police officers said they were inclined to abandon the search for Miss
Smith here, especially after detectives
had made an investigation at one of the leading hotels and failed to find any trace of her.

It was emphasized at police headquarters that further investigation of the case locally would depend upon
the wishes of Ardmore authorities.

AUTO TRUCK HAS REVOLUTIONIZED TRANSPORTATION

OLD TO NEW HAULING
METHODS.

Back beyond the memory of the oldest living inhabitant, transportation problems were solved in a primitive way. The olden days in the West, the golden days of romance, are gone forever, but memories are ever present in both song and story to tell us of the present age of the old prairie schooners which wended their way across the plains.

Those were days of danger and daring, made more acute by the slowness of transportation. The pioneers could not run away from the Indians. There was nothing to do but stop and fight, and around such battles many of the most brilliant pages
of our history have been written.

Some decades later we find a more
modern conveyance in the nature of
a covered wagon, drawn by spanking
horses, but still unsatisfactory when judged from a strictly contemporary point of view. No farm was without its conveyance of this sort; and
many business houses used them because no brain had yet devised a surer and quicker way.

The day of the horse will one day
be considered as a separate epoch in our history. The noble animal is still present in large numbers, but other means of transportation have lightened his burdens and made life
decidedly worth the living.

Then one day, not so long ago,
the horseless vehicle came into being.
The wonder and admiration of all who saw it. By gradual stages it has been perfected until at the present time it is an integral part of the daily life of the nation. Chapters
could be written about the part it has played in war, in peace, in commerce,
and in pleasure.

The motor truck is undoubtedly the most important step that has been taken in the way of transportation
since the coming of the railroad and the steamship. The great industries
which are fostered by it have grown
to be an important part of the great throbbing pulse of the nation.

Then, not satisfied with the subjugation of the land as a means of rapid transportation, brilliant minds
set themselves on the subjugation of
the air. What was once a startling
novelty, has become in a great measure a part of the commercial life of the nation. Just how far the airplane can be made to serve the laws

of man is a question which can not be fully answered at the present time.

Palmer is whirling through the atmosphere daily, carrying mails and passengers, and the prediction is freely made that the air lanes will
one day be as thickly populated with planes as the highways are with automobiles.

JOE J. MICHALKA IS PAVING WAY FOR BIG CAR DISTRIBUTION

OAKLAND AND STUDEBAKER
CARS PROVE GOOD COMBI-NATION FOR LOCAL DEAL-ER IN COUNTY.

With two of the major automotive
products of the world—the Oakland
and Studebaker—as the basis for the local agency combined with an excellent service station and progressive sales policies, Joe J. Michalka,
local Oakland and Studebaker dealer,
has found a large response in this territory from auto purchasers and has been able to build up a large distributing business here.

Not only has Mr. Michalka been able to give the Oakland and Studebaker high rank in point of distribution in Milam county but for every car sold he has a satisfied user
and has maintained a service station
second to none. Mr. Michalka, conscious of the stability and value of the cars he sells has kept pace with the growing distribution of the Oakland and Studebaker and is able to give the service necessary to make owners satisfied with operation of
their cars.

The Oakland and Studebaker are among the cars on which no drop in price has come since the break in the industrial world. Mr. Michalka bac-ed by the manufacturer and distributor has continued with sales in the face of these conditions to a big degree of success. Mr. Michalka declares that the quality of the product
will not admit of a cut in price because the price advances have always been consistent with the increased cost of production and the quality of material put into the cars. In other words the Oakland and Studebaker
cars have never been priced on a fic-ticious basis, says Mr. Michalka, but honestly priced and therefore increasing in demand throughout the country.

The distributing agency of Mr. Mi-
chalka and his garage and service station is destined to play a large part in the motor business in Milam
county.

With the approach of the holiday season Mr. Michalka extends best wishes and thanks to the public for the big measure of success that has come to his business and best wishes
for a happy New Year.

AVOID CHRISTMAS TREE FIRE

Utmost Care Should Be Used in Trim-
ming, Thus Preventing Fatalities in the Homes.

PEOPLE cannot be too careful in guarding against fire
when trimming a Christmas tree, says a correspondent
in Good Housekeeping.
There have been scores of Christmas tree fatalities in homes and in Sunday schools which a little care
might have prevented. The writer
once set a tree in a blaze, consuming
nearly half of it, tinsel ornaments going with the green branches. A tiny candle had been wired too high, and it took only a few minutes of its brisk
heat to char a branch above it and start a flame. A thick portiere was torn from its pole and thrown over the blaze. If it had not been at hand the light window curtains would have caught fire in another minute. Since that Christmas our tree has always been placed in the center of the room,
and we have eschewed cotton wool,
tissue-paper angels, and celluloid ornaments. First of all, we wire each candle securely in place at the furthest end of a branch which has nothing above it, either fir tree or trimming. Then as the tree is denuded we watch carefully the fast-disappearing candles. Sometimes one of them, nearly burned down, will topple over or be merely a spark of flame, but near to something inflammable and be a menace.

GOOD TURNS ON CHRISTMAS

Chance for All to Aid the Friendless in Having Happy Yuletide
Season.

REAL purveyors of Christmas cheer
may often find a market for their precious wares outside the pale of charity, for all homeless people are not necessarily poor, and neither are
all childless homes necessarily unhappy. Housekeepers who are short on homes may combine these two lackings
and make Christmas day a merry delight for the grown-ups in spite of these unfortunate conditions.

There is always something peculiarly pitiable in the idea of any one
"flocking alone" which should appeal
to the home-maker without a family,
so that this should be the occasion for her to gather in all the bachelor maids
and homeless men of her acquaintance
and give them a joyful opportunity to
"flock together." Even the Scrooges,
if she knows any, should be rescued
from their lonely bowls of gruel and persuaded to open their shut-up hearts
and wear them outside for general inspection, as Dickens says, "For Christmas dawns to peck at." Therefore, collect six or eight of these birds of a feather who are destitute of near-by kith and kin and make your Christmas feast a center of good cheer for all the charming solitaires you are

WALKING AND TALKING DOLLS

Lifelike Forms Gracefully Step
Across the Floor Saying "Mamma"
or "Papa."

DOLLS that walk and talk
and wink and roll their eyes
are Parisian Christmas novelties in toyland. These dolls seem almost human, as
they walk in sprightly style across the floor saying "mamma" or "papa" just
as real children would.

Walking dolls being a new invention, seem wonderful and bring screams of delight from little girls and boys, too, who watch with intense interest every step of the lifelike dolls
as they are exhibited in the shops.

The machinery that moves the doll's legs is set in motion by a key that is inserted in the works at the waist
line.

The voice is made active by works
that are wound with a key.

The eyes move as the body sways
from side to side, just as the real children's eyes roll and blink, etc.

CHRISTMAS WEEK IN ENGLAND

Time When Scattered Families Are United and Tender Memories
Are Revived.

MANY and great are the changes
which have occurred in England
since Dickens wrote "A Christmas Carol," but they have not affected the national love for the festival and the
determination to preserve unimpaired
the traditional warmth and heartiness
of its celebration. Christmas week is still the great week of the year for the English people. It is the one week
when scattered families are reunited, when tender memories and old associations are revived, when friend greets friend with a cheery expansiveness in striking contrast with the characteristic reserve of the English nature,
so, undemonstrative to those who do not know it well, apparently so distant and unsympathetic.

From Wednesday all business will be suspended, not to be resumed till Monday morning. The whole nation
will give itself up to good cheer and
good fellowship, and for a brief season,
all strife and controversy are hushed,
and peace, charity and concord reign
supreme.

Substitute for a Tree.

We are not going to have a Christmas tree, writes a correspondent. To make them brilliant many pretty little ornaments are needed and they cost a good deal. My plan is for a barrel
in place of a tree. I have the barrel
now in a closet. It is covered with old dark green cambric and the day before
the great holiday I am going to pin
sprigs of evergreen and holly over it.
It will look pretty gay, I think, when
it is filled with the gifts that are going into it now, all prettily tissue-
d and tied, and my son as jolly Old Santa Claus stands over it to delve in-
to its mysteries and to proclaim the names of those who are to solve them.
I am sure we will enjoy our barrel as much as we would a tree.

than 2,000 acres in leases and the
well is on this tract.

This well caused considerable excitement some time ago by having good oil and gas showings. About
the time the sand was struck in the well the entire string of tools were lost in the hole. Mr. Putnam believes
he will be able to get the tools out
and drill the well in as a good producer.—Texas Oil Gazette.

DRUGGISTS WARN PUBLIC TO DEMAND GENUINE.

Every successful remedy is at once
imitated. Sometimes the imitation is cleverly made, sometimes it is crude.
Of late a great many dealers have warned Nash Brothers, the manufacturing druggists, that their wonderfully effective croup and pneumonia
salve is being counterfeited. Nash Brothers, however, state that they have no fears because the imitators
have overlooked most important facts:
First, imitations cannot be marked
"Nash's." Second, imitations are weak. Nash's Salve is strong—much stronger than those out for big profits care to make. Third, the imitators can't get far because druggists
are not so easily fooled.

We suggest that when you want
the genuine you name it clearly—Nash's Croup and Pneumonia Salve.
It comes in 30 cent and 60 cent bottles in blue boxes. Sold by Avera & Reed, Cameron, Texas. adv.

I have about 50 head of mules from 3 to 6 years old, I would like to sell them very reasonable before the first of January. You can buy them cheaper now than you will be able to after the first.

Also a few mares and horses, will sell them, worth the money.

There Is A

The Doctor's Wife

By Mary Graham Bonner

HE HAD married her in the first place of all because of her lovely, low voice. There had been other reasons too — her good looks, her smile, her common sense, but mainly and chiefly the attraction which had drawn him to her had been her voice.

It had seemed during those first years of his practicing and trying to make headway in a seemingly unresponsive city, that voices would drive him mad, wailing, complaining, whimpering always discontented.

Even when he met women socially he felt they refrained from telling him anything but a sorrowful tale of themselves.

As for his wife — she understood.

She smiled at the poor excuses they made to come and see him, of the jealousy they showed of each other, of the gifts they sent him, of senseless reasons they had for telephoning.

Sometimes they would both be invited out to dinner at some patient's house. The doctor's wife chuckled as she thought of how little she was wanted.

Usually they looked at her, she knew, rather pityingly, and at times, the holder of the sympathizers would say to her:

"It must be awful to be a doctor's wife. I'd never have a moment's peace if I were you with so many women caring for my husband!"

"We get used to it," the doctor's wife said so as not to be disappointing, smiling to herself. What fun it was to be a doctor's wife. How much pity one got one didn't deserve, how much wasted sympathy, how many deliciously jealous thoughts one inspired.

It was Christmas Eve. The doctor had promised his wife that he would help her in those many pleasant engrossing night-before-Christmas tasks.

She went upstairs to see that the children were quite asleep when she heard the telephone ring. She answered it, and then heard her husband's voice who was already answering it from below.

Something, some curious something, made her listen.

"Oh doctor," she heard a voice say, the voice of the one woman who had lately caused her her first pangs of jealousy, "I can't wait another moment. I must see you. I'm sorry, on Christmas Eve too, but I must! Please, doctor, can you come at once?"

"That's all right, little lady," she heard her husband answer, "I'll be up at once."

"I'm going out for awhile," the doctor called up the stairs. And was gone without a word of regret and with no effort at an excuse.

Late that evening she went out of the house. She would see this other woman. She called a taxi and hurried off.

"I'm sorry," the maid told her, "but Madame can see no one." And the door was shut abruptly.

What would she do? What could she do? Finally, exhausted after walking about the streets, she went home, her heart full of dry, choking sobs.

At last she heard the doctor's key. He came in. He looked tired. But she was worn out.

"You've been to —" she began.

"Boy?" she shrieked.

"Yes," the doctor nodded. He was too tired to notice her quick change of expression.

"Oh," he said after a moment. "I'm so glad you didn't finish the Christmas things without me. No matter how late it is, we must always get ready for Christmas together, mustn't we?" He kissed her lightly.

"After I had left the house," he added, "I remembered I hadn't asked you to wait, and I wanted you to wait no matter how long I'd be! Selfish of me, perhaps, but we must have our Christmas Eve together and get ready for the children's Christmas together, mustn't we, wife of my heart?"

"We most assuredly must," she answered him, and added to herself:

"What fools these women are who pity the doctor's wife. I'm the happiest woman in the whole world!"

And the doctor was saying:

"My dear, do you know that it is Christmas morning and that I'm wishing you a Merry Christmas!"

"Merry Christmas," she returned, and in her heart rang the merriest and happiest of Christmas bells!

TWO ARMENIAN CHILDREN.

Sunday morning the congregation of the Presbyterian church pledged themselves to support two Armenian children this winter.

This was done after listening to a soul-stirring, earnest sermon by the pastor on "Neighborliness," in which he told of the great need of these and many other children.

Judge Watson rose at once and moved that the amount be raised at once. Mr. Ben Atkinson second the motion and promptly the fives, tens and twenty-fives and many smaller amounts were called out until they found that instead of supporting one child, as suggested, they could support two.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!

If you feel bilious, headachy, con-stipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents, which is a harmless vegetable sub-stitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; be-sides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It is harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.

DODSON TELLS THE HORROR OF CALOMEL

You Don't Need to Sicken, Gripes, or Salivate Yourself to Start Liver.

Here's my guarantee! Ask your drug-gist for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Aline Maddox was twelve years old last Friday and invited seventeen little girls and boys in to rejoice with her.

And, Oh! such a good time they had playing all sorts of games and guessing the beans in a jar. Abbie Batten guessed nearest the right number and was given a box of candy.

The dining room was beautifully decorated in yellow and white chrysanthemums while the center piece for the table was the delight of all children, a big white birthday cake, iced white and had twelve burning white candles on top.

After these were blown out and removed great fun was had cutting the cake. Willie Osborne cut the ring. Reba Young cut the cat that really said "mew." Eunice Tyson cut a doll. With this delicious cake the children were served banana ice cream and vanilla wafers.

Aline received a number of presents, some of which were: Crepe de chine and linen handkerchiefs, powder puff, hand bag, house cap, stationery, etc.

BIRTHDAY DINNER.

Little Miss Ruby Hamilton gave a surprise birthday dinner last Sunday to ten of her friends. She invited them to come home from church with her.

The children were seated around a table laden with a good birthday dinner. In the center was a large white cake with twelve candles around which were beautiful natural violets.

After the dinner the cake was cut and eaten, with chocolate ice cream. In cutting the cake the dime fell to Corrie Collier, nickle to Isabel Redfield, thimble to Dorothy Lesovsky, button to Vance Collier.

COMPLIMENTARY "42."

Mrs. Judd Davis entertained twenty young people last Saturday afternoon at a forty-two party in honor of Miss Roberta Pace.

On the five white covered tables a smiling red Santa Claus was posted, the tally pads were covered with old Santa too.

The rooms were decorated in red bells, red berries and silver tinsel.

After a number of spirited games were played it was found that Miss Rosine Ledbetter made high score and was given a snow man filled with candy. Miss Estelle Coleman scored low figure and was given a snow covered bell.

"84" favors were Santa Claus, bells, horns, etc.

Little Miss Gladys Davis assisted her mother in serving a delicious sweet course, consisting of fruit salad in chimney design, sandwiches, crackers, olives, hot chocolate and fruit cake.

BAPTIST AUXILIARY.

Circles Nos. 1, 2 and 3 met at the church last Monday afternoon in joint business session.

There was a splendid attendance and many matters of interest and importance came up and were well handled by the president, Mrs. Vass Harlin, who presided.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The ladies of the M. E. Church met at the church in a business session with a good attendance.

Winding up the years' work was the principal work followed by election of officers for the ensuing year. The result was:

President, Mrs. Joe Lindsey.
Vice-president, Mrs. W. A. Bonds.
Supt. of Young People, Mrs. W. O. Triggs.
Supt. of Juniors, Mrs. Howard Baskin.
Supt. of Social Service, Miss Mollie Moore.
Supt. of Mission Study, Mrs. W. H. Triggs.
Recording Secretary, Mrs. H. H. Stedman.
Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. R. F. Boykin.
Treasurer, Mrs. P. O. Adams.

PRESBYTERIAN AUXILIARY.

These ladies met with Mrs. Robert McLane and finished a quilt started at their last meeting.

SYMPHONY CLUB.

Mrs. J. C. Stafford was hostess to the Symphony Club last Saturday and a delightful program was held by Miss Etna Smith.

The subject for the afternoon was: "Songs of the Sea."

Only a very few whose names appeared on the program were present, but they had splendid substitutes.

Five new members were elected: Mesdames U. S. Hearrell, W. G. Gillis, Wm. Cobb, Kennidy and George Graves.

Next meeting will be with Miss Etna Smith.

U. D. C.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy met with Mrs. Walter Sharp last week with about ten in attendance. Beautiful chrysanthemums graced the rooms and a very enthusiastic meeting was held with Mrs. Jeff Kemp in the chair.

It was a business meeting, the principal discussion was the cottage to be built at Kerrville for the tuberculosis soldiers—those who contracted the disease during the world war.

Every U. D. C. in Texas is asked to donate twenty-five cents, and it was readily contributed by the ladies. Mrs. Frank Lasovsky was appointed historian and to prepare the programs.

Miss Ada Henderson invited the ladies to meet with her in January.

RUTH REDFIELD ENTERTAINS.

Last Friday night the first Christmas party of the younger set was given.

There were about twenty couples present to enjoy Miss Ruth's hospitality.

The diversion of the evening was a stroll party, dancing by music on the Edison.

The decorations were chrysanthemums, red and yellow, and ferns.

The dining table was decorated with the same flowers and baskets of delicious fruits on either end.

Mrs. Redfield was assisted in serving the young people by Mesdames P. J. and R. G. Redfield.

Delicious sandwiches, chocolate and vanilla wafers were served.

Miss Pearl McKee, of Killeen, spent Thursday and Friday of last week with her sister, Mrs. T. O. Hamilton.

LADIES AID AT MAYSFIELD

Last week quite a number of Cameron ladies received the following unique invitation with a little pink sack:

We have a scheme so very bright
We ask for as many pennies as you height,
Just take your measure and you will see
Not much higher up than around you be,

But if you think you are too tall
Just make one inch count two that's all;
So we send to you this little sack
Please bring or send your pennies back.

'Tis the "Ladies Aid" that's asking this
Please not a single penny miss.
Now listen to our little plan,
And help us if you really can.

Come to the Atkinson home at three,
And right there you will see
We are just as busy as we can be.
At Mrs. Hubert Atkinson, Maysfield, Texas, Saturday, Dec. 4, 1920.

The day was ideal and the twelve and one-half mile drive was an added joy of the afternoon.

All who could accepted and went in person while others showed their appreciation by filling the little sacks and with them sent regrets.

The home was beautifully decorated with Christmas decorations, dark red chrysanthemums, red berries in profusion and hanging in the archway between the two big parlors was a huge branch of mistletoe with white chrysal berries in it.

The diversion for the afternoon was "Ladies Aid" conversation, interspersed with music on the Edison, and delightful readings by Louise Denson and two by Catherine McIntosh.

Next the ladies were invited into that grand old dining room, decorated at either end with bowls of red chrysanthemums and red berries.

A number of Maysfield girls assisted Mary Virginia Atkinson in serving chicken salad on lettuce, crackers, pickles pimento sandwiches, hot tea and lemon.

Other than the Maysfield ladies, four cars motored down and those whose names we could get were: Mesdames R. H. McIntosh, E. N. Shaw, C. Dawson, George Childress, L. J. Hefley, Tom Henderson, Sr., Sam Henderson, Martin, Tom Denson, W. H. Henley, Overton, C. W. Lawrence, Misses Ada and Agnes Henderson, Catherine McIntosh Amelia Williams, Louise Denson and Kathleen Bauham.

Cameron Motor Company, Buick dealers will give you contract work on all cars.

BANISH BLOOD SUCKING INSECTS and keep your chickens immune from them by feeding INSECT-TIME to your chickens. Your money back if not satisfied. Ask Geo. A. Thomas & Sons 18-12t Distress after eating is due to bad digestion. Herbine helps the digestive process, clears the system of impurities and restores a feeling of vigor and buoyancy of spirits. Price, 60c. Sold by Pace-Marshall Drug Co.

Ah! What relief! Your clogged nostrils open right up, the air passages of your head are clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, mucous discharge, headache, dryness—no struggling for breath at night, your cold or catarrh is gone.

Don't stay stuffed up! Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Ely's Cream Balm is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer has been seeking. It's just splendid.

Every successful remedy is at once imitated. Sometimes the imitation is cleverly made, sometimes it is crude. Of late a great many dealers have warned Nash Brothers, the manufacturing druggists, that their wonderfully effective croup and pneumonia salve is being counterfeited. Nash Brothers, however, state that they have no fears because the imitators have overlooked most important facts:

First, imitations cannot be marked "Nash's." Second, imitations are weak. Nash's Salve is strong—much stronger than those out for big profits care to make. Third, the imitators can't get far because druggists are not so easily fooled.

We suggest that when you want the genuine you name it clearly—Nash's Croup and Pneumonia Salve. It comes in 30 cent and 60 cent bottles in blue boxes. Sold by Avera & Reed, Cameron, Texas. adv.
